CANADIAN NURSES WERE HEROINES UNDER FIRE

Wore Gas Masks For Hours While Tending Wounded—Nurses Protested Against Removal From Danger Zone

By Courier Leased Wire. Ottawa, June 17.—A remarkable story of the heroism of Canadian nurses is contained in the cable received by the Department of Militia and Defense from overseas which tells how women of the Dominion had to wear gas masks for hours while carrying out their gentle tasks. The article was written by Roland Hill from war correspondents headquarters, France, and was captioned by Sir Edward Kemp, Minister of Overseas Forces.

safe from flying shrapnel. Then and only then they sought shelter in the bomb-proof shelters. If unluckily a warplane was hit by a bomb one of the first to rush to the rescue, would be a sister, as cool as she was courageous—a wonderful tonic for the shell-wrecked men who were in her care.

Each night the sisters on duty were served with shrapnel proof shields to wear under their uniforms. Emergency operations were carried through without hitch and many a soldier's life was saved, although the surgical hut rocked with the force of explosions from bombs that dropped only a few yards off. In other huts, when the raid siren was blown these indomitable girls from Canada went through their wards and gently lifted helpless patients to the floor, where, under the shelter of the sandbag barriers that line the hut they were comparatively

Some Canadian sisters who came through that ordeal actually did duty in as many as five different hospitals in the week, scores of miles apart. There is a story told of a sister from eastern Canada, at one of the base hospitals which was badly bombed. In her ward was a German officer from one of the raiding Gothas shot through both legs when his machine was destroyed by one of our patriots. He spoke English and a doctor that if the English put hospitals near the railways they must expect to have them bombed. The signal siren for a raid went and presently a bomb dropped and some other over-worked "demand to be taken into a dug-out," shouted the Hun in manifest terror. "It is an outrage on the rules of war to keep an officer here and I will see that you are punished for this."

WIDOW WINS VERDICT. By Courier Leased Wire. Winnipeg, Man., June 17.—A $12,000 verdict was rendered on Saturday evening in the favor of Mary Elizabeth Bowles and her two infant sons in their claims for damages against the city of Winnipeg and the police commission for the killing of the husband and father of the plaintiffs in the year 1915 by the police ambulance.

Rippling Rhymes

VIEWING DAILY.

Some men are built so strangely mulish, their stubborn pessimism foolish. They won't admit that things are changing; they're always doubting, fretting, fearing. "To-day," they say, "is short of sorrow, but we'll have lots of grief to-morrow. To-day the sunshine's truly splendid, to-morrow it will all be ended, and there'll be hail or cyclones blowing, to spoil the crops we have been growing." Last eve I said to Grigg, the granger: "The wheat crop now seems out of danger. We're had a most propitious season, and there is every human reason for throwing up our hats and shouting; all hoo-doo and all Jonahs flouting." "To his-story you seem a stranger," replied the sore and sad-eyed granger; "the season's been so blamed propitious, there are so many sullen croakers who'd rather travel in the shadow than prance through streets in El Dorado."

GRANDMAN NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept her locks youthful, dark and glossy with common garden Sage and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. It's a whole new mixture, though, at home, is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

CROPS REQUESTED. By Courier Leased Wire. June 17.—All new crops have been reported requisitioned by the Hungarian Government, according to a report from Budapest. All flour mills have been put under government supervision.

Music and Drama

THE BRANT

No further guarantee of the quality of the picture, "The Brant," which heads the program at the Brant the first of this week, need be demanded than the fact that America's sweet heart, Mary Pickford, appears in the title role. Were further guarantee demanded, it would be found in the fact that the original story came from the pen of that most virile of all western writers, Bret Harte. The story of "The Brant," the wife of a California mining camp, provides Miss Pickford with a splendid vehicle, and she is supported by a capable cast including Theodore Roberts, Thomas Meighan, Tully Marshall, Winnifred Greenwood and others. Rutan's song birds are as clever a trio of comedy entertainers as Brantford audiences have seen in a long time, and their performance went over with a rush, both afternoon and evening. Their singing and musical numbers are unusually pleasing. Other attractions upon the program include the tenth episode of the serial "The Eagle's Eye," and a laughable "Big V" comedy.

Winsome June Caprice, noted for her rapid rise to stardom, is seen at the Rex theatre the first of this week in her latest Fox picture, "Every Girl's Dream," a pleasing, romantic comedy drama in which the talented little star appears to great advantage, supported by other players of prominence from the Fox studios. The Teller Sisters have a singing and dancing act which is clever, distinctive and entertaining to an unusual degree. Harold Lloyd, better known under his pseudonym, Lonesome Luke, in one of his latest and cleverest Fatha comedies, is a debonair and laughable figure as always. The piquante Bobe Daniels is co-starring with him. The fourteenth episode of the mystery serial, "The Lost Express," continues a pleasing program at the popular King St. theatre.

Lift Off Corns!

"Freezone" is Magic! Lift any Corn or Callus right off with fingers—No pain!

Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. It doesn't hurt one bit. Yes, magic! Why wait? Your druggist for a tiny bottle of Freezone for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the much talked of other discovery of a Cincinnati genius.
