WASHINGTON SOCIETY IS NOT AS BLACK AS IT HAS BEEN REPRESENTED

Although Not as Chaste as Ice or as Pure as Snow it is Not as Vulgar Nor as Blatant as Some Would Have it --- General News of the American Capital.

(From our regular correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.— Washington is now in the middle of the social season and while society, as it is called, is not "as chaste as ice and pure as snow," it is neither so vulgar nor so blatant as it is often represented in the newspapers. Where so many people are gathered together from all parts of the country and so variously engaged it is not possible that all doubtful elements should be eliminated, but as far as society in this country can be represented, by the most intellectual, the most accomplished, the best educated, the wealthiest and the most influential, Washington society may easily lay claim to be that of the country. That it is rapidly organizing a class that is exclusive in the sense that the societies of European countries are exclusive; that it is becoming exclusive of the sensational and notorious, and, to an extent, the merely commonplace and vulgar, is certainly true, and is a refutation of those pessimists who have predicted that social distinction in this country would always be estimated and measured by money alone. It has been a newspaper fashion of late years in publishing the escapades of people in Washington to state that the person referred to was a "leader of Washington society." If a girl who gave Washington her name place killed a man in a cab she was immediately referred to as a "Washington society woman." If a notorious woman roped an old and senile senator into marriage it added immensely to the piquancy of the news if she had been "prominent in the best circles." If an obscure woman leaped into notoriety by suing some South American for breach of promise she immediately, according to the newspapers, had been the "intimate best guest at the White House and the most admired of the smart set." While it is true that a few and a very few of the people of Washington have committed indiscretions that have involved them in newspaper notoriety the public should be aware that the newspaper heroines are fashionable and influential at the capital, as it is of the reputation for beauty with which the city is famous.
Washington women of the better class are not of the publicity seeking variety which summers at Newport and the fashionable set, made up as it is largely of the wives and daughters of public officials, are for that very reason more apt to be circumspect or in a cab she was immediately referred to as a "Washington
man leaped into notoriety by suing some South American for breach of promise she
and a very few of the people of Wash-
have involved them in newspaper notoriety
the public should be aware that the news-
paper heroines are fashionable and influen-
beauty with which the city is famous.

of the session some changes may be made in that regard. A new proposition has been made by the sub-committee providing that inspectors shall be established at Canton and other Chinese centres for the examination of Chinese who intend coming to this country and that Chinese in the United States desiring to visit their native land may be permitted. He returns on condition that they produce certificates of residence here. All Chinese other than teachers, students, merchants or travellers will be compelled to apply to the bureau of commerce for certificates of residence within a year. All failing to do so after that time will be regarded as unlawfully within the country and will be deported. The bill will be presented to the lower house of congress this session and even if it is not acted upon it is believed that its effect on the Chinese government will be a mollifying one.

The Japanese question, though occupying less attention in congress than the Browneville matter is still by no means disregarded. Senator Dearn of California delivered a speech this week in the senate in which he strongly denounced the attitude of the administration. "California," he said, "is under no obligation to the federal government to have public schools or any kind of schools at all and if she does have them it is her province and not that of the general government to say how they shall be maintained and how conducted and under what conditions." He said, "we have learned that the unrestricted immigration of Asiatic laborers to this country is a curse, an incentive to crime and a menace to the welfare and happiness and prosperity of the laboring man of America." Appropriately this subject the report just issued by the commissioner general of immigration contains some interesting matter. He claims that there is evidence to show that the Chinese, individual or corporate, are engaged in importing Japanese laborers to work on the railroads of the north west. The plan, he says, is cunningly devised and so far has been successful. Japanese destined for Hawaii are taken aboard for a few days and then shipped to north western ports in this country, thus getting around the difficulty of securing from the government permission for laboring men to come into this country.

The commissioner's report is interesting throughout. He says that statistics show that the physical and mental quality of the alien now arriving in this country is less than that of the Chinese who came in former years. He urges that an effort be made to induce all interested countries to hold an international conference on the subject of immigration and emigration, with the object of co-operating in immigration laws.

ENGAGE IN FISHING ON A HUGE SCALE

Company Now Being Formed in Victoria Plans to Ultimately Employ Five Thousand Men---Ample Capital Said to be Forthcoming.

(Victoria Colonist)

A company now being formed here has in view the establishment of a deep sea fishing industry, which will ultimately employ 5,000 persons, and support an additional population of 20,000 people in Victoria. The project has been brought forward by a group of men who have been busy, and while a large amount of stock has already been taken locally, they will look to the east to secure the large amount, unless an early settlement of the pending negotiations with regard to pelagic sealing is made. In this event $200,000 at least, if not more, of the capital now looked up in the sealing industry is promised for the development of the deep sea fisheries of British Columbia and the Behring sea, many of the promoters of the company under formation having large sums invested in the former commerce. It is proposed to make use of both of sail and steam-driven vessels in the fishery. The companies in operation from Puget Sound use a fleet of schooners in cod-fishing, and steamers for halibut. It is probable that the same course would be followed here. The plan includes the outfitting of a fleet of cod-fishing vessels, which would go to the big cod banks off Portland Point and the Behring sea. The schooners would be based on the Queen Charlotte Islands, the schooners making a base there while fast transfer steamers might be operated from Victoria to these stations to bring the catches home and take supplies north for the various vessels. This method of transferring the catch was used in the earlier days of the pelagic sealing business until the use of transfer steamers was prohibited.
With the establishment of the steam ship service between Victoria and Mexico, the promoters of the deep sea fishing industry look to securing a large market.
In Mexico and Central America, whose markets can be reached easily by way of Salina Cruz, there are large Catholic communities, who would consume a considerable amount of fish, thus ensuring a large sale.

Some years ago steps were taken in Victoria for the exploitation of the halibut and cod-fishing industries tributary to Victoria. The company, which had the necessary capital, was established on the New England Fishing Company, which was then engaged in the business, with headquarters at Vancouver. The company then engaged here was compelled to relinquish the use of the steamer Thistle, for that vessel being a Canadian bottom, a duty was collected on the fish sent into the United States. Therefore the United States steamer Edith was then chartered and was operated out of Victoria. Shortage of the necessary capital wherewith to properly carry on the business compelled the company finally to abandon the industry, which was taken up with success by the New England Fish Company.

An estimate has been made by practical men that within five or six years at least 5,000 men would be employed in deep sea fishing, after the company under organization, is ready to engage in business.
With an average of three dependent persons to each employee, the organizers say their industry will have the effect of increasing the population of Victoria by 20, 000 people.

On the Atlantic coast, it is pointed out, the cities with large wharves and dependent on no other industry than that of deep sea fishing, and their opportunities are greater than those tributary to Victoria. The banks of British Columbia in the North Pacific are practically virgin territories while those of the north Atlantic are becoming depleted as a result of centuries of fishing. It will not be long before the greater number of consumers in the United States will have to look to the North Pacific for their fish supply.

OBITUARY

Benj. A. Everett

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 13.—Benjamin A. Everett, a widely known and respected citizen, died at his boarding house, Windsor Hall, this morning. He had been in failing health since last October. Heart trouble was the cause of his death.
Deceased was born at Kingsclear, seventy-one years ago, and resided there up to 1889 when he moved to this city. He purchased Long's Hotel from the late George Hume, its proprietor for a number of years. In 1903 he removed to Woodstock and remained there up to last year, when he returned to this city. Deceased was a staunch liberal in politics and always took an active interest in public affairs. He represented the parish of Kingsclear in the municipal council for several terms, and was at one time warden of the county. After removing to this city he interested himself in civic politics, and was elected alderman for Carleton ward, holding the seat for three years. In religion he was a Baptist, and has for a number of years been a deacon in the Brunswick street church of this city. All his life he was a firm advocate of temperance, and rendered good service to the cause during his residence in this city. He had a wide acquaintance in the counties of York and Carleton and many old friends will learn of his death with much regret.
A family of two sons and five daughters survive, they are Albert E., proprietor of Windsor Hall; Ernest, in St. Louis; Mrs.
Fred Burpee, Jacksonville, Carleton county; Mrs. D. R. Pierce, Providence (R. I.); Mrs. J. J. Leatham, Wintrop (Mass.);
Mrs. Ward Burpee, Woodstock, and Miss Carrie Everett, of Norwiche (Conn.). He also leaves two brothers, Zebulon K. and Alfred Everett of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Julia Thompson, of Danver (Col.).
The funeral will probably take place on Tuesday.

Capt. F. F. Uniacke

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 13.—A profound impression was created in Halifax today when it was learned that Franklyn Fitzgerald Uniacke, captain in the Royal Canadian Regiment, was dead. He had been a pall-bearer at the funeral of Major O'Donovan, last Saturday.
Capt. Uniacke's death was the result of an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy. Four days before, during the mild weather, he went out without his overcoat and caught cold. It developed into pneumonia, the progress of which was rapid and death came this morning.

Mr. Uniacke was the son of the late Rev.
J. J. Uniacke, once rector of St. George's church, Halifax. He went to South Africa with the 8th C. M. S. as adjutant to Col.
Irving. Previously he had been captain in the 60th P. L. R. His brother is a lieutenant in the Liverpool Regiment. He was a graduate of Kingston Military College and twenty-nine years old.

William Rossiter

William Rossiter, an employee in Ready's brewery, Fairville, and a life long resident of that suburb, died on Friday from gauging. So far as is known only one son, who is a railroad engineer in some part of the western States, survives. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from D. Fitzpatrick's undertaking rooms to the cathedral, where Rev. A. W. Mea-han read the service. Interment was in the old St. George's cemetery.

Mrs. Ernest F. Bissett

A sad death was that of Mrs. Ernest F. Bissett, which took place on Saturday.
Mrs. Bissett had been sick for about a year, but was a young woman, and her death came as a great shock to her many friends. She was born in Lynn and besides her husband and two small children, leaves no relatives here.
Her funeral will be held today.

John Rhea

John Rhea, a well known merchant in this city died this morning at half past three o'clock at his residence 18 Mill street. Mr. Rhea had been ill only since Friday and his death, which was caused by heart failure will be learned with regret by his many friends.
Mr. Rhea came to this city about 17 years ago from Pennsylvania and since that time has resided here. He first opened up a grocery business in the old Richley building on Water street and conducted it about two years when he engaged in the liquor business. Later he bought out the Fitzpatrick store on Union street, where he conducted a liquor business for some years. About five years ago he bought a property on Mill street and built a store and residence thereon. Since building he was engaged in the liquor business on Mill street and for a time also conducted the business on Union street which he finally sold to J.
McGuire.

Mr. Rhea married a Miss Lawlor, a daughter of William Lawlor, of Brookville, who was engaged in the time business for years.
Mr. Rhea was born in Yorkshire, England, and intended returning to the old country in the spring.

Robert Lowerson

SACKVILLE, Jan. 12.—The death of Robert Lowerson occurred last evening at the home of Ernest Carter, after a week's illness of apoplexy. Deceased was sixty-six years old, a son of the late Nathan Lowerson. He was a very able person, and possessed of more than ordinary ability and his death is a distinct loss to the community. Funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon. Rev. B.
N. Nobles will officiate.

A LITTLE GIRL'S COMPLAINT

Twelve-year-old Annie Ferris tearfully complained at the north end police station on Saturday evening that a man had chased her and used indecent language to her; and as a result Robert McDonald was arrested by Sergeant Kilpatrick and Policeman Corbett. McDonald is 44 years of age and was employed on the dredge Galveston.
The police say that McDonald had been annoying young girls during the afternoon hours on the street and making improper proposals. Some girls, who were coasting, they said, were chased by him.

THE REVOLUTION IS OVER

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, Jan. 12.—A despatch received here from Honduras says that the president of Honduras has informed the president of Nicaragua that the Honduran revolutionary general, Dionisio Gutierrez, and a number of his companions have been captured and dispatched to the United States by Nicaraguan authorities and the revolution is therefore at an end.

A SILK MILL BURNED

PATTERSON, N. J., Jan. 12.—Fire tonight damaged the Doherty silk mill to the extent of about $50,000, covered by insurance. The firemen in fighting the blaze strove several lines of hose across the Erie railway tracks. Thousands of commuters on their way home from work were subjected to a delay of about two hours.

The Greatest of All Clothing Sales Is Now On At Oak Hall

Saturday the greatest January Clothing Sale ever held in St. John opened with a rush and a crush at Oak Hall. From 8 o'clock in the morning until 11 at night the store was crammed jammed full of eager buyers—and all this in face of the fact that nearly all the other stores in the city were crying sales.

Our first duty is to make apology to those who could not be waited upon promptly.
With many special salesmen added to our regular force, it was at times impossible to give customers immediate attention. We will, however, be prepared for you this week with extra additions to our special force of sales people, and can safely promise more satisfactory service. We feel, however, that this shortcoming will be readily excused when account is taken of the amount of business done.

It would appear that the public are looking into the matter very carefully, and buying Clothing and Furnishings only after thorough investigation.

The secret of the great success of the sale is not in the extent of the savings alone. The character of the Clothing and the vast stocks are very important factors.

Sale Continues All This Week. COME!
