

REALABLE MERCHANDISE

Some people like to buy at cheap stores, but the wise buyers patronize a store with dependable goods marked with close margins of profit.

This store enjoys the patronage of a long list of wise people who have been buying Dry Goods, Men's Clothing and Overcoats season after season since we started business nine years ago because they have proven that we give 100 cents in value for every dollar they leave with us and that we stand behind every transaction with their money back. We sell to sell again.

Our Men's Suits and Overcoats are newest in style, wear well and look good all the time you are wearing them.

The young men of Tait's Corners collected $43.75 for Christmas comforts for the soldiers at the front and have forwarded $40 of this amount to Hyman Hall, London.

A Boston bachelor married a widow and he came stepfather to eighteen children and grandfather to thirteen. Surely a brave man with Christmas less than two months off.

In the list of contributors to the Trafalgar Day Fund at Glencoe, published in the Transcript October 28th, Wm. R. Eddie instead of Robert Eddie was credited with one dollar.

To keep rain from blurring one's vision through the glass of the automobile windshield carry a small bottle of vinegar in your car and rub some on the windshield when it rains.

A sacred concert will be given in Burns' church, Mossa, on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 17th, by Mr. Wheeler, organist of St. Andrew's church, London, and members of his choir.

Sunday next, November 14th, will be World's Temperance Sunday, when the temperance question in the various aspects will be dealt with in Sunday Schools and churches all over the world.

While some tell us that "spelling" is not important these are times when the contrary is true. For example, there is a mighty difference between "battle-scarred veterans" and "battle-scared veterans."

Ontario school children, it is stated, will be required to sing the national anthem at 9 o'clock every school morning throughout the province by an order about to be issued by the department of education.

L. H. Clooman, of the Longwoods Road, Mossa, who came from Chicago two years ago to take up farming, is selling out, owing to ill health, and will return to the city after spending the winter in Maine.

The marriage took place Tuesday afternoon at Brantford of Richard Singleton, of Glencoe, and Miss Gladys Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kaufman, of Brantford, formerly of Glencoe. The young couple are spending a brief honeymoon with friends at Exeter.

Prospective supplies of red clover seed are very much reduced and at best Canadian farmers next year will face an extremely high price for seed. Farmers should endeavor yet this autumn to save every bit of the red clover crop that promises to yield good seed, says a circular from the Seed Branch, Ottawa.

A stone was thrown through a large window at the residence of William Saul, Strathroy, by some one who was out for a time on Halloween. It cost Mr. Saul $10 to replace the glass. And the District reminds that this is the kind of fool business that is permitted to go on every year at Halloween, and no one is ever punished for it.

A patriotic rally will be held in the town hall, Appin, on Wednesday evening, when returned soldiers who have fought in the trenches will tell of their experiences in battle and of the work of the Red Cross.

There will also be a full musical program by popular singers from London and local talent, and Ex Mayor Graham of London will give an address. See announcement in another column.

The Union Sunday School in S. S. No. 3, Mossa, will hold their Christmas concert on the evening of Tuesday, December 21st.

Rev. Dr. Ford will soon be able to be about again after having been for some days confined to his room from the effects of a severe cold.

The infant son, three months old, of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, of Ekfrid, died on Monday and was buried at Appin cemetery yesterday.

Edward Hale, son of Rev. John Hale, rector of St. James church, Wardsville, has enlisted for the front and is now in training at London.

The funeral of the late Mrs. George L. Simpson took place yesterday afternoon at Oakland cemetery, service being held in the Presbyterian church.

A five-dollar horse blanket was stolen from a buggy in the Methodist church shed on Sunday evening. It belonged to Herbert Jamieson, Crinan.

The Battle Hill Relief Society will meet at the home of Mrs. D. H. McRae, Strathroy, on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 11th, from 1:30 to 5 o'clock. Mrs.

Wm. Booker, colored, of North Ekfrid, is in the hospital at London with his right arm badly cut and lacerated. Booker claims that while returning home from Glencoe on the Appin Road last Wednesday evening, about six o'clock he was held up by some men near sidroad sixteen and relieved of some twenty-five dollars in cash after a desperate struggle in which his arm was slashed by a knife in the hands of one of the assailants.

Constables Stuart and Weaver are investigating the matter. Booker came to Dr. McLachlan for treatment about half-past seven o'clock on the evening of the alleged assault. Some of the tendons of the arm were severed and the full power of the limb can never be restored.

Thanks All Who Helped.

Sir John Hendrie, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, has issued a circular letter addressed "to all who have helped to obtain the magnificent response to the appeal of the British Red Cross Society and the order of St. John," in which he states that it is already known that more than $560,000 asked as Ontario's share has been received, and that when the full returns are compiled it will not be surprising if that amount has been treble received. Thanks to Premier Hearst, N. W. Rowell, Hon. G. H. Ferguson (acting minister of education), the teachers, the press, the city council, the mayors, reeves and municipal councils, and all others who assisted, are expressed.

Safety First.

It was a children's matinee of "Alice in Wonderland," farces of small fry governed by guardian adults had been pouring in a steady stream down the aisles to settle in their seats with much flutter of short skirts and bobbing of heads and tossing back of curls.

One group consisted of mother and nurse, a gay little maid of eight or so, and a solemn little boy somewhat younger. Each child clutched a program, and on their faces was a look of rapt expectancy. As they were filing into their seats the little girl pulled at her mother's sleeve and said in a loud stage whisper:

"Mother, don't you think you and Marie had better sit at the two ends to keep away the germs, you know?"—New York Post.

The Czarina.

"Do try and get the empress to smile, Eulalia," said one of the grand duchesses to me at some court function.

But that was sooner said than done. There is not a trace of artificiality in the empress' character. She seemed unable to pretend she was enjoying herself when, in point of fact, she was fatigued and bored. Moving as the central figure of a splendid pageant, I think she was always wishing the ceremony to be at an end and to find herself free to be with her children again.—H. R. H. the Infanta Eulalia in Century.

Alphabetical.

Willis—Won't you dine with me? Gillis—Thank you, I just dined. I was home and had my regular meal of apples, apricots and asparagus. Willis—Isn't that a rather odd combination? Gillis—Well, you see, my wife went to a domestic science school and had to leave after the first week.—Life.

Not Guilty.

It was 4 a. m. and Bilkins crept softly into the house and removed his shoes, but as he tiptoed up the stairs one of the treads gave a loud creak.

"Is that you, John?" demanded Mrs. Bilkins from above.

"No, my love," replied Bilkins; "it's the stairs."—Illustrated Bits.

Learning About Women.

"The only way for a man to learn all about a woman is to get married." "And study the ways of his wife, eh?"

"No! Listen to what she tells him about other women."—Boston Transcript.

Two of a Kind.

"My dear Mrs. Gadsby, I'm so glad to see you. What is the latest gossip?" "My dear, that is just what I called to find out."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
