PRICE 5 CENTS.

Dies After a Brief Illness.

A LONG AND DISTINGUISHED CAREER ENDED.

His Life Work Sketched Out.

A Great Churchman, Author and Social Reformer Lamented by all Creeds.

church and State have alike sufered a great less. The said news has seen made public far and near that Carfinal Manning is dead. For some days prior to his death the cable despatches had announced that he was seriously iff and it was obvious that, at so advanced and a was covious that, at so advanted an age and with an enfeebled constitu-tion, the emment churchman was in great danger but the news of his death has nevertheless been somewhat of the nature of a shock to the entire ivilized community. For many hours previous to his death his weakness was streme and toward the close so great that he can hardly have been aware of is condition, although he retained mental consciousness. Thus he was mercifully spared excessive suffereg, while he was fully aware preceding as death of his approaching end. Early t: the evening the physicians gave him ip, and during the night death was expected at any moment, cardinal Manning's illness began in the form of a slight cold toward the end and mal individually blessed the Canons a companying each ble-sing with a kindy obsevation. Then the Canons rever-intly kissed his hand, and he embraced was fast approaching. The Bishop of Salford was at his bedside throughout the previous night. The Cardinal was rapdry sinking, but he was able to request that mass be said, and it was celebrated by the Bishop in the private oratory adoining the sick chamber. In the meantime Canon Johnstone watched by the bed. Later on the Bishop of Salford returned, and, seeing a marked changed in the Cardinal, commenced to repeat the prayers for the dying. The Cardinal miled on hearing the familiar words, and moved his lips. At 7.25 he fell into a quiet sleep, and remainded in that condition until death came at 7.55, when without a struggle, he yielded up his spirit. Another telegraphic despatch states that t was while the Bishop was actually engaged in this solemn office that the spirit of the illustrious prelate left its earthly tenement. He remained perfectly calm and conscious to the last.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.

His Eminence Henry Edward Manning, Cardinal Priest of the Roman Church and Archbishop of Westminister, was the son of William Manning, M.P., a London merchant. He was born at Totteridge, Hertfordshire. on July 15, 1808. He was educated as a member of the Anglican Church at Harrow and Balliol College, Oxford, and was graduated with high honors in 1830. He was then chosen fellow of Merton College, and one of the select preachers of the university. Four years later he became rector of Lavington and Graffham in which created no slight stir, entitled "The Unity of the Church," which though severely attacking the Church of which he ultimately became a priest and bishop, showed that he held the true faith without altogether knowing it. During the next eight years he published several volumes of sermons which, by their power of expression and force of thought, drew to him the attention of the whole Church. The decision in the celebrated Gorham case, involving the decision as to baptismal regeneration, having left the whole matter unsettled. It among the first work and in the celebrated that unless the decision be repudiated it would be bind Wordsworth, Bishop of St. Andrews, these expressed by the present Pope in the secretary of State were playfellows. I frankly admit I was the local rates are honesty applied, but it is a universally established and admitted principle that neither grants from the locality can be applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to find the case of the Propagands.

Wordsworth, Bishop of St. Andrews, were playfellows. I frankly admit I was the local rates are honesty applied, but is a universally established and admitted principle that neither grants from the locality can be applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to first secure of the local rates are honesty applied, but is a universally established and admitted principle that neither grants from the locality can be applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to first secure with the local rates are honesty applied, but is a universally established and admitted principle that neither grants from the locality can be applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to first secure with the local rates are honesty applied, but it is a universally established and admitted principle that neither grants from the locality can be applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to first secure with the local rates are honesty applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to first a universally established and admitted principle that neither grants from the locality can be applied to the teaching of religion. They are exclusively given to first a universally est in the summer of the same year, in passed some four years in study at the Academia Ecclesiastica, a Pontifical col-Manning probably never stood at an altar and established to finish the training of new who had elsewhere taken their degrees and who were destined for high diplomatic and ecclesiastical duties as Nuncios and otherwise—a very nursery of Cardinals, whose portraits covered the corridor walls. Thither the future English prince of the Church went by the advice of Fins IX. and it was at this time that the acquaintance with his Holiness which the young priest had begun white he was still an Anglican archdeacon ripened into an intimacy which years made only more tender and more profound. His Eminence has paid twenty—found. His Eminence has paid twenty—found. As he passed necessary is suffering of a great city's slums. "It was at this suffering of a great city's slums. "It was at this store and ecclesiastical duties as a fleshless skull," wrote John however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclinations, however, once nearly knocked me out the world. My shooting inclina and established to finish the training of one visits to Rome, two of which were previous to his conversion. The first of these was in May, 1848, when the young Pontiff received him at the Quirinal and spoke much of England, mentioning with admiration Mrs. Fry, and saying: "When men do good works God gives them grace. My prayers are offered every day for England." It may be added that the parties of the leart of the Eminence said:

tions. His next three years he passed in Itome, and in 1854 he was ORDAINED PRIEST

Pontiff, when on his deathbed, recurred

they had met, and in what different relaby Cardinal Wiseman. He was appointed rector of St. Helen and St. Mary's, Bayswater, where he established a house of Oblates of St. Charles Borromeo, an association of secular missionary priests founded in the sixteenth century. From this period his rise in dignities and influence within the Church was rapid. He received the degree of D. D. from Pius IX., with the office of provost of the Roman Catholic diocese of Westminster and the rank of prothonotary apostolic, seems, was thought about the matter by ine Cardinal or his household. However on Saturday Dr. Gasquet, a relative of Westminster, and was consecrated on of Westminster, and was consecrated on 3 the Cardinal advised him, if only as a precautionary measure, to remain in a d. This the Cardinal did over Sanday, but by Monday the symptoms had become so pronounced that it was thought is irable to call in another physician, so it nothing was felt in the shape of the Cardinal's household. Apprehensing did arise, however, when it was appropriated bronchitts had set in. Sir leading Wiseman, but declared that yearen Cardinal Wiseman, but declared that yearen Cardinal was the Cardinal control of the stone should not be laid upon. water Carke saw the Cardinal control one stone should not be laid upon another. The lungs it was then under another before every child in his stock and had become affected. So grave in head and the situation become that the Lamonneed in 1871 his plan for a Roman erdinal had the last successors ad Catholic University. He appended to ministered. Father Dillon of Bayswater the public for support, raised a large flerated. Canon Johnstone, the Cardis land, and organized a senate and a corps Figure 4. Canon Johnstone, the Carbi- fund, and organized a scatterant a corps of private screetary, and Bishop vaughan of Salstord were also ed in Kensington on Oct. 13, 1874. Somewhat before this ne was involved in a controversy with Bishop Dapanloup as the Canons Court, read over the lead of the profession of Papal infallibility. Headdress the Canons Court, read over the classical letter to his flock on the cast which capacitants the profession (subject to chiedate the defined dogum.) as als which constitute the profession, subject to clucidate the defined dogma. When the last words had been said the and this letter, together with two other and this letter, together with two other poverty-stricken father, and gave the 31, 1877. Cardinal Mauning was

A PRODUCT WRITER. Among his many works are: "The Four Great Evils of Today," published in 1871; "The Fourfold Sovereignty of God," 1871; "The Dæmon of Socrates,' 1872; "Cæsarism and Ultramontanism,' 1874: "The Internal Mission of the Howard is suffering in Rome from mental Modern Society," 1875: "The Catholic Church and Modern Society," 1875; "The Eternal Priesthood," 1883, and "The Ternal Priesthood," 1884, and "The Tern poral Mission of the Holy Ghost," "England and Christendom." "The Temporal Power of the Pope and its Political Aspeet," and very many sermons. Of late years Cardinal Manning has been before the world as an ardent Home Ruler and an advocate of social and industrial reform. In fact, his name has been mentioned much more in connection with Irish affairs and the labor problem than opinions concerning the misrule of Ireland in a letter to Earl de Grey. He set forth the abuses of English rule as shown by Irish history, and pleaded for justice tor the oppressed people. His last utter-ance on the Irish question was this: "I am an Englishman to the core and I am not a separatist, but I know and love the Irish people. Since the time of Henry VIII, they have been governed by force Injustice naturally provokes evil passions. Kind and equal laws would long ago have settled the Irish question, and it is only by extending such laws that tranquillity will be thoroughly restored. Sussex, and in 1840 Archdeacon of Chichester. In 1842 he published a book labor question was exceptionally advanced for a man of his standing and family London dock strike under the management of the agitator. Burns he even denounced as a socialist. His views, how ever, were substantially the same as ing upon the Church of England. He basis of common justice both may rise Bisshops were guilty of largeny. Were we reason, and upon that broad principle, and other celebrated elergymen and laymen of the establishment strove stre men of the establishment strove stre

men of the church from what to a perfect understanding, and I think
men of the establishment strove stre
men of the church from what
to a perfect understanding, and I think
gave ourselves up and were forgiven."

"I was always fond of riding, shooting
boating and cricketing. I well remembot doctrine by the Chown, but their cliorts of the Government
both may like to the better understanding, and I think
gave ourselves up and were forgiven."

"I was always fond of riding, shooting
boating and cricketing. I well remembot doctrine by the Chown, but their cliorts
of the Government
both may like to the control of the control were unsuccessful. Dr. Manning therefore cut loose from the Church and was received into the Roman Catholic faith on Passion Sunday, 1851. The next three the temperance question, he said: "Eng-was with me at the time, and he was a Cardinal Gibbons of the temperance question, he said: "Eng-was with me at the time, and he was a Cardinal Gibbons of the temperance question or four years, after being ordained priest land sober is England happy and con-very tall heavy follow, with a tremendous hand. When he saw the hare fall, he brought that same huge hand down on my back with all his might, and lege situated in the Whitchall of Rome, or made its way among the lost and a hearty Well done, Master Henry? and established to finish the training of suffering of a great city's slums. "It His enthusiasm nearly knocked me out men who had elsewhere taken their deways if wrinkled parchment was stretched to fine world. My shooting inclinations, and determination of knowledge, fear-lessness, and compassion. As he passed through the highways and byways of the most abandoned parts of London, his hand was ever stretched out to greet, to similar papers, were published in 1871 comfort of his faith to the mother stagger-under the title Privilegium Petri.

In 1875 Pope Pins IX, created him a Cardinal priest, the title assigned to him simple clerical garb, and his quiet symicen as in his weak state as best he being that of St. Andrew and St. Gregory pathetic words were welcome in streets world, and it became evident that death on the Cochan Hill. The same pontiff which most other great prelates never invested him with the Cardinal's hat in saw, and few, who have gone up far enough a consistory held at the Vatican on Dec. to beable to look down, ever think of. His fame as a philanthropist will live, in London at least, as long as his fame as a thinkerand preacher.

Cardinal Manning, in his last years was called often "The last of the Cardinals in England." Newman, his contemporary and peer, died in August, 1890. "Eng-social evils, or political abuses, was ex-mporal peeted from an English-speaking prelate, the eyes of the world were literally turned to the wise, keen, laborious, benevo-lent, and bold old man in Westminster.

He served on the Royal Commission on the Housing of the Poor in 1885, and on the Royal Commission on the Education acts in 1886. He interposed to prevent a condemnation of the Irish Nationotherwise. In 1868 he made public his al League by Rome in 1887, and acted as mediator in the great London dock laborers' strike in 1890.

HIS VIEWS ON EDUCATION.

The following sketch of the Cardinal at home' recently published in the Standard Magazine, and written by Mr. H. How will at this melancholy juncture be read with interest. After describing the Cardinal's surroundings and giving some preliminary remarks, the following conversation took place:

"Will you tell me something about your boyoood?" I asked.

"Well, if you want me to talk nonsense, I will say it this a long may back to remember, for I am 83, but I spent my childhood at Totteridge. As a boy at Coombe Bank, Christopher Wordsworth, ate Bishop of Lincoln and Charles Wordsworth, Bishop of St. Andrews,

"I believe the intervention of the State to be premature and mischievious, because it obstructs the fulfilment of parental and natural duty. Do you believe that a national system of education can ever exist without the assistance of the State?"

"No, unless it be in a very low and imperfect manner; but I believe that tre whole greatness of the empire, and all our world wide commerce, and all dur national character itself, is the creation not of the State but of the intellireace, energy, and free will of indivihals. This was the original principle from which it sprung."

"Do you not approve of what the Government has done since the year '35

"Very heartily; only I think that the Government down to 1870, when it authorized School Boards to put their hands in the pockets of the people, has hehaved in an unequal way, and I hope that assisted education will show that the Government has risen to a full sense of its responsibility."

"Do you mean that contributions of the parents or the Department are sufficient for the Voluntary system?"

"tradmeans; I believe that the responsibility of parents in every home creases a responsibility of localities in every cummunity or parish in the land. It is an absolute duty of local adminis-tration that the heads of such administration hould take care that every child within their limits is duly educated. I believe, however, that the contributions of parents and the local rates with assistance from the Treasury, will suffice for a voluntary system of national education."

"Inden, where are free schools?"

"It folieve that every parent who is able to pay for the education of his child-able to pay for the education of his children is bound to do so, but that others, the State included, are bound to pay for those who are unable to pay for themselves. In this sense, as a subordinate detail I heartly accept free schools, but not the name:"

"Does not contribution from local rates involve local management?

"Without doubt, so far as to see that

Cardinal Gibbon's Tribute.

Cardinal Gibbons on the receipt of the news of the death of Cardinal Manning was profoundly moved. Later in the day he dictated the following tribute to Cardinal Manning:—

"The death of Cardinal Manning is a great loss, not only to the Catholic Church in England, but to the whole English speaking Catho nge.

"No man inside or outside the Church, has grasped the social questions as he did or knew better how to harmonize the relations of Church and State. He was the acknowledged champion of the laboring classes in England, whose cause he espoused at the risk of health and even of life.

champion of the laboring classes in England, whose cause he espoused at the risk of health and even of life.

"I heard him speak in the Vatican Council and churches in Rome and London. He disdained to appeal to the feelings and imagination, but spoke directly to the consciences and intellects of his hearers. In conversation he was most instructive and entertaining, drawing treasures of knowledge from his well stored mind. Each sentence was expressed with the force and tersenses of an aphorism. He spoke with so much precision that all his ulterances might have been printed without correction or revision. He was an indefatigable worker even when an octogenarian, and allowed very few idle moments to the clergy of his household, as they very often playfully complained.

"I am in no wise detracting from the conspicuous merits of the English hierarchy in saying that it will be no easy task to fill his place."

A Hebrew Tribute.

A requiem service was held at the Temple Emmanuel Synagogue on Friday night in consequence of the deaths of the Prince and Cardinal. The Rabbi Vehl in alluding to the Cardinal. The Rabbi Vehl in alluding to the latter said: "But another prince has died—an eminent prelate of the Roman Catholic church. Cardinal Manning, in whom everyone had contence. I am not able to recall to mind his inany good deeds, his greatness. Nor can I adequately extol his works. Indeed he does not need it. The plous need no landations; their deeds speak for themselves and are monauments which are better engraven than in stone or brass. Yet I must call to mind how the late Cardinalat that memoriable Mansion House meeting some ten years ago, raised his powerful voice against the terrible persecutions in Russia, how only last year he used his pen in behalf of the persecuted of our creed, housily and mightily resound the fame of the late Archbishop. It will, like him, live for ever in the hearts of those who formed his flock, and no less in the hearts of us Jews, who from this spot moorn with our Roman Catholic brethren and fellow mourners. If our national sun has once more been extinguished, if the moon and stars in their splender have become pate in a religious sky, then let our aim be to show our appreciation of the new ones to take their place. If a vigorous promising vine stock has been cut down, if a noble, unselfish religious here has passed away, then let us so act to those who are to succeed them that the twight of a sinking will follow the dawn of a new rising sun." latter said: "But another prince has died—an

The news of the death of His Eminence Car dinal Manning was received in Montreal with profound regret. On the appouncement of the sad event the flag of the archbishop's pa-lace was placed at half-mast. In the pulpits of several of the Catholic churches appropriate references were made to the demise of the illus-

Death of Cardinal Simeoni.

Cardinal Simooni, formerly Papal secretary of state and prefect general of the Propaganda, died on Thursday last. His death was due to an attack of influenza, from which he had been suffering for several days. Cardinal Simeoni was born July 23rd, 1816.

Cardinal Scratino van Nutelli, Papal secretary of memorial, will succeed Cardinal Simeoni as Prefect-General of the Propaganda. The Pope is sorely afflicted by the death of Cardinal Manning, whom he was wont to term "The Father of the Modern Church."

His Eminence Cardinal Giovanni Simeoni was born at Pahano, in the diocese of Palestrina, Italy, and having been ordained priest he was, on account of his learning, employed in offices of considerable importance. In 1847 he was auditor of the Nunciature of Madrid. After some years he became prefect of studies in the Pontifical Lyceum of the Roman Seminary and Prothonotary Apostolic. For many years he was secretary of the Congregation of the Propaganda, and as Consultor he belonged to the Holy Roman and Universal Inquisition; to the Propaganda for affairs of the Oriental Rite; to the Council for the revision of Provincial councils and for extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs. When the Ecumenical Council of the Vatican was called Mgr. Simeoni was one of the Consultors for the Commission of Oriental churches and missions and for Ecclesiastical discipline. diplomatic relations between the Holy See and the Court of Spain having been re-established in 1875, His Holiness Pius IX. sent Mgr. Simeoni as Nuncio to Madrid. On Murch 15, 1875, Pius IX. created him Cardinal, and on September 17 the same year he published him in Consistory. Mgr. Simeoni, having been created Cardinal, remained in the nunciature at Madrid in the quality of a pro-nuncio, and on the death of Cardinal Antonelli, in 1876, he was appointed Secretary of State to His Holiness Pius IX.—an office which he retained until the death of that Pontiff—and Prefect of the Sacred Apostolic palaces. He was succeeded as Secretary of State by Cardinal Franchi in March, 1878,

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Sir Alexander Campbell is improving daily.

Prince George of Wales is to made Duke of Kent.

Sir Edwin Arnold is ill with la grippe at Philadelphia.

There is a deficit in Russian tressury of 74,000,000 roubles.

John B. Wickham has just died at Ot-umwa, Iowa, aged 120. The Prince of Wales and family will not appear in public for a year. Mr. John A. Barron is again the Grit candidate for North Victoria.

Mr. S. B. Burdett, M.P., for East Hast-ngs, has improved considerably in health. Dr. B.S. Wilson, Belleville's best known physician, died last week of pneumonis.

Premier Mercier's trip to Europe last vear cost the Quebec Government $25,7

The Canadian Pacific SS. Empress of lapan left Yokohama yesterday for Vancouver.

Mr. John G. Whitter, the poet, has air attack of grippe, but his illness is not serious. Heavy frosts have done $1,000,000 damage to crops in San Gabriel Valley; California. James A. Bailey, of the Barnum & Bailey shows, has purchased the Fore-paugh outfit.

The writ for East Simcoe election fixes February 4 for nomination and February 11 for polling. James Collins, wanted at Thorold, Ont., for a series of burglaries, is under arrest in Buffalo. Mr. John Brown, of Dunnville, the unseated, has been again chosen as the Grit candidate for Monck.

A Winnipeg school in which were 50% children was destroyed by fire last week. All the inmates escaped.

Messrs. Kenny and Starrs were nominated for the Commons by the Conservatives of Halifax last week. Lieut.-Col. Miller, of Toronto, formerly of the Queen's Own Rifles, died on Monday evening from la grippe.

Randolph Rogers, the celebrated American sculptor, is dead. He was born in New York State in 1825. Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, Minn., has gone to Liege, Belgium, to attend the International Catholic Congress. The Baroness Macdonald has arrived in Ottawa from Lakewood, N. J., and will remain at the capital a few days. The annual convention of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario was concluded at Brantford last week.

The Archbishop of Toronto has issued pastoral to the archdiocese asking their prayers for the abatement of the influenza.

There is excitement at Deming, New Mexico, owing to a report that a plot is a being hatched near there for a raid upon

It is understood the amount involved in the failure of Jos. H. Coates & Co., the Philadelphia cotton firm, is more than $1,000,000.

Joseph Parker, 54, carpenter, whose ago last week. He fell backwards into un open stairway. Mr. John D. McGregor, of Trafalgar, has been nominated by the Patrons of Industry in Halton to contest the election for the Commons.

The past week has been one of the coldest ever experienced in the northwestern states, thermometers marking from 20 to 50 below zero.

Cardinal Rampolla, who has been suffering from influenza, is now better. He was well enough on Saturday to hold a conference with the Pope.

Malcolm Forbes, of Boston, Mass., is alleged to have paid Senator Stanford $150,000 for the phenomenal trotter Arion, 2-year-old, record 2.10].

The Allan steamship Siberian collided in the Clyde with the barque Antoinette last week. The barque was badly damaged but the Siberian escaped lightly.

All the political refugees in Valparaise have now left the Chilian capital, the last seven having been transferred yes-terday to the U.S. gunboat Yorktown.

Mr. John Copeland, registrar of the county of Stormont, died at Cornwall on Sunday. He was born in Scotland in 1815 and came to Canada when 13 years of age.

Mr. Alexander McNeill, M.P. for North Bruce, addressed a large meeting at Dunnville last week, on the subject of Imperial trade. Great enthusiasm was manifested.

Sir Daniel Wilson's condition has greatly improved. Dr. Temple reports that the venerable president of Toronto University is now in a fair way to ultimate recovery.

Edward Handcock, charged with murder of his daughter Sophia, at Fairbank, Toronto, has been acquitted. How the unfortunate girl came to her death is still a mystery.

Mrs. Mary Simpson, a dressmaker of Chicago, went out on the lake in front of that city on Saturday night, took off all her clothing and lay down to freeze to death. The frozen body was found.

Mrs. Robinson, wife of Hon. John Beverley Robinson, ex-Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, died rather suddenly at the Arlington hotel. She had been suffering from influenza for several weeks.

The banquet to be given Mr. James McMullen, M.P. for North Wellington, at Arthur, has been postponed from the 21st to the 28th inst., in order that Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright may attend.