

To the Editor of the 'VARSITY.

DEAR SIR,—It gives me much pleasure to read your article in the last number of the 'VARSITY, urging the Undergraduates to rally to the support of our Cricket Club. It is quite a revolution, from the old state of affairs, to hear anything about Cricket at this early day—but your article has awakened an interest, and I sincerely hope good results may come. Now, in the working of the Club in former years, it always seemed to me that we were too late in making a start. I would suggest early organization, and that greater efforts be put forth to work up the enthusiasm. Also let the College Council be approached on the state of the lawn, and have a portion in the centre more carefully looked after and put in a condition suitable for a crease—for all Cricketers know pretty well what a bumpy wicket means. Now pardon me for using your space, but I have one more idea—it looks now as if a yearly contest, between McGill College and our University were to be an established fact—why not have an annual Inter-University Cricket match? I would venture to say that two or three men could be found at McGill College who could hold a bat and then we could educate them up to it. A well wisher and ONE OF THE ENTHUSIASTS.
