TELLS OF PEACE TIME OBJECTS OF RED CROSS

Dr. J. L. Biggar Addresses Meeting of Canadian Club and Gyros

A comprehensive exposition of the peace time work of the Red Cross was given here today by Dr. J. L. Biggar, chief commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, at a combined luncheon of the Canadian and Gyro clubs in the Admiral Beatty Hotel at noon.

Dr. Biggar said that his mission here was to broadcast the peace time work of the Red Cross Society. He pointed out that the Red Cross was fixed in peoples minds in connection with war work. The value and benefit of such work as was done during the war was of such importance that it was decided still to carry it on and should not be allowed to lapse. The work was a campaign for health, being sanctioned under the covenant of the League of Nations, the aims being to work for the improvement of health, mitigation of diseases and prevention of suffering.

He elaborated on the work of the society towards the objectives and placed it under three heads, viz: Junior Red Cross, public health nursing and home nursing teaching.

FOR VETERANS
He also referred to the work of the society being carried out for the former soldiers and spoke enthusiastically of the efforts being made in this direction. He also referred to the laudatory manner in which the Red Cross in welcoming immigrants to Canada. He said that this was a real advantage to the country and an evidence of the interest Canadians took in new members of the nation.

Dr. Biggar is on a tour of the Maritime Provinces and will go to Fredericton tomorrow to attend the quarterly meeting of the N. B. Division of the Red Cross there. He will speak again on Friday at a luncheon given by the Saint John branch of the Red Cross to the heads of the various organizations in charge of general relief work here.

As Hiram Sees It

"Do you blame him?" queried the reporter.

"Suppose you were in his place?"

"Well, now, mebbe they is somethin' in that," said Hiram. "I guess you must be a Rotarian. Service above self—what?"

"Just so," said the reporter.

"Well," said Hiram, "that never come into my mind when that afore daylight—'an' after daylight I got him."

"You have at least the consolation that he died happy," observed the reporter.

"An' he'll never be missed," said Hiram.

"I have no doubt he will be amply revenged," said the reporter.

"That's what I'm worrying about," said Hiram—"his ain't no Rotary musketeers."

MILES IN CITY AFTER LOSING MELROSE RACE

Blames Food He Ate at Noon for Putting Him Out of Running

Improper food eaten at noon before the ten mile race at Melrose, Mass., recently was blamed by Johnny Miles, of Sydney Mines, for his collapse in that race. He passed through the city today in company with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Miles, en route to his home. He said that he was now in good condition and expected his next race to be at Halifax on July 1, when a ten mile race would be staged.

Speaking of the race in Melrose, which was won by Stenroos, Miles said that at the hotel where he was staying he could not secure the food he required. He had ordered some eggs, which proved not very fresh and as a result he felt out of sorts even before the contest started, being sick in his dressing room. He said that he could have finished the race and staggered across the line if his father had not stopped him. He is full of confidence, however, and said that he had learned a lesson in regard to food.

Mr. Miles, the father, when asked as to his proposed removal to the United States to reside, said that he and his son had been offered positions there but as yet he was undecided. If his own province did not use him as he considered right he might go to Hamilton, Ont., where he had received an offer of a position.

DEMAR DECLINES

The party were accompanied as far as Sussex by George Sprague, the local distance man, who also will compete in the Halifax race. Efforts were made to have Clarence DeMar come down for the race but the latter said he would not come for a 10 mile race, preferring a longer event.
