

new building just completed to the south of the College. The University Library contains over 60,000 volumes; and the Reading Room, lighted by electricity, open both in the day and in the evening, affords every facility for study and research.

The generosity of benefactors has provided a number of Bursaries available for those needing this assistance. The College would be greatly strengthened by further benefactions for this purpose.

The teaching staff of the College consists of four theological professors. This is supplemented by the appointment from year to year of Honorary Lecturers upon special subjects.

The very important department of Practical Theology has been strengthened by the appointment of two subordinate teachers—one in Elocution and the other in Church Music—both contributing elements of greatest value in the practical training of students, and fitting them to be more efficient preachers and leaders in the service of prayer and praise in the house of God.

The work in this department is also supplemented by practical parochial work carried on under the supervision of the Professor of Practical Theology, with cottage meetings and Bible-class work in the city, and the supply of missions in the country from Sunday to Sunday during the long summer vacations. This work, duly limited and supervised, is of great importance. It is analogous to the clinical instruction and hospital practice so essential in the study of medicine. It constitutes an indispensable factor in theological education, if it is to be practically efficient in the moulding of pastors and workers who are not merely theoretical theologians.

There are in Toronto so many Christian workers, and so many departments of Christian work, that the students have unequalled opportunities for gaining a practical acquaintance with the various methods pursued, and must receive both stimulus and enrichment from this contact.

College Pastors are appointed by the council from year to year from among the older and more experienced graduates. The plan is for one College Pastor to come into residence each term for the space of a week or ten days, give special addresses
