Attentions Were Costly.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—J. Howard Rommel is a youth who has little more than passed his eighteenth birthday, but his love for the beautiful is abnormally developed. One evening a month ago he strolled into a local theatre, prepared to admire in a leisurely way the pretty girls

ho constitute the chorus in "Miss Bo

White." But mischievous Dan Cupid was out for a lark that night, and before J.

Howard knew where he was at, he realized that his heart was no longer his own, but reposed in the possession, willy nilly, of Miss Dorothy Hunting, the handsome and triented leading lady. With glistening eye and palpitating breath, he worshipped

The address which Mr. Ewart delivered before Mr. Justice Perdue on this topic won general public approval. Exception was taken in only a few instances to the sentiments expressed by Mr. Ewart and to his manner of offering them. A member of the Senate referred to the address as a piece of inpudence. This Senator could not have attacked Mr. Ewart's position at a stronger point. The address was anything but impudent. It was not so regarded by Mr. Justice Perdue, and the probability is that any other judge outside of those who

What is your answer?
While the unfortunates who own the engraved stock certificates that "were to make them rich" await your reply, they are doing their best to pay fifty cents a share to postpone the evil day. One of them, who staked a million on the Great Northwest proposition, says: "If it were only $1000 to pay to save my all I couldn't do it." Is this pregnant?

Two Mere Ways to Help

FREIGHT CAR SCARCITY.

There are many rich banks in Philadelphia. They pay enormous dividends. Several of them lent money to the Consolidated Company, and when it got into trouble took advantage of the occasion to refund their loans, securing them by the Speyer collateral, whereas they had not been previously so well secured. Most of them are willing to accept new bonds, secured by Ironbound collateral. Is it possible that they cannot see $250,000 value above the $5,050,000 loan? If so, they did not do good banking in the first place. If there is good value there, do banks owe any consideration to people of a city who make them rich, provided it can be done without detriment to their depositors?

There is a syndicate rich enough to put its name down as a subscriber for $6,000,000 of Consolidated Superior stock. It has not paid. Are there not among its many members enough to "Here: we'll be honorable enou There are many rich banks in Philaamong its many members enough to say:

"Here; we'll be honorable enough to pay $250,000?"

If this money cannot be raised it is to the everlasting shame of financial Philadelphia that she should see $24,000,000 lost to the investors of the city for lack of $250,000, which many responsible persons are under obligation to pay.

A Trivial Difference.

Undue importance has been given to inconsequential difference of opinion between the first committee that undertook the preliminary work of getting shareholders together to protect themselves, and the receiver of the company. The latter adopted an heroic measure to prevent the sale of assets by Speyer & Co., and sent out an emergency call for 50 cents a share. The committee apparently did not like it, but suggested no plan whatever for saving the property. The receiver had to act, and act on the moment without stumbling over technicalities. A new committee a tonce endorsed his course, and many shareholders paid the amount yesterday morning at the office of the Equitable Trust Company, as soon as they obtained the notice. A general response is not possible until early this week.

Should the sum be paid in, the success of the reorganization plan is certain, as the remaining $2.50 a share tain, as the remaining $2.50 a share y:

Should the sum be paid in, the success of the reorganization plan is certain, as the remaining $2.50 a share will be paid by those who pay the 50 cents. Other pertinent ways are suggested in this article. If some one of them is not adopted, there should be a strict calling to account.
