OUTLON WAS THREATENED

Received Letter Telling Him of Threats to Murder Him. Writer Warned Outlon Against Tom London—Outlon Badly Frightened—Mrs. Wells Read Letter—Police Conference Last Night.

Though nothing has yet been discovered to throw a definite light upon the Outlon mystery, the Sun is in possession of information that promises startling revelations, and which at least should serve to direct public suspicion for a time from the direction of Gillespie.

Following a rumor that letters of a significantly threatening nature had been discovered around the Outlon house, a Sun reporter was led to the residence of Mrs. Wells, 83 Elmwood street, who lived in the mis-er's house from November, 1900, to April 15, 1901, and asked her if any such had been received by Mr. Outlon during her stay.

"Yes, her was," she said. "I remember one perfectly. It came some time in March the last year I was there (1901). I don't exactly remember the date, though I know it was there (1901). I don't exactly remember the date, though I know it was there (1901)."

TO MURDER HIM. She told him to look out for himself. "What did Mr. Outlon think of that," asked the reporter.

"He was scared to death. All the rest of the time I was there he was frightened to be left alone, and used to get very nervous whenever I went out. He fully believed that London was looking for his life, for he said that he had heard of other threats from the same man. He told me that London had stolen some money and a horse from him some time before, for which Outlon had a warrant issued, and he was looking for London."

THE FRIGHT IT AROUSED IN HIM. She said she had told him to put the letter away, but that something happened to him she did not want to be accused of having any hand in it.

"He put the letter in a big box in which he kept receipts and bills and things. It was wrapped up with several papers, and he told Detective Killen about it, and he said he would look for it. I don't know whether he has found it or not."

The police are very reticent about the matter and will not admit that the letter has been discovered answering the description given them by Mrs. Wells.

THOMAS LONDON, whose name was mentioned in the warning letter, has been living up river of late, but is now in the city at the home of his sister on Cheesley street.

A POLICE CONFERENCE. Last evening there was a conference at Chief of Police's office. Present were the chief, Detective Killen, Sergts. Hastings, Kipatnick and W. H. Trueman, representing the attorney general, were present.

At Van Wert a funnel shaped cloud dropped down on the town. The high wind blew down houses and barns and uprooted large trees. Several people were injured, but no one killed.

GRANTED A DECREE

Portland, Me., April 30.—Judge Peabody of the superior court this morning granted a divorce to Lucy Myers from Henry L. Myers. The ground stated for the granting of the decree was "cruel and abusive treatment."

She is a Roman Catholic, and is of French descent. She was married while still very young, hardly more than a child in fact, in 1884, to Peter Martell. They did not live together very long, and he sought and obtained a divorce.

Mr. Martell did not remarry, but his wife was later married to Henry L. Myers. They lived together for some time, but her conscience troubled her, and at last she went to the late Bishop Healy of this diocese and told him her history.

The bishop kindly but firmly told her that her first marriage was the only one the church could in any way recognize, and that in the eyes of the church her marriage to Mr. Myers was illegal.

BLACK DEEDS.

Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts Enters a Solemn Protest Against the Water Cure and Other American Debaucheries in the Philippines.

BOSTON, May 1.—The proceedings of the 117th annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts began yesterday morning in Trinity church, and were concluded with a missionary meeting in Emmanuel church in the evening.

The ninth annual address was delivered by Bishop Lawrence. Speaking of the treatment of the Philippines by our soldiers, he said it behooved the church to utter solemn protest against it.

"During the past few months vague rumors and well-authenticated reports of cruel treatment of the Filipino insurgents by our soldiers have been passing through the press and mail. Within the past few weeks there have been made by responsible men, by soldiers and officials of the government, statements of cruel and barbarous treatment of the natives by our soldiers, acting under orders of superior officers, of methods of warfare which are condemned by civilized nations and are contrary to the regulations of our army, such as have confirmed our worst fears and sent a shock of horror throughout the land."

"It behooves the church to speak, and in the name of the Master and of humanity to utter her solemn protest. This in behalf of the diocese I now do. Against the background of the splendid work that is being done by our government for the education and uplifting of the Philippines, these deeds sink on a blacker hue than any that have been the provocation in some instances, hard as were the conditions, treacherous as may have been the enemy, this people, we believe, will not countenance cruel or barbarous modes of warfare with even an inferior people."

"Were we to do so, the worst punishment would fall upon ourselves in hardened natures and pitiless tempers. Consumed as such acts are by the people, I sincerely believe that they are even more keenly regretted and condemned by the rank and file of our army. For not only is the country's honor at stake, but their honor as soldiers is in jeopardy."

"Again, I express my confidence that, regardless of party issues and questions of political policy, the members of our national administration, who are more intelligent as to the condition of the Philippines, and who are more justly and more wisely than we are, will convince the Philippines as well as the people of this country that our work in those islands is not to degrade, but to uplift; not to kill, but to make alive."

"One mistake might be made under the pressure of an indignant people, the people of this country to shame, it would be the hasty and unjust punishment of men who had not been proven guilty. With witnesses and accused separated by an ocean and a continent, justice cannot be meted out. We must add dignity to shame, if we are to have the confidence of the people in the administration in its efforts to redeem the fair name of this nation."

The following resolutions, reported by the special committee, were presented by Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks:

"Resolved, That we solemnly charge that barbarities condemned by all Christian peoples have been committed upon the natives of the Philippine Islands by soldiers of the army of the United States; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we place upon record our abhorrence of such atrocious deeds, and in the name of the diocese of Massachusetts we deny the responsibility of the American people for such criminal wickedness. Be it further

"Resolved, That we confidently rely upon the president of the United States, as a just and God-fearing man, to prosecute and punish those who may be found guilty of such atrocities, and to prevent their recurrence anywhere within the jurisdiction of the United States."
