WILL MEN go to the kitchen when women go to the polls?

Will Men go to the kitchen when women iron and scrub and darn?

It might be almost worth while to have a man do these things if he would only dress as attractively as a woman does when the work is done.

Anything that would keep the average man from looking like the average tramp would be well worth while. And, if making him the housery for six hours of the whole of the skull the average tramp would be well worth while. And, if making him has been proported to the general public. The ground scientific delection the completed with a surface of the skull be capted as a fattled and reliable impossible to be savants and students may examine them, however.

Now there are some thousands of you men reading this little tirade today and it will only occur to about half of you that you are the one being talked about.

You won't look down at your own baggy pants; you won't stop to think of your own shaggy shirt and frayed collars; it will never occur to you that your own splay-shoes are under discussion.

You will probably stop for a moment and say, "That's so; American men are a pretty shabby lot as a matter of fact."

But you are the one we are talking to. They are your pants and your shirts and ties and shoes that are under discussion.

So, suppose you take the lecture to heart and resolve to reform.

The advertising in this paper will show you the way. There is everything here that will convert you into a well-dressed man. Column after column of this advertising news is waiting for you now.

Only a Model is Shown The Public — Big Teeth and Small Brain — Earliest Remains Ever Found

(London Daily Mail)

The grinning skull of the oldest woman in the world is now beneath a glass case in the large central hall of the Natural History Museum at South Kensington for all the world to see.

It was the discovery of the fragmentary remains of this skull that sent such a thrill of excitement throughout the scientific world in the late autumn of last year. Charles Dawson, F.S.A., unearthed it from a pit at Plitdown Common, Sussex, in which he had been engaged in geological excavation for several years, and a great company of distinguished professors gathered at the meeting of the Geological Society at which the discoverey was first made public.

It is not an object of beauty, even as

NEW CENTURY PUDDING

One cupful suet, chopped fine, 1 cupful sugar, 1 cupful milk, 8 cupfuls flour, 2 eggs, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1 teaspoonful baking powder. Mix suet, sugar and yolks of eggs together. Add salt, baking powder and spice to flour, and add to mixture alternately with the milk; then add well beaten whites of eggs. Lastly add one to two cups of fruit, boil steadily in greased mould for three hours or in pound baking powder cans (three of them) for 1 1-2 hours. For fruit use raisins, currants, citron, dates, figs, or French fruits, cherries and pincapple, also nuts, either one kind or several in combination thus making a variety.

dividual was right-handed—another iten in the chain of evidence proving the skull to be of the human species.

There can be little doubt that the Piltdown woman's remains are the earliest yet disentombed. They are olde than the fragments found at Neander tal, in Prussia, in 1856, or even than the jaw found at Heidelberg, in Germany in 1907. Some scientists, Professo Klaatsch among them, hold that the primitive type was driven back and extirpated by a higher race of many which existed contemporaneously with the contemporaneously
