Northesk, 125 Southeak, . Gienelg, ... Hardwick, 200

Coun. Kerr explained that Rogersville's assessment seemed large, but it was bemade no return for last year and the committee had been obliged to make the amount for this year large enough to cover all possible demands, and if it turned out to be more than the parish should fairly pay due credit would be given for the surplus next year.

Coun. Bransfield moved that Hardwick's assessment be reduced to $100, because of the pauper, Margaret McLaughlin, whose case has been so fully discussed at previ vious councils, not being properly charge-able to that parish. He said the commissioners had admitted that this person did not belong to Hardwick, and the Commissioner for Alnwick, Mr. Simpson, had been instructed to obtain proof that she was not chargeable to his parish, but he had failed to do so. It seemed that she belonged to neither Alnwick nor Hardwick and, in the end, would be a county that parish. Coun. Haves said the matter ought to be properly investigated, as councillors were here to prevent unnecessary taxa members in regard to the appointment he thought all would agree that the temperance people, who had done a good deal of work in carrying out the Act ought to mine the matter.
