C. P. R.'S GREAT EARNINGS.

The Canadian Pacific railway earnings for the month of October constitute another undoubted bullish argument. The increase for the month comes within $25,000 of the half million dollar mark, which is certainly a remarkable showing, especially considering the fact that the earnings from month to month have been recording increases of a similar nature. For the ten months ending the first the gain in earnings over the same period last year has been $1,739,587.

The constant cry of the rioters was, "Down with the Germans;" "Down with the Jews."

Ladies venturing on the streets were obliged to wear Slav tricolor in order to avoid being attacked. German sign-boards are being hastily removed by their orders and replaced with Czech inscriptions. Nobody dares to utter a word in German.

It is now known that the number of injured Germans reaches three hundred. They are being cared for at the various hospitals.

The disturbances today have amounted almost to a rebellion. Thousands of Czechish miners streamed into Prague this avening from the sur-

A TERRIER'S REVENCE. noned His Faithful Friend and

This dog story was told to a reporter by a lady who vouches for its accuracy. Remarkable as it is, she affirms that it is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truh:

Am up the state family had two dogs—a bulldog and a black and tambetween which there existed every evidence of deep friendship. The family went into the country one summer some sixteen miles from home. They took the black and tamwith them, but left his companion at home. They had not been established in their summer quarters more than a few days before the small dog had managed to pick a quarrel with a reighbor's buildog, in which the black and tan got much the worse of the argument, so much so that when he disappeared after the battle his owners were much worried. They searched high and low, but no trace of that small dog could be found.

The next morning there was seen coming up the road side by side the black and tan and his faithful companion, the buildog, from home. The two marched straight past the hotel where the family were staying and hatted in front of the home of the black and tan's enemy. In some inknown manner the country buildog was summoned, and immediately his

TRISH LONGEVITY.

The people of Ireland would appear to be a long-lived race. The last census returns of 1891 showed that there were over five hundred centenarians in the country in that year. These figures give an average of about seventeen to each county. It is rather a sad thing to think that most of these old people are inmates of the workhouse, but against that it speaks well for the against that, it speaks well for the care taken of them in these much-abused institutions. The oldest person in Ireland is said to be Mrs. Anne Armstrong of Miltown Malby, Co. Clare, who is reputed to be 117 years age. She lives in her own cottage, at Spanish point, and is still wonderfully active. She occupies herself in knitting, and often takes her pail to well for water, a distance of some

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—The Star's special correspondent in London cables "While Fleiting was in London cables "While Fleiting was in London, Lord Farrer sought a conference with him on the temdeactes of the Canadian policy. The result is seen in the Cobden club report today, wherein it is stated that he is satisfied that the Canadian government has inspired a genuine desire to advance on the lines of free exchange as far and rapidly as possible and consistent with a prudent regard of difficulties greated by the long rule of the communications protective system.

English comment on the reduction of Canadian postage is summed up in a sentence: This is the beginning and a sentence: This is the beginning and the end of a long battle for imperial postage unity. If Canada, with a small revenue, risks so much to create a new link in a chain of the empire, how can England hesitate to cooperate? The question, however, arises whether the international postal union, of which Canada and England are members will not prevent the recommendation. are members, will not prevent the reduction of the present rates without Canada's action will probably force the hands of the British post office and exchequer as the new tariff forced the hands of the foreign office in respect to treatles with Germany and Belgium.

LEO'S WONDERFUL MEMORY

It is the Western Australia mission that the Salvationists find peculiarly hard. An alluvial rush takes place, and for some weeks or months gives every sign of stability. Then barracks are erected, and the voice of the lass is heard in the land. Nimble fifer and serbing draman, som fill the fold to is heard in the land. Nimble fifer and serious drummer soon fill the fold to bursting. But the lead peters out, and the ground will not pay, and the folk will not stay. To continue singing in a deserted digg gs is a depressing calling. To meet this drawback, movable barracks have been invented, so that when a rush seus in for a fresh place the leading diggers on looking behind can see a peripatetic Zion hobbling after.—Silney Mail.
