Toronto Junction Sons of England Attended Service at St. John's Church.

"BE JUST AND THEN GENEROUS"

Advise Rev. Mr. DeVerne-Cheek Vagrant Punished For Contempt of Court.

Toronto Junction, June 2.—Lodge Worcester, Sons of England Benevolent Society, and visiting brethren from sister lodges, headed by the Britannia Naval Brigade band, marched to St. John's Church this afternoon, where they were addressed by Rev. E. H. DeVerne, of St. Paul's Epistole to the Galatians, vi. 2, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." The law of Christ, he said, was the law of love. Not a mere sentimental thing, but something that showed itself in real sacrifice. The position of employer and employee was taken up to show the relationship between man and man. There was no love, he declared, in the employer who gave a woman a cent per dozen for making pants, when only a dozen could be made in a day. He believed Carnegie was prompted by his motives in giving away the millions he was giving today. Yet no one would forget the year 1862, when the homeless men and women were kept to the door in winter, and the low rates of wages then ruling Carnegie's gift of millions to-day are, he said, a confession to the world that in 1862 the men were kept to the door in winter. Let us first be just and then generous, said the preacher.

Man who gave his name as Thomas Wilson was begging in various parts of the town yesterday, and was very abusive to persons who refused to give him anything. Chief of Police Joyce arrested him on High Park avenue, and before Police Magistrate Hills on a charge of vagrancy. Mr. Constantine gave evidence against the man, who denied that he had begged in the town. "Why, you asked me for money yesterday," said the magistrate. "No, I didn't," replied the prisoner. "Sit down," said Mr. Joyce, and then the prisoner abused the magistrate in the most unbecoming manner. The magistrate then found him for contempt of court, and added two months to his sentence.

Treasurer Coady's Budget

DEALING WITH SIX MILLIONS From Revenue and Taxation $3,243,193—To Be Met by the Issue of Debentures and Special Receipts $2,557,441, Making a Total of $5,800,634—Tax Rate is 19.12 Mills.

Treasurer Coady will present his statement on the revision of the draft estimates for 1901 to Mayor Howland to-day. The statement declares that the tax rate will be 19.12 mills, the same as last year. The total expenditure will be $5,800,634, which is a reduction of $202,500 from the original draft estimates. The contemplated expenditure for this year on revenue and taxation amounts to $3,243,193, and that to be met by the issue of debentures and special receipts amounts to $2,557,441, making a total of $5,800,634.

The gist of the report may be seen at a glance by the subjoined table, giving a summarized statement of additions and reductions made by the Board of Control on revision of the draft estimates of 1901:

Table with columns: ADDITIONS AND REDUCTIONS, Amounts as per revised draft sent by Board of Control, and Reductions. Controllable $1,513,900 $1,226,703 87,257

$3,645,693 $3,243,193 $402,500

General Remarks. In discussing the expenditure, Mr. Coady points out that the net increase in the uncontrollable expenditure over last year's estimate is $407,703. The increase in the controllable expenditure is $106,813. This is a net increase of $300,890.

A Word of Warning. The Board of Control, in its report, has a word of warning against large expenditures for public works at this time. It is pointed out that the rate of interest on the public debt is high, and that the cost of borrowing money is correspondingly high. It is therefore recommended that the Board should exercise the utmost economy in its expenditures.

Mr. Coady enters a plea that the Province of Ontario should contribute directly a reasonable amount to the cost of the return for the privileges its government derives from the city.

NEWS FROM THE SEAT OF WAR. New York, June 2.—The Herald's London dispatches say: As an instance of the point of view taken by the Anglo-Jewish community, the London Daily News has misrepresentation of concealment as to the South African campaign, and says it is a "disgrace" to the British Empire that the British Government should be so ignorant of the situation in regard to the condition of the army and the chances of the war.

To destroy the enemy's power of offense Lord Kitchener organizes great combined movements, probably entirely composed of mounted men, occupying nearly all the troops that can be spared from the lines of communication. The great combined movements are being carried out in the most systematic manner. The British are constantly diminishing the number of the lines of communication, and the only alternative to this sweeping movement would be to sit on the hands of the enemy and to declare a state of war.

At least each of these movements is expected to clear the enemy's position. It operates in such a way that the enemy can no longer use it, and to capture that part of his forces which have been operating from the district as a base. At most, the British are to be prepared to meet the side for as long a time as the British columns can keep the field.

The chief point for the public to appreciate is that this kind of thing cannot go on indefinitely. To bring the war to a successful conclusion, some movements would have to be more or less unprovoked.

"First, they take a long time; the whole period since Jan. 29 has been absorbed in the execution of them.

"Second, only one can be undertaken at a time, and while it is in progress it absorbs nearly the whole mobile strength of our army.

"Third, they are immensely expensive.

"Fourth, they kill horses and exhaust men in a degree out of all proportion to previous operations."

Not Trustworthy. The Daily News, glancing over the field, comes to the conclusion that the public cannot trust the general impression conveyed by the reports from the front; that to the extent engaged in it, the task must appear irremediable; that not even the largest movements achieved a result sufficiently definite to prevent their being exactly repeated within a few months. But this inconceivable task has not an inexhaustible supply of force behind it; and it is there is one thing more certain than anything with regard to the war in its present position, it is that the soldiers responsible for the direction of it, who know that England is still in a position to dictate terms and to insist upon a victorious settlement, and who in the nature of things cannot expect to be driven to a bay, should not expect to be driven to a bay.

Baby on His Doorstep. Mr. John A. Densen, on entering his home at 227 Ontario-street, about midnight on Saturday, found a male infant about a week old lying on the doorstep. He notified Police Constable Robert Steele, who removed the child to the Infants' Home in the patrol wagon. The child was warmly wrapped up in a horse blanket.

MONTREAL'S CRACK CORPS. Victoria Rifles Reviewed by Major-General O'Grady.

Montreal, June 2.—(Special.)—Major-General O'Grady, the new commanding officer of the Canadian militia, was apparently very much impressed by his introduction to the Montreal militia yesterday, and he certainly has good reason to be. The annual inspection of the 3rd Regiment Victoria Rifles, and a very good inspection it was. It took place on the camp de Mars, and a large attendance of spectators testified to the continued popularity of Montreal's corps d'élite.

While There is Still Hope, the President and Physicians Are Much Concerned.

Washington, June 2.—Mrs. McKinley continues weak. Her condition is not greatly changed from that of yesterday, but each day that elapses without a gain in strength lessens her powers of recuperation. The complaint which came near ending her life in San Francisco is still present. It is in a slightly less aggravated form, but it gives the physicians and the President much concern. Mrs. McKinley has shown remarkable vitality, but her illness has reduced her strength as to leave her very feeble, indeed. It is feared that unless a change for the better comes, she will not survive. Her condition has given out her strength as to leave her very feeble, indeed. It is feared that unless a change for the better comes, she will not survive. Her condition has given out her strength as to leave her very feeble, indeed. It is feared that unless a change for the better comes, she will not survive.

There were many callers at the White House during the day and evening, making anxious enquiries regarding Mrs. McKinley. With few exceptions, they simply left their cards, and being assured by the door-keepers that there was no change in Mrs. McKinley's condition.

TROOPS ARE LEAVING PEKIN. Administration Will Be Gradually Handed Over to Chinese Officials This Month.

Pekin, June 2.—At a meeting of the generals of the allied troops to-day, it was decided to transfer the administration of the city of Peking to the Chinese officials this month.

Count Von Waldersee, accompanied by his staff, will leave Peking to-morrow. Two special trains will run all the week, taking troops to Taku. The Germans are removing an extraordinary amount of baggage, including Chinese cars, kitchenware, furniture and chairs. The Baluchi Regiment left this morning and all the other British troops will have their bands and every American officer in Peking was present. The Americans being particularly anxious to show their appreciation of the manner in which the British had farwell to the American troops.
