GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

Rudyard Kipling's Stirling Story of America And "The East Indies, Naulahka"—Two Comedies

Rudyard Kipling's powerful story, "The Naulahka," is the holiday feature at the Gem tonight in six gripping reels full of the breeze of the western states and the mysticism of the East Indies—the story of the search for a marvellous jewel by an American. There are gorgeous scenes in the Indian prince's palace. The story is powerful and commands close attention. Antonio Moreno, a noted Spanish dancer, plays the lead. Two snappy comedies, "The Prairie Heiress" and "Two Gun Quacks," supply the lighter vein. Tonight at 7.15 and 8.45. Five and ten cents.

IMPERIAL TONIGHT WILL HAVE GREAT BILL

Imperial Theatre will have wonderfully good pictorial and musical entertainment for the holiday-makers this evening after they return from their holiday jaunts. Norma Talmadge is to be seen in the prettiest society play she has yet done—"By Right of Purchase"—a story of loveless marriage made happy in the crucible of trouble and wartime heroism. There will be a drawing comedy, the fourth chapter of the History of the Great War, dealing with Russia; Mutt and Jeff, and the great Australian initiators and pianists, artists La Mer Brothers of Melbourne, whose act was a great hit Saturday.

HOLIDAY NIGHT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

A good way to spend the holiday evening is to take in the splendid vaudeville programme at the Opera House. Five big feature acts, with good music, lively dancing, lots of comedy—just the right kind of an entertainment to make you forget your troubles and have an evening of pure enjoyment. Everybody says this week's programme is one of the best of the season—you will agree with them after seeing it. Two performances tonight at 7.30 and 9.15. Tickets are still being sold—many good ones remaining—at the Imperial lobby.

TOMORROW'S BIG MUSICAL EVENT

Details are completed for the artistic musical evening in the Imperial tonight under the auspices of Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. D. E. The big sale of tickets assures an appreciative and stylish audience and the public is going to receive a wonderful surprise in scenic gorgeousness. Imperial Theatre's permanent stage decorations are the finest ever seen in these parts and their inaugural by the patriotic method of the employed Tuesday will be a fitting tribute to the cause from that theatre in conjunction with the I. O. D. E. operations. Tickets are still being sold—many good ones remaining—at the Imperial lobby.

GRAND OPENING SPECIAL

The Imperial's mid-summer opening takes place Wednesday, when the gorgeous new Japanese garden stage setting will be used for pictorial purposes for the first time. The picture imported specially for this extraordinary occasion is to be Lois Webber's latest startling success, "The Doctor and the Woman," a pietization of Mary Roberts Rinehart's Saturday Evening Post story "K." It is a companion picture to "The Price of a Good Time."

MISSION CHURCH

Rev. H. E. Bennett, assisting priest at the Mission church of St. John Baptist, Paradise row, celebrated the Holy Eucharist in the Mission church yesterday for his first time. While he has been assisting Rev. J. V. Young for the last two weeks, yesterday marked the first occasion which he officiated at the altar. He conducted services in Hampton on the two Sundays just previous.

FULL STEAM AHEAD

(From the closing Saturday night sermon in The Churchmen, by Rev. George T. Dowling, D. D.)

"Who is this uncircumcised Philistine that he should despise the arms of the living God? This is who he is. I heard in Plymouth church, Brooklyn, the Hon. E. F. O'Connor say: 'Soon after the war began, I refused to believe the stories of German atrocities. I felt that they must be exaggerations, until an intimate friend related to me his experience in Brussels. She said, 'I went to the office in command' told him of the halles I had seen dying for want of milk, and begged permission to collect a fund to help them. While I spoke he impatiently twirled his mustache, and then with arrogance and contempt exclaimed: 'Madame, what you ask is not only impossible but absurd. Remember, that to a German soldier every man, woman and child is the enemy!'"

We ourselves could not believe such things. We did not. But did not then know that in the handbook of military tactics, published in 1921 by the general staff of the German army, its very opening sentence was this: 'Terrorism becomes a principle made necessary by military considerations.' We did not then know that on page 29 of that book these words are met: 'A war conducted with energy cannot be directed merely against the combatants of the enemy state, but must in like manner seek to destroy the total intellectual and material resources of the latter.'"

At last German stands revealed, exactly as she is—Kaiser and people alike. Now we know what was in her loyal, pitiful soul when she commenced this war. Now we know that it was all a part of her well-defined plan, thought out during forty years, that as a method of warfare, breaking every treaty and disregarding every law of Christian civilization, she should bayonet babies, and rape young girls, and crucify nuns, and practice such mutilations on men that these can be spoken of, even among men, only in whispers.

And as surely as God lives, whether it shall take one year or ten years to accomplish it, she shall pay for the evil that she has wrought, to the last drop of her rotten blood.

These then are my closing words to you: Whatever it may mean in personal sacrifice, in the loss of money, or in the death of those whom you most dearly love, for the sake of your country, for the sake of humanity, for the sake of the religion of the Holy Christ, for the sake of all that you hold most precious and most sacred—Full Steam Ahead!

He Did His Best

Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska remarked at a social gathering that when one was doing his best it was all that could be expected of him, and contributed the following story as an illustration:

One afternoon little Jimmy was invited to take tea with a chum, and he returned home he found his mother anxiously waiting for him.

"I hope, Jimmy," said the mother, after listening to sundry details of the affair, "that you remembered to wash your hands before you went to the table."

"We were called in so quickly," answered Jimmy, "that I didn't have time to wash but one."

"Wash but one?" exclaimed his mother with much concern. "What did you do?"

"Why, I ate with that one!" was the reassuring reply of Jimmy, "and kept the other in my pocket!"—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.
