

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., JULY 28, 1911.

Editorial Notes

Preparations were begun on Monday morning on the site for the government building. A staff of men is now engaged clearing away the old wall and excavating for the foundation.

If friends visit you or leave you, if you go anywhere yourself, if there is a party or a reception at your home, a wedding, a birth or a death in your neighborhood, or anything that is a matter of news, THE ACADIAN will be glad to hear of it.

The first section of the new street was completed on Wednesday. While there appears to be considerable difference of opinion among citizens the general verdict is that the street is a fine looking one and will be found to be equal to every demand upon it.

The Winesap Free Press, the great liberal organ of the west, says: "It is again reported from Ottawa that Sir Frederick Borden will succeed Lord Strathcona as High Commissioner to Great Britain. This would not be regarded by the people of Canada as a suitable appointment."

Owing to the heavy demand upon our space this week by advertisers we are unable to furnish the usual quota of reading matter. These announcements are of such an interesting character, however, that we make no apology, and advise our readers to study carefully the special offers made. It will be worth your while to do so.

Now that Summer street has become for the time such a thoroughfare owing to the work being done on Main street, THE ACADIAN would be glad to suggest to the proper authorities the cleaning out of the luxuriant growth of weeds from the centre of the street and the gathering up of loose stones, etc. We know this is a busy time with the street department, but a little energy expended here would be profitable just now.

The service at the old church at Grand Pre last Sunday afternoon was well attended, the seating capacity being taxed to the utmost. In addition to residents of the community—descendants of those who built the church and worshipped there in former years—there was a goodly number of tourists and Wolfville people present. Rev. Mr. Miller preached an earnest sermon from the words: "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ." The occasion was one of deep interest, and at the close many of the older generation enjoyed the privilege of meeting with old friends and talking over events of the past. During the remainder of the summer service will be held in the church fortnightly.

A Clever Entertainment.

The new opera house made a very fine appearance on Tuesday evening, when 'the Wolfville girls' presented an excellent entertainment to a large and appreciative audience. Manager Black has had most of the scenery installed, and the whole effect is most pleasing.

The program began with a Scarf Drill in which the following took part: Missie Godfrey, Stella Bleakney, Edith Thompson, Rita Boates, Marguerite Elderkin, Ada Johnson, Evelyn Johnson, Ora Woodman, Evelyn Woodman, Violet Sleep, Fern Woodman, Gladys Elderkin, Ruth Elderkin, Vesta Pick, Hilda West.

Mrs. (Dr.) Moore, to whom much of the success of the entertainment is due, presided at the piano, and directed the drill, which was an exceedingly attractive feature. Attired in white, with scarfs of various colors, the young ladies performed the difficult movements with skill and precision and received well-merited applause.

Miss Edith Woodman, the talented young vocalist of Grand Pre, rendered two solos, 'If I but Knew' and 'Sunbeams,' and in response to an enthusiastic encore gave 'The Little Irish Girl.'

The piece de resistance of the evening, however, was the comedy, 'Miss Fearless and Company,' which was put on in a manner which elicited the highest praise. The following comprised the dramatis personae:

Margaret Henley, an heiress—Hazel Woodman
Euphemia Addison, her chaperone—Margaret Murray

Sarah Jane Lovejoy, from the lost nation—Henrietta Crandall
Katie O'Connor, Miss Henley's servant—Flora Chambers
Barbara Livingstone, Bettie Cameron, Marion Reynolds, Miss Henley's Guests—Elmore Eaton, Grace Crandall, Myra Chambers

'Just Lizzie' the Ghost—Doris Chambers
Miss Ahas, Miss Alibi, The Silent Sisters—Eula Pitt, Esther Vaughn

The play was most interesting throughout, and all the parts were exceedingly well taken. Great credit is due to the Wolfville girls and to all who had charge of the direction of this fine entertainment.

The death of Mr. John Bresnan occurred at the home of his brother, Mr. Thomas Bresnan, at an early hour yesterday morning. For some months Mr. Bresnan, who has never enjoyed robust health, has been gradually failing. He was 64 years of age and a highly esteemed citizen. Although of a retiring disposition he had many friends who will learn with sorrow of his demise. The funeral takes place this morning.

TAKE A FIELD GLASS WITH YOU ON VACATION.

No yacht, motor, camping or travelling outfit is complete without a good field glass.

For from $5.00 to $30.00

We can start you off with a field glass fitted with high grade lenses of high power, covered with real morocco leather, hand sewn, having morocco covered sun shades, in solid leather carrying case with shoulder straps complete.

The price is inconsiderable—and just think how much a field glass would add to the pleasure of the trip.

BETTER COME IN AND SEE THEM

Maitre Labouri.

(From the Manchester Guardian)

The famous defender of Captain Dreyfus, Maitre Labouri, has been elected Batonnier (or head) of the French Bar, a position which the ignominy consequent upon his great exploit prevented him from reaching before. The news has been cordially received in English legal quarters, where he is well known. Burke said that the practice of the law was not calculated to liberalise the understanding, and much contemporary evidence can be cited to support his dictum. But the admiration and sympathy which the English Bar felt at Labouri's great achievement was genuine, and much of its warmth still remains. Soon after the Rennes trial Labouri came over to be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Hardwicke Society, where he delighted everyone with his vivacious eloquence and cultured wit. It is interesting to note the contrast between an advocate like Labouri and the counsel who comprise at present the chief ornaments of the criminal Bar. Since Sir Charles Mathews went to the Treasury eloquence akin to Labouri's has not been heard in our criminal courts. The self-renderer of which eloquence is the expression at the Bar is entirely wanting in our present-day advocates, who are always clear headed and cautious, seldom inaccurate and untechnical, and never eloquent enough to be wrong. Labouri, with his fast-kindling sympathies and hot-blooded eloquence, was the man to right a great injustice, and his English conferees welcome the honor bestowed upon him.
