

Ritz Hotel, W.L.

26th. October 1926.

Sir,

Mr. Mackenzie King is so overwhelmed with official correspondence that at the moment he is unable to reply to your letter by his own hand. He has therefore asked me to say that he appreciates highly the invitation on behalf of the Leeds Luncheon Club to be their guest and speaker at one of the weekly meetings.

Mr. Mackenzie King regrets, however, that his engagements are so numerous that he is unable to accept any more invitations.

Will you please thank the members of the Club on his behalf for their cordial invitation.

Yours sincerely,
