fort has collapsed completely and the Russians are once again in position to resume their march on Asia Minor. News of the evacuation of Bitlis by the Turks comes hard on the heels of the official report of the regaining of Mush by the Russians. The tables have been completely turned and if Turkish power in the Caucasus is not completely broken the end is not remote.

* * Attempts by the Austro-German forces to resume the offensive in the direction of Kovel have been met by obstinate Russian resistance and resulted in no headway. Comparatively minor engagements at widely separated points officially reported are without special significance. Petrograd reports no change in the general situation.

Zeppelins succeeded in reaching the outskirts of London in their raid-ing operations of Thursday night. Explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped, resulting in eight deaths among the civilian population, while seven other persons were injured seriously and a number of others were slightly hurt. Small fires were started and some damage to public works caused, but the attack seems to have accomplished no military object. While five or six zeppelins took part in the raid over the east and southeast coasts of England, only one raider is known to have reached the London suburb. When anti-aircraft guns opened fire, the lone zeppelin

West of Ginchy last night the enemy made a determined attack on the British trenches, but was driven back by machine gun fire. Much artillery activity is reported on both British and German fronts, with the 340 3/4 British having the upper hand.

Other points of military interest also were bombed, but the enemy's aircraft showed little inclination for combat, and those which did were Amaged or driven off, while the British lost only one machine.

MacDonald Institute will have its full quota of young women in attendance, with many students on the waiting list.
Dr. Creelman stated that only thirty young men had registered for the first year class, but that he expected a few more. He declared that he was not at all surprised at the small number of students, he asked only for those who could not go to war. It was pointed out also that many farmers had sent as many of their sons as could be spared to the war, and the others were needed on the farm.

REFUND OVERCHARGES ON MILITIA CABLEGRAMS Montreal Superintendent Not Aware That Charges Were Being Made. Owing to the vigorous protest of Treasurer W. Pilley of the Earlscourt Lodge, Sons of England, to the super-intendent of telegraphs, C.P.R. head-quarters, Montreal, regarding the charges for delivery of militia depart-ment cablegrams to wives and relatives of soldiers in the Earlscourt district, the amounts overcharged to Mrs. Day, Mrs. Wooding and Mrs. Powell. "There are a number of others who were compelled to pay the extra charge, and these amounts will be refunded if application is made to me," said Mr. Filley. "The Montreal superintendent assured me he was not aware that these charges were being demanded by the Toronto offices, and has made arrange-ments that no such charges will be made in the future." Police Magistrate Brunton dealt out even handed justice in the Town of New-market when he imposed a fine of $1 each, together with an equal adjustment of the costs of the court, in the case of two Holland Landing neighbors charged with fighting in that town a day or two ago. The magistrate decided that after hearing much evidence in the mat-ter that each was equally to blame. In addition to the fines he offered some good advice.

Building activity in the Earlscourt and northwest section still continues unabated and the "help wanted" sign is still to be seen in every part of the district district. The handsome Gibson block, one of the finest in the city, situated on the corner of St. Clair avenue and St. Clair Gardens, is rapidly approaching com-pletion and handsome stores and re-sidential buildings are to be seen in all stages of erection on every side. Real estate agents report numerous applications for rented houses, and a reasonable demand for moderate-priced houses for sale. A heaithy op-timism prevails amongst business inen over the entire section.
