

HOME CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIRST YEAR

Julia Greenshields' Institution for Aged Has Remarkable Record.

The Julia Greenshields Home, 178 University avenue, at its annual meeting Saturday afternoon, celebrated its 21st anniversary. Dr. H. J. Cody presided, and Rev. A. B. Winchester conducted the devotional exercises. The presidential address was read by the president of the board, Mrs. A. L. Fleming. Miss Edith M. Holmes gave the secretarial report.

Twenty of the old ladies in residence are over 80—one is 96—but in 15 months there has not been one death. This gratifying record has been due very largely, said Mrs. Fleming, to the splendid care given the aged ladies by the superintendent, Mrs. Woodside.

The home has now $1 in residence, and the maintenance cost is a little over $1000 a month.

The home has been under very heavy expenses during the past year. The heating apparatus has had to be renewed, but is now in excellent condition. Ordinarily the city and government grants combined pay the cost of fuel. This year the grants proved $300 short of the fuel bill.

Added to Endowment.

During the year $1000 was added to the endowment fund, bringing the total to date to $4000. The fund aimed at is $50,000. The officers are exceedingly anxious to have the home put on a sound financial basis.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting, and the home thrown open to the visitors.

The following officers were all re-elected by acclamation: President Mrs. A. L. Fleming; vice-president, Mrs. W. P. Molesworth; Oakville; secretary, Miss Edith M. Holmes; treasurer, W. P. Molesworth, Oakville; directors, Mrs. E. G. Fitzgerald, Oakville; Mrs. Hubert Langlois, Mrs. Arthur Molesworth, Mrs. H. S. Smith, Miss Carmichael, advisory committee, R. S. Cassels, Rev. A. L. Fleming, R. B. Henderson, Geo. M. Molesworth, Hubert Langlois.

URGES CHERISHING NOBLE AMBITIONS

Dr. Ribourg Preaches Farewell Sermon at St. Alban's Cathedral.

Rev. Dr. Ribourg, preaching at St. Alban's Cathedral, last evening, (his last sermon before leaving), on "Ideals and Achievements," said in part:

"The only guarantee of power for any community or any nation is its humanitarian spirit. The chief ideal of any nation is not military or naval power, or material splendor, it must be the enriching of human life everywhere. Religion must work its way into trade and politics and science and art, in fact, into every sphere of our life."

A religion which has its beginning and end in the sacredness of Sunday, has very little value. Our religion must produce a Christ-centred life, whose influence will be felt seven days in the week.

All great men have become great by reason of the ideals they well-come in their hearts. Ideals are indispensable, without them there would be no achievement, no progress, material or moral, in the world, but stagnation.

History is not merely a record, it is also a revelation. Our generation inherits the ideals of the preceding ones and fulfills them.

"My last entreaty to you, is that as Christian people and as citizens of the great Dominion, you should cherish in your hearts worthy ideals and noble ambitions in your private and public life, so that the community, the church and the nation itself may feel the effects of your influence."

WILL UNVEIL TABLET TO NURSE'S MEMORY

Sister Davis Went Overseas With University Base Hospital—Contracted Fever.

On Friday evening next, a tablet in memory of Nursing Sister Lena A. Davis, who died while on active duty overseas, will be unveiled in the Western Hospital. Miss Davis was a graduate of that hospital in 1908, and the Alumnae Association is erecting the tribute to her memory.

At the outbreak of the war, Miss Davis was the matron of the Hospital for the Insane on King street, a position which she held for several years. She went overseas with the University Base Hospital unit which was sent to Saloniki, and it was while on duty there that she contracted malaria and was invalided to England. Although extremely ill and never fully recovered from the effects of the disease, she again in England, at Basingstoke, where she died of black water fever in February, 1918.

Miss Davis' home was in Beamsville, where her mother still lives. A sister was for a number of years a member of the teaching staff of the city schools, but has since died.

The tablet is being placed in the Assembly Hall of the Hospital, and the friends of the late Miss Davis are invited to the ceremony next Friday.

SANTA CLAUS AT ALLEN'S.
At Allen's Beach Theatre Saturday afternoon, Mr. Demerco, as Santa Claus, gave a social presentation which was largely attended. He was greatly assisted by Black's four-piece jazz orchestra, and J. Bunny, head comedian and stage manager of the Social Seven Club, of which Black's Orchestra are members.
