The plan would be to run the large steamers as express boats to Fredericton touching only at one or two places en route. The smaller craft would be used

The model of the successor to the Springfield for the Bellisle route is completed, and the keel will be laid shortly at Marsh bridge. The boat will be 142 feet long. Albert County Scott Act Matter.

Hopewell Hill, Nov. 18—That Fred. G. Logie, druggist, of Riverside, who was recently convicted of a violation of the Canada temperance act, has the sympathy of the temperance people generally is pretty strongly demonstrated by the following resolution, with which Mr. Logie has been presented:—Whereas, Mr. Fred. G. Logie, druggist, of Riverside, has been convicted and fined for a violation of the Scott act:
Whereas, the violation, through a breach of the letter of the law, is in no way an infringement of its spirit, the offences charged being merely acts of kindness, as shown by the evidence; and Whereas, the cause of temperance is being seriously injured by such prosecution, and in consideration of the fact that if the magistrate had been permitted to use his discretion, as we believe the act contemplates, there would have been no conviction, and furthermore because Mr. Logie is himself a man of strong temperance principles; Therefore we, the undersigned, desire to express our strong disapproval of the prosecution and conviction made, by contributing to a fund to reimburse Mr. Logie for the fine to which he has been subjected.

This resolution bore the signatures of 103 residents.

Mr. Logie, in response, has presented the under the Canada temperance act. I wish aloo, as a comparative stranger, to congratulate the people upon having taken a stand which will make friends, instead of enemies, for a law which has many bitter opponents. I may say that I have been brought up to respect the Scott act, that I do respect it, and mean to do all I can to have it upheld. Very truly yours,

"RED. G. LOGIB.

The case against Mr. Logie attracted considerable attention, and was at first dismissed by the stipendiary magistrate, but on being appealed, was sent back, with instructions that the accused be put on his defence. The magistrate, in recording a conviction, but that the spirit of the law, he considered, had not been broken. The evidence produced showed the two facts, first, that on one occasion double the amount of liquor called for by prescription had been forwarded at the request of a lady at a distance, whose husband was in a dying condition; and second, that a small quantity of alcohol had been sold to a school teacher without a certificate, the teacher afterward testifying that the alcohol had been used only for burning in a spirit lamp.

What Mr. Hubbard's New Position Means The Canadian Pacific railway's latest movement in developing local business is to appoint a representative whose terri-tory will extend over the Atlantic divistory will extend over the Atlantic division of the road and through this province generally, and whose duty is educative. The C. P. R.'s idea is to show the stock raisers of the province what, from the railroad's standpoint, is the best class of live stock to grow and for this work a most capable man has been secured in W. W. Hubbard, manager of the recent exhibition. Mr. Hubbard will work in harmony with the provincial department of agriculture, and the dominion life stock commissioner.

mony with the provincial department of agriculture, and the dominion life stock commissioner.

At the present time the agriculturalists of this province raise principally Jersey cows which, as dairy cattle, meet all requirements, but the C. P. R.'s belief is that another breed of animal can be raised which will give a much better satisfaction for dairy purposes and will be better as a beef producer. Mr. Hubbard will travel through the country and will hold meetings at which the idea will be promulgated and information given.

His work will be much along the same general lines as that of the C. P. R.'s colonization agents, who have been laboring in the New Ontario district for the past 18 or 20 years. Western railroads have adopted the plan with much success. Speaking of the plan last night, Superintendent Oborne said the idea was a cooperative one, and while the agent's efforts would be expected to develop business for the C. P. R., yet the province and people would benefit as greatly from his work. "In the opinion of Well informed people, the province of New Brunswick has made good progress in agricultural development during recent years," said Mr. Oborne, "and the appointment of a C. P. R. agricultural agent will be an assistance to the government. He will pay particular attention to the commercial phase of the science of agriculture."
