A TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION.

In an instant an unquenchable fire sprung up in the nine feet vein, just between the main entrance and on the right draft, ferever shutting out the thirty-two men imprisoned there. Poor old David Hayes, the father of the mistaken here, driven mad by the fate of his only son, dashed into the sulphurous smoke and strangling fire-damp, only to fall blindly by the side of his son, and to be drawn out an heur later with James Shearn, heth recognized only by their wives. The fire, fauned by air from the main drift and from the fatal sheft, seen aprang into an awful conflagration. Pat Kelly, who was driving a mine car near the place at the time, says the explesion seemed nothing, but the blinding, strangling smoke and gas fol-lewed him like a fished to the very door of the shaft and poured out after him to ascend to the top and wave a black flag of woo and distress to this hitherte prespereus mining region.

SURVIVORS TELL A FEARFUL TALE.

The miners from the left drift escaped blackened and bruised but safe, and they tell a fearful story of the scene just beyond the blaz-ing coal on the right, where half imagination and half fact showed them scores of terrible faces walled in by flame. No man could pass and live. Willing hands and hearts were not wanting, and clerk Cook, of the mine, with Mine Inspector E. Keaghley, headed a party of one hundred, who entered the mine shaft, and after going on for a quarter of a mile at least were driven back again and again by the deadly gas only to recover breath for a moment, and again plunged in to find at last that the right drift was impensivable and no man could pass in and live. They finally came upon two bodies which were brought to the opening of the mine.

BRAVE EFFORTS AT RESCUE. When the blackened corpses of Shearn and Hayes, the elder, were drawn into daylight, a mean went up from a few of the hundreds about the pit, but their anguish was nothing to the silent watch kept by the wives, chilof its success, publishes in the Chicago se the silent watch kert by the wives, chil-Statesman the programme of a "World's dres and sweethearts of the thirty more in Cathelic Congress," to be held in that city steadily from neen until late to night with no Temperance Society's constitution to the result but the two dead above named, and each trip but brought a deeper despair to those above, and shewed there was no hope and no one alive below. The corps of 100 was changed again and again, as each exhausted squad staggered to the outer air, but all in vain. One man (Kelly), who had entered several times, finally, from sheer exh matter, fell into an open pit and was fatally lojured. To night falling rain increased the gloom of the situation. Oblideen who had lest their fathers and uttered desolate wails could be seethed, but dark-browed men who stood about with sullen, stony glare, and wives, sisters and mothers, with drawn white faces, could not be comforted.

A Sensation in the Toronto Methodist Conterence.

TORONTO, June 16 -Au extraordinary disqueston took place at the Metrod at conference to day. On Saturday last Joseph Talt, the newly elected Reform member for Teron. to city, who is one of the lay delegates to the conference, speaking of the power given to the clergy in the matter of nominating Sanday school superintendents and stewards and also as to ministers presiding at district meetings, said there was more priestoraft to the square feet in Mathodism than any ether denomination. The remark, which was published this merning, oreated a sensation, and the lay delegate brought it before the conference. It was agreed to refer it to a meeting of the laymen, who had Mr. Talt before them. He said that he did not use the word in an offensive sense, merely meaning ministerial power. After much discussion a resolution was adopted atting forth that the ministers had tee much power, but that the system was being remedied by the united action of the conference. The resolution was sent before the ministers, who received it with great indignation, saying that it was not based on facts and should not be entered on the minutes. Rev. Dr. Sutherland said it must result in much mischief in the near future.

Mr. Tait was again asked to explain and he repeated what he said to the laymen. It was sent back again to the lay delegates, who were asked to consider a resolution to the effect that Mr. Talt did not mean what he said and expressing unqualified faith in the ministers. A spoke was put in this wheel by several laymen declaring that the meeting was illegal and that no one but Mr. Tait was responsible. An amendment to this effect prevailed, accepting Mr. Talt's explanation that he wished to cast no reflection on the ministers. A decidedly sore feeling exists over the matter.

A Piece of Impertinence.

TORONTO, June 11.—The proceedings of the Angiloan Syned were centinued to-day. A communication was received from the secretary of the Dominion Alliance requesting that the syned appoint four delegates to visit Montreal in order to attend a convention which that body intends holding there on August 14 and 15. Rev. Dr. Curry said the people connected with the Alliance must be in ignerance of the principles of the Courch of England Temperance society, as that body was under the pretection of the synod and could not pretend to support the principles of the Alliance in connection with prohibition. In fact the communication, in the worthy clargymen's opinion, was a piece of impertinence. After some discussion it was decided to acknowledge the communication

EQUAL RIGHTS PRETENSIONS.

The fellowing important resolution was given notice by Rev. Dr. Langley:

That, whereas, the ultimate aim of education ought not be the mere importation of knowledge but the formation of character, and as we are taught by God through His hely apostle, St. Paul (see the Greek Romans, vi. 17,) that His truth is the moulding which He has Himself prefaced for the fashioning of human character, this synod cannot but regard with growing apprehension the practical exclusion of the eaching of that truth from the public schools of this country. They are persuaded that the daily record of breaches of trust, fraud, peculation, forgery and other crimes which Godless education would increase, with which the columns of our newspapers are filled, to say nothing of the agnosticism and growing unbelief which are spreading through the land, bear alarming testimony to the evil consequences which secular education is producing;

And, whereas, the Commissioner of Public Works, in a speech delivered in the Ontario Legislature and reported in the Globe of March 28, argued at great length that Roman Catholics have no special privileges in respect to the establishment of separate schools, stating that bires Methodist families might by the mere presentation of a petition to the trustees of any school section establish a school of their own and have their school taxes applied to its

And, whereas, the Attorney-General did in the course of the same debate endorse to the full the position of the Commissioner of Public the position of the Commissioner or runte Works and say: "It is complained that Roman Catholice have privileges which Protestants have not, but we have in the statute books, as the Hon. Mr. Fracer had shown the other day, a clause providing for the establishment of separate schools for Protestants as well as for Roman Catholics, and although they had this privilege, Protestants did not want to make use of these schools, and that no church and no individual had ever seked for any change in the law in regard to them.

Now, whereas, the evident aim of both these speakers was to convince their audience and the country that any denomination of Christians might establish schools of their own and secure the school taxes for their support;
And, whereas, it is evident that this is an

Strikes and Their Remedies. A timely article in the June number of The Luceum opportabely discusses this subject at a memens when the city, from which this ably written periodical is issued, is apparently on the eve of another industrial insurrection in the shape of simultaneous strikes, The writer—presumably Father Finlay, S.J.

—argues in favour of Beards of Conciliation and Arbitration, pointing out that since their constitution, thirty years age, among the miners and workers in the manufactured-iren trade in the North of England, thousands of disputes have been amicably arranged, and there have been remarkably few strikes in those districts. He holds that the Government not only has the right to intervene when the well being of the community is threatened, but that, as the present Pope has declared, it is its imperative duty to do so, and the t if strikes are to be made impessible, the laborer must be given a direct personal interest in the quantity and quelity of production, and be amnething more than a more machine for increasing the weelsh of a few favered indivi-
