Foreign Policy Urged

London, Sept. 27.—J. Saxon Mills, barrister, formerly of the Daily News editorial staff and a former editor of the Cape Times, Cape Town, South Africa, addressing the Royal Colonial Institute and reviewing the Imperial conferences from their inception in 1857 urged the paramount necessity of an early and satisfactory settlement of the question of Great Britain's foreign policy. He declared that the moment the dominions began appointing independent ministers in foreign capitals, the British Empire would cease to exist as a distinct political organization.

There is a bad wound in the head and several severe injuries about the body. His condition is very grave.

Refuses Marriage

New York, Sept. 27—When John Demonte, 19, who pleaded guilty a week ago to having robbed a tool shed, came before Judge Burt J. Humphrey in Queens County Court the Judge asked him if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed. Demonte's attorney stepped forward and said:

"I have been asked by the mother and sweetheart of this boy to request that you defer sentence just long enough to marry him and his sweetheart, who is now in the coust room." Judge Humphrey was taken back by the request and then replied: "This boy has committed a serious crime and is liable to a long jail sentence, and I do not feel that I want to tie any woman to a I want to tie any woman to a criminal for life." Branch Of Bank Of Nova Scotia At Toronto Held Up By Robbers

Toronto, Sept. 27.—Three men entered the St. Clair Avenue West branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia this afternoon, held up the manager, teller and two lady customers who were in the office, scooped all available money from the teller's counter into a big black bag, and got clean away. The amount taken by the bandits is at present unknown.

Leroy Oke, manager of the branch, was hit on the head with a revolver when he attempted to resist. He recovered as the bandits were going out and with blood streaming from his wounds he chased the fleeing men down the street. A few blocks away, however, they mounted a standing

The action of the German Von Kahr as military dictator of Bavaria was received.

Action Unexpected.

Bavarla's action was wholly unexpected and the Government leaders were at first at a loss to account for it. Although it was not viewed as a studied affront to the central Government, the manner in which it was launched nevertheless was construed as a piece of censorial criticism of the way in which the Berlin Government had called off passive resistance in the Ruhr. This view prevailed despite assertions from Bavaria that her measures were wholly prompted by the suspicious activities of the guards of Adolph Hitler, the National Socialist leader and their allied organizations.

Official opinion in Berlin inclines to the belief that Dr. Von Kahr will be fully able to cope with the situation in Bavaria and that the outbreak there is unlikely to extend beyond the Bavarian frontiers, despite the noisy agitation of the factions classed as "superpatriots" whose fighting strength is asserted to be grossly over-estimated.

The Von Knilling Government in Bavaria is believed here to be able to rely on the Bavarian police, and in an emergency it would also receive the support of the Reichswehr formations garrisoned in Bavaria.

Damming of Belle Isle Strait Feasible But Likely Very

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 27.—The territory and people in the vicinity of the Strait of Belle Isle have been affected very much by the abnormally cold summer season just closed, according to Captain A. E. Calder of the Dominion Biological Department, here in the little auxiliary schooner Prince, from a surveying trip of several weeks in the north.

Captain Calder said it would be feasible to dam Belle Isle Strait but the expense would be enormous, and a dam to stand the great pressure of currents and drift ice might have to be three miles thick. The result, in his opinion, would be of a mixed nature. The climate of the Maritimes would probably be much warmer, and the

The climate of the Maritimes would probably be much warmer, and the Gulf of St. Lawrence navigable all winter, but the influx of warm water to the gulf would probably drive away most of the cold water fish, such as cod, and compel a re-organization of the whole of the Maritime fishing industry. Another result would probably be to give that portion of the Gulf next to the dam 40 foot tides of the "bore" or tidal wave variety, similar to those of the Bay of Fundy.
