

RUSSIA MAKES DEMAND ON CHINA

Representatives of Outer Mongolia Must Not Sit in Chinese Parliament

By Courier Leased Wire.

Peking, Oct. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Russia's demand that representatives of Outer Mongolia shall not be permitted to sit in the Chinese parliament is an indication that Russia does not intend to slacken the hold which it obtained upon Outer Mongolia through its treaty with China, recognizing the autonomy of Outer Mongolia in so far as domestic affairs are concerned.

With Japan encroaching upon Inner Mongolia, as is indicated by the recent riot at Chenshiatun, and with Russia pressing in on Outer Mongolia, Chinese officials are especially uneasy about the intentions of these two powers, particularly in the light of the recent Russo-Japanese treaty in which the two countries agree not to interfere with each other's "special interest" in the Far East.

Prince Kouacheff, the Russian minister, represented to the foreign office that Outer Mongolia being an autonomous government naturally should not participate in the Chinese parliament, but should have an assembly of its own to direct its own internal affairs.

Chinese officials have, apparently, never conceded the absolute autonomy of Outer Mongolia. The foreign office is unwilling to admit that the members designated to represent Mongolia when parliament was first convened in 1913 should not now take their seats.

Further, the question is raised as to the validity of the Russo-Japanese treaty granting autonomy to Outer Mongolia. Republican leaders say the treaty is not valid, as Yuan Shi-kai negotiated it without the ratification of parliament.

Originally twelve Outer Mongolian senators and fifteen Mongolian representatives were designated to sit in the two houses of parliament. Ten were Chinese, five Manchus and twelve Mongolians.

Russia's absolute control of Outer Mongolia is well known to all persons in official life in the Far East. Trading with the enemy regulations in Outer Mongolia is quite the same as they are in Russia. The Hutuktu of Urga, who is the real ruler of Outer Mongolia, is under absolute Russian domination.

So far Outer Mongolia has not officially stated whether it desires to be represented in the Chinese parliament. However, in view of Russia's control of Outer Mongolian affairs, it is believed that the Hutuktu will decline representation at Peking if he is called upon by Russia to make a decision in the matter.

PERMANENT MUSCULAR STRENGTH cannot exist where there is not blood strength. Young men giving attention to muscular development should bear this in mind. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives blood strength and builds up the whole system.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BIG DEMAND FOR SEATS

Many Turned Away in Boston Owing to the Crowds.

Boston, Oct. 6.—Seekers of reserved seats took on the appearance of bleacher crowds yesterday in the scramble for reservations for the world's series baseball games, which begin here on Saturday. They swarmed about the ticket offices at Fenway Park in lines broken often by the eagerness of some enthusiasts to obtain earlier possession of tickets. Women and staid business men vied with messenger boys and others in their effort to gain prominent places in the line. No actual disorder developed, but the police were called upon to re-form lines, and club employees endeavored, unsuccessfully, to placate disappointed applicants who clamored for answers to their written requests for seats.

In all probability, more persons have been disappointed through failure to receive tickets this year than ever before. The fact that the series opens here, and that the third game will be played on Columbus Day, a holiday, if the schedule is followed, has greatly increased the demand. Hundreds of requests have been refused.

CLUBS COMMANDEERED

London, Oct. 6.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—The National Liberal Club and the Constitutional Club, two of the most widely known London clubs, have been commandeered for war administration purposes. Both buildings are close to the war office, and the ministry of munitions. Like all the clubs of London, these two have suffered such a large decrease in membership through the war that the action of the government will inconvenience only a handful of the older members.

THE RED ADMIRAL

"Hello!" said the opera glass elf one day when Jan felt that he must take a look at his mother's opera glasses. "Hello, Jan!"

Now the broken lens had been replaced and the elf was safe inside, but the elf pleaded so hard that Jan let him out. "Look," said the elf and there beside him was a splendid sailor in a cocked hat and red velvet uniform and wings, spread magnificently, who said he was the Red Admiral. The elf stared impudently at Jan. "He thought you might like to see his fleet," he said.

Now Jan had made up his mind never, never to venture through that golden opera glass tunnel again. There was always a chance that he'd never get back, but when he felt himself shrinking under the elf's magic glance to the size of a fly and knew he could walk into the opera glass if he chose, the temptation was too great. Jan walked into the opera glass and followed the elf and the Red Admiral to the end of the golden tunnel. Through the fairy forest of daisies, Jan climbed upon the Red Admiral's back, the elf opened the window and off they flew.

They flew and they flew until they came to a sea of sunset covered with boats and there was the Red Admiral's fleet. The dark sails were beaded with flaming red and the Red Admiral told him they were butterfly wings. Every once a while, he said, a sail flew away to the land of mortals and became a Red Admiral butterfly named after him. The boats were nut shells. All around the shores of that sunset sea lay the blackest of shadows. Jan asked what they were. "Dear me," said the Red Admiral. "You don't know much of anything, do you? That's fairy night shade plant that the black elves are growing for crows wings."

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in the stomach, or you are bilious, get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poison and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost-tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.
