

The class-rooms are spacious and well lighted, each bedroom is furnished for one or two boys, and the whole building throughout is heated by steam and ventilated by large exhaust fans driven by electric motors at the base of tall ventilating shafts. The system of lighting is the Edison Incandescent Electric Light generated by large dynamos. The plumbing is of the most modern description and the drainage perfect.

The School is divided into six Forms, in the highest of which the boys are prepared for Honor Matriculation in the different Universities and Colleges.

Boys intended for business are given a thorough grounding in the English and Mathematical subjects of the regular courses together with French and German, and such branches of a practical business education as may be, from time to time, considered expedient.

Prizes are awarded by the Board for merit in the different Forms.—In addition, special medals and prizes are annually presented by different friends of the College.
