MADE IN CANADA

The Great Hot Spot Engine has made the Chalmers one of the few great cars of the world—

THIS great engine, which now has a record of many million miles behind it, has created a new movement in the automobile industry.

It has swung the attention from multi-cylinders, extra valves and the like to the subject of getting-the-very-last-bit-of-power-out-of-every-drop-of-gas.

For gas has gone down and down in grade; the price has gone up and up; and cars have not performed as once they did, while the public began to say "they weren't making cars as well as they used to."

The public was wrong. It was not the car. It was the low grade gas. The food for an engine had changed; a new digestive organ was needed.

Among the first to observe this condition were the Chalmers engineers. They were the first to supply the answer.

They designed a Hot Spot device and attached a new type of intake manifold now known as the famous Ram's-horn.

By means of the Hot Spot they cracked up, fine as powder, and heated the gas after it left the carburetor. This put the gas in perfect shape for combustion.

Now the task was to get this "fine as powder," or as the engineers say "dry gas" into the cylinders without letting it condense on the short 18-inch but hazardous journey. Gas is tricky.

They succeeded in designing a brand new type of canal or manifold—minus angles, corners, sharp corners and the like—and this they call the Ram's-horn.

Any man who drives a Hot Spot Chalmers can tell you how wonderful these two devices work.

They have made the Chalmers now a great automobile. This is what they accomplished:

Almost immediate starting on a cold day. Perfect engine running in 30 seconds on a cold day. More power out of gas than has ever been extracted before.

Prevent raw gas from going past the pistons into the crank case and subsequent lubrication trouble.

Develop a smoother, softer kind of power.

Save a lower upkeep cost through less vibration.

Spin more mileage out of every gallon.

Cause the engine to run cooler on a hot day.

There are many more. See the new Chalmers.

CONCRETE HIGHWAY

Save Time Money

WHATEVER speeds up ever delays traffic must be concrete, being the road makes a pavement on which all this speeding-up of traffic makes.

Wherever there is a concrete road and their "help" able to develop and gathering the crops.

SAVING TIME OF BERRY PICKING

THE girls who helped so splendidly gathering of our berry crop last summer testify to the value of a concrete road. To those of us who were able to use the Toronto-Hamilton road it meant many hours saved in traveling their camps and their berry-patches—they could possibly have had it their traveling had been on the old style road.

The manner in which the Toronto-Hamilton road was saved in last summer's picking is but one of the many side-light value of concrete that have been seen from farmers whose properties adjoin concrete roads.

It is the duty of every Canadian to enable him to intelligently use his influence.
