[From the Maritime Monthly for May.]

Ere long, ere long the flowers will blow,
Upon the turf that o'er thee lies,
And birds will sing as if of woe
There were no dwelling 'neath the skies,
Again to bloom the hills will wake,
The meadow and the shadowy leas—
The lilies dream on yon still lake,
And murmur soft the summer Seas:
But sweetest songs and brightest dyes,
And days that come and days that go,
And tides that ebb and tides that flow,
To those that rest the turf below
Bring naught of pleasure or surprise.

Thou hast escaped the din and care
That vex the souls of pilgrims here;
The fruitless struggle—the despair—
The longing vague—the haunting fear;
And yet we mourn since thou art not,
Though, questionless, 'tis well with thee,
And water with our tears the spot
Where thou dost sleep so tranquilly:
But anguished sighs and bitter tears,
And days that come and days that go,
And tides that ebb and tides that flow,
Bring naught to thee of joy or woe,
Beyond the clash of hastening Years.

H. L. SPENCER.

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

An Atlanta "firm" has named its most popular brand of whisky after a female crusader.

Singularly enough the legislator in Illinois who has refused to receive pay for 24 days during which he was absent is named Green.

A crowd witnessing a row in Detroit was dispersed by the announcement that "a collection would now be taken up for a poor widow."

John Spinks, barber, of Council Bluff, whose shirt, saturated with blood, was found concealed in a shed near his residence, has been heard from by his creditors. He is in Nevada, and not in the other place.

A new dodge of dead beats at the West is to quarter themselves on a farm for a week or so, under pretense of buying it. Then they leave for the purpose of getting the purchase money, and never come back any more.

The most thoroughly burned-out-of-house and-home man in the United States is Charles Williams of Portland, Maine. Seven times during the past year has his residence been consumed. He now proposes to build a raft and live on a pond.

The lady who has been married eight times, has eight living husbands, and resides with none of them, and whose daughter, aged 23 years, has had three husbands—this lady is the ornament and glory of Douglas County, Oregon.

At Glasgow, Ky., is Edward Chambers, aged 30 months, and weighing 118 pounds. The very calf of his leg is 18 inches in circumference. He has a most expensive appetite, and his parents, being poor, are much bothered to keep up his rations.

A squad of young men thought it excellent fun, in Money Creek, Ill., to "charivari" a newly married couple; but the views of the performers changed the next morning when the judge requested each of them to pass over $10 or go to jail.

Henry Ward Beecher declines the six months' vacation proffered him by Plymouth Church. He says that so long an absence would be irksome to him and unjust to those who have paid high prices for pews. He will not go to England, and will take only his usual vacation of three months on his farm next summer.

A school teacher in DeWitt County, Ill., has introduced a new method of punishment into his school. When one of the girls misses a word the lad who spells it has permission to kiss her. The Clinton Public says: "The result is that the girls are fast forgetting all they ever knew about spelling, while the boys are improving with wonderful rapidity."

In Algonquin, Illinois, six skeletons were found in digging for the foundation of a house. Twenty years ago the then out-of-the-way place was the headquarters of a gang of counterfeiters, who often quarrelled and fought among themselves. The surmise is that the six skeletons are those of counterfeiters killed by their companions.

In response to a letter from Thurlow Weed urging the recognition of the act of Sir Lambton Lorraine of the British frigate Niobe in interfering to save the lives of the Virginius captives at Santiago de Cuba, a resolution was offered by Representative Cox on Saturday and referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee tendering him the thanks of Congress. Members of the Committee say that the resolution will no doubt be reported favorably.

The signal service has been doing a good work recently, in connection with the present overflow of the Lower Mississippi, by announcing several days in advance the approach of each of the three great floods that have successively moved from Cairo to New Orleans since April 1, sweeping away, in their resistless course, vital proportions of the protecting levees. Special warnings were telegraphed to the threatened points and ample time given for action by the inhabitants as judgment and a knowledge of the danger seemed to justify.

GENERAL.

A German tribunal at Saverne has condemned in contumaciam and imposed with a heavy fine the Bishop of Nancy, for his charge to the clergy issued last July.

Partial returns indicate that the plebiscitum taken on the revision of the Federal Constitution of Switzerland, has resulted in a majority of over 100,000 votes in favor of revision.

Hon. W. F. Palmer and Charles H. Hamm, editors of the Inter-Ocean, were, a few days ago, arrested and placed upon trial for libel upon a dead man. This is a reminder of an annecdote of Lorenzo Dow, who was arrested and fined for speaking too freely in a funeral sermon. On the following Sunday he read from the Bible the story of Dives and Lazarus, and said that he must refrain from comment upon Dives lest that gentleman should have some friends in the congregation who would sue him for libel.

Though many are familiar with the word blackguard, few know its origin. It was given, according to Ben Jonson, to a regiment of low, mean dependents, who hung about the palaces of the great, doing the most menial services, and when they were en route, with pot and pan, coal and ashes, the people said, "There go the black guards."

The news from Peru to the 27th of March shows that all doubts about the new discovery of guano had been set at rest. The Commission of Engineers sent to state the truth about the new deposits say there are at least 8,000,000 tons of guano as good as that of the Chinchas or the Macabi Islands. This wonderful wealth lies north of the river Loa, which divides Peru from Bolivia. Her Britannic Majesty's Steamship Petrel, whose officers examined the matter for themselves, confirm the view taken by the Peruvian Commission.

Another attempt at revolution was made at Lima, Peru, on the 16th of March. The scene occurred in the barracks of Santa Catalina, in that city. The plan of the conspirators was to seize the President, and induce the other regiments to join the movement. An agent of the Government discovered the plot an hour before the time for acting. The ringleaders are in irons. The Ministers of Justice and of Foreign Affairs wished to resign, but President Pardo refused to accept their resignations, as those who opposed the administration offered no new policy by which matters could be mended.

Fine language has generally been a characteristic of persons who are said to live by their wits—that is to say, on other people's; but it is only occasionally that the professional beggar of the rougher kind adds to volubility, grace and purity of speech. One of the exceptions proving this rule is a mendicant who haunts Printing-house Square, New York. His diction is really remarkable, and his pronunciation is better than that of one half of our educated people. The story of his wrongs and mishaps concludes with this flourish of Johnsonianism: "The smallest donation will be thankfully received by the applicant." A man who can shed the lustre of such dignity and modesty on the business of begging ought not to be left unprovided for. He would be an ornament to any profession.

Thoughts on Great Cities.

R v. M. Harvey in Maritime Monthly for May.

One of the most striking features of the age we live in is, that men are getting more and more massed in cities, and that these cities are rapidly enlarging, without any discoverable limits to their growth, and that, from these centres, mighty influences are going forth over the world. In these narrow bounds where humanity is heaped together, vast social and moral forces are at work. Human nature, under outward influences, is here assuming a peculiar type and development; the physical and moral man are moulded in a certain way, and thus the whole social fabric is shaped and influenced. True, indeed, that, in all ages, there have been great cities; but it is only in modern times, with the advance of manufacturing industry, and the expansion of commerce, that their proportions have become gigantic. The application of steam power to manufactures, and the consequent enormous increase of production, has given an immense impetus to the growth of cities and towns; has drawn together from hamlet and village, hill and vale, millions of workers, to earn their daily bread in the factory, the forge, or the workshop; and also attracted myriads to minister to the wants or pleasures of the toilers and traders.

What are we to think of these great sensoriums of our living humanity? What ends are they subserving? Are we to consider them curses or blessings? Are they elevating or depressing in their influences on the human family? These smoke-covered spots, filled with seething humanity from attic to cellar, resounding with the din of labor and traffic, where the battle of life is fought with such fierce intensity, where thought is so active and toil so terrible, and life, in all its forms, so swift and energetic, what a study they furnish to a thoughtful mind? Amid the roar of the crowded street, the clatter of machinery, and the blows falling fast and heavy on the anvil of labor, even a poet might find inspiration and material for song, no less than in the flower-clad vale, or on the heaven-kissing mountain. For these multitudes, rushing along the stony arteries of our great cities, with all their "sins and sorrows," their surging passions, hopes and fears, amid their silks and tatters, and all their extremes of weal and woe, are a part of our humanity on its march onward and upward; and if the poet's imagination could but "body forth" the meaning of all this turmoil, and interpret aright the passions, forces, joys and woes which are urging on the living mass, what a noble poem, inspiring lyric or thrilling tragedy would be woven from such materials! Each of these flitting figures hurrying along the street is a distinct item of our humanity, carrying a world of its own within, and working out a distinct destiny. That sea of human faces, on each of which care, anxiety, calculation, disappointment, hope or joy are written, how they impress the thoughtful or poetic mind!—

"Let us move slowly through the street,
Filled with an ever-shifting train,
Amid the sound of steps that beat
The murmuring walks like autumn rain.

"How fast the flitting figures come,
The mild, the fierce, the stony face:
Some bright with thoughtless smiles and some
Where secret tears have left their trace.

"They pass—to toil, to strive, to rest;
To halls in which the feast is spread;
To chambers where the funeral guest
In silence sits beside the dead.

"Each where his tasks or pleasures call,
They pass and heed each other not:
There is who heeds, who holds them all
In His large love and boundless thought.

"These struggling tides of life that seem
In wayward, aimless course to tend,
Are eddies of the mighty stream
That rolls to its appointed end."

Lawson's Rheumatic Liniment.

THIS invaluable Liniment has the extraordinary property of affording immmediate relief in all cases of Rheumatic and other pains, and suffering from Felons, Salt Rheum, &c., and a faithful trial will result in permanent cure. The following are a few TESTIMONIALS proving the great efficacy of this Liniment:—

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 2nd, 1873.

Mr. A. Lawson; Dear Sir,—I have used your Liniment with a good deal of benefit, and feel pleasure in recommending it to others for the use for which it is intended. Yours, &c.,

REV. J. PRINCE.

ST. JOHN, June 4, 1873.

To Abiel Lawson, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have been much troubled with Rheumatism, and could get no relief till I procured a bottle of your Liniment. A few applications made a perfect cure. I take much pleasure in recommending it to those similarly afflicted. GEO. M. BUSTIN.

Mr. A. Lawson: Dear Sir,—It affords me great pleasure to state that your Liniment was the means of curing a severe attack of rheumatism, two or three applications having removed the soreness completely. I am therefore enabled to speak highly of its merits. Yours truly, LEVI H. YOUNG.

Having proved the efficacy of your medicine while suffering from Bronchitis, in April last, I am only too glad to append my sincere appreciation of your Liniment as a family medicine.

Yours, &c., ROBERT J. ANDREWS.

June 6, '73.

Abiel Lawson, Esq.: Dear Sir,—For a number of months I had been much troubled with Rheumatism, and tried many of the cures recommended, but could find no relief, till I got a bottle of your Liniment. A few applications have made a perfect cure.

SAMUEL NEAVES.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 2d, 1873.

For some time I have had Ague in the face, and could get no relief until I used Lawson's Rheumatic Liniment, which made a perfect cure. I would not be without it.

J. H. CROSBY.

Dear Sir,—I have for years suffered with periodical Neuralgia, and have tried nearly all of the remedies in use for this disease but without any lasting effect. About three months since I tried your Liniment, gaining immediate relief, and I am rejoiced to say that I have not since felt the touch of my old complaint. Your medicine deserves its success, and for general purposes I use no other, believing it the best in existence.

Yours truly, JOHN F. LAWSON.

St. John, N. B., June 6, 1873.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 6th, 1873.

Mr. Abiel Lawson: Sir,—In May, 1872, I was so severely afflicted with acute Rheumatism as to be unable to use my right leg. I was advised to use your Liniment, I procured a bottle, and made one application, which had the effect of removing all pain and soreness in one night. I have not since been troubled with Rheumatism, and I consider your medicine superior to anything extant for cases of this kind.

Truly yours, GEO. R. RIGBY.

N. B.—I had previously used three or four different kinds of Liniment, neither of which gave any relief. G. R. R.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 9th, 1874.

Mr. Abiel Lawson: Dear Sir,—Having just recovered from a most severe attack of Rheumatism, (from which I suffered for four weeks), I feel bound to testify to the very gratifying effect of your Liniment, which has had the effect of removing the distress altogether. I may, therefore, say, that I fully believe your mixture the best remedy in use for similar cases.

I am, dear Sir, yours, very truly, JAMES SWEENY.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 9, '73.

Mr. A. Lawson: Sir,—Having experienced much distress from a strain which I received some time ago, I procured a bottle of your Liniment. I made four or five applications, which have entirely removed the soreness. My breast is now entirely well. Yours truly, MOSES BELYEA.

Your Liniment has proved of great benefit to me, when applied for Rheumatism, and always gives satisfaction. FRANCIS QUIGLEY.

Abiel Lawson, Esq.: Dear Sir,—Having been troubled for some time Rheumatism, I was advised to try your Liniment. I soon found it to be all it was recommended. I advise all who are troubled in this way to try your Liniment.

Yours truly, THOS. TRUEMAN.

To A. Lawson: This certifies that I have used Lawson's Liniment for different purposes, and consider it the best article in use of the kind, and can cheerfully recommend it to the public.

THOS. P. TRUEMAN.

PROSPECTUS.

ABOUT 1st May next, there will be issued in St. John the first number of an eight-paged Illustrated Comic Paper, under the name, QUIP. It is the intention of the management to continue its publication once every fortnight thereafter, with a view of making it a weekly, as soon as that course shall be warranted by the support afforded to it.

QUIP will be the organ of no party of either Church or State. It will not be neutral in religious, political, social, or other matters which it may, from time to time, have occasion to deal with. Its motto being, "Bonis nocet quisquis pepercerit malis," it will censure or praise principles, sentiments or acts, at the same time avoiding offensive personalities and respecting private character.

Those who desire to see QUIP maintain a first-class position amongst the periodicals of Canada, are requested to aid the Editor by contributions from both pen and pencil—brevity and point being kept well in view. Sketches embracing suitable subjects for cartoons are solicited, and will, on approval, be faithfully reproduced by our engraver.

QUIP will be printed at the establishment of Messrs. J. & A. McMillan. Its title, or first page, will be grotesquely illustrated, the centre being bordered by advertisements, for which there are eighteen spaces, ranging from about three to one and a half inches in length. A portion of the inside columns will be set apart for advertisements, but not more than two inside pages will be, at any time, devoted to that purpose, the remainder being occupied by reading matter and cartoons or other illustrations.

The Subscriber is aware that the undertaking requires experience, good taste and money to ensure its success. His connection with the Press, both in St John and elsewhere, has supplied the first; he assumes that he always possessed the second, and he hopes so to combine the two in the Editorial management of QUIP as to deserve and secure the third.

TERMS.

The price of the QUIP will be $1.25 a year, payable in advance—postpaid to any address in Canada, $1.45. Single copies 5 cents. Clubs of ten or more will be liberally dealt with on application.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Border advertisements on title page outside—$30 to $35 a year, according to space and position selected; single insertions, $1.50 to $2.00. (There are 18 spaces only on border.)

On second, seventh (inside), and eighth (outside pages, one square or inch space, $25 a year; single insertions, $1.50 per square.

Advertisements of less than a square $2.60 a line per year, and 15 cents a line per single insertion.

Ten per cent. additional will be charged for choice of position on second, seventh and eighth pages.

All business communications to be addressed "Editor QUIP, St. John, N. B."
