WESTINGHOUSE CUSTOMER

He and J. J. Albright, Head of Ontario Power Company, in Vast Trolley System.

New York, July 17 .- The World says: George Westinghouse, president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufac turing Company of Pittsburg, was selected by Thomas F. Rvan to be one of the three trustees of the latter's in such lines, and thus secure regular customers for its output.

Information received by The World Assurance Society. In association with indicates that the Ontario Power Com-Grover Cleveland and Justice O'Brien pany and its subsidiary corporations are part of a plan of interests in Buf-Mr. Westinghouse is exercising the dominating power in this great comment, Mr. Westinghouse has furnished large quantities to Mr. Ryan's Metropolitan street railways in New York. Should Mr. Ryan obtain the franchise for building new subways, which would require large amounts of money such as the Equitable has on hand, there would be need for a great deal of electrical machinery such as the Westing-house Electric and Manufacturing Company has for sale. Westinghouse Customer a Director

During the past few weeks the principal duty of Mr. Westinghouse and his associated trustees has been the selection of new directors to represent the policy-holders in the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Among those re-cently chosen was John J. Albright of Buffalo, who made a large amount of money out of the asphalt business, and was mixed up in the scandalous asphalt business Mr. Albright has been interesting himself in the electrical business and has had dealings thru his various new companies with Mr. Westing-

"The transmission company, which killed Emil Gendron, who, she alleges, "The transmission company, which purchased the first 60,000 electrical horse-power, has signed a contract with the New York Central interest for a large amount of power with which to operate its trolley lines in central and western New York."

A large part of the machinery for the large part of the machinery for the large part of the machinery for the lilled Emil Gendron, who, she alleges, had forced her to lead a life of shame for his gain, must face a jury to answer a charge of murder in the first degree. She was indicted by the grand jury to-day after a coroner's jury held a verdict finding that Gendron met his death at her hands.

Albright is president, was furnished by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufac-turing Company. The name of George Westinghouse does not appear among the list of directors of the company. The list of stockholders is not public record, but it is generally understood that Mr. Westinghouse is largely in-terested in the Ontario power schemes. ompany, in which it is said that Mr. Westinghouse also is interested. Its contract with the Ontario Power Company calls for the delivery of electric current at the international boundary Hold Large Interests.

Mr. Westinghouse and his manufacturing company have large interests in many electric railway lines in various parts of the country. It is the policy of the company to have stock holding falo, Utica and Glens Falls to control in harmonious relations extensive trolley systems in the western part of New York State,

The power generated by the Ontario company is to be used as far as Syra-cuse, where it will meet the Utica in-terests, which possess various generating plants to supply the territory be-tween Utica and Schenectady. At the latter place the power generated at Glens Falls will be met, and thus the region from the Hudson to the Niagara will be supplied with trolley lines and electric power by affiliated interests.

The trolley lines and the generating plants in this system will require a large amount of machinery and appar-atus which the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company sells.

A Denial.

The newspapers yesterday reported that the corporation for which John F. Wallace resigned his position as chief engineer of the Panama Canal was one organized by Mr. Westing-house to build and operate trolley lines trust that collapsed, resulting in loss to many investors and large profits to to many investors and large profits to the offices of the Westinghouse house's electrical manufacturing company in Pittsburg.

Mr. Albright is president of the Ontario Power Company, which secured from the Canadian government the right to divert water from the Niagara River, above the Falls, and use it to

After carefully taking cognizance the communication, Mr. Kirkland of Almonte was appointed a commissioner to act as historian of the criminal career of the "count." In so doing he will take evidence from the managers of the following banks: The Imperial the Dominion, the Bank of Toronto and the Bank of Hamilton. It is said the count in leaving this country took with him several cheque blanks which he filled out and forged signatures to for tidy amounts. To pass the cheques he claimed to be a manager for a Cuban-American concern. They have since turned up and have been branded valueless. The "count" will be remembered by his connection with the famous Rice, Rutledge and Jones case. He was confined in a cell between two of the pri-soners, and from their conversations was able to give the police conclusive evidence. He was held on a charge of forgery at the time, but was allowed his freedom for the assistance he gave. The "count" has been imprisoned in various United States penitentiaries
