

A MARTYR TO HAY FEVER

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured After 15 Years' Suffering

CORNWALL, ONT., NOVEMBER 27th 1911. I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment, and I tried every remedy I heard of as being good for Hay Fever but nothing helped me. Then I heard of "Fruit-a-lives" and decided to try them, and I am thankful to say that this remedy cured me completely. To every sufferer from Hay Fever, I wish to say—"Try Fruit-a-lives". This medicine cured me when every other treatment failed, and I believe it is a perfect cure for this distressing disease—Hay Fever.

MRS. HENRY KEMP.
The real cause of Hay Fever is poisoned blood, due to the early action of the bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-lives" cleans the blood by regulating bowels, kidneys and skin, and thus relieves the excessive strain on the nervous system. Try "Fruit-a-lives", a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, At all dealers or sent on receipt of 10c. Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

All's Well.

As the ship speeds beneath the silent sky,
O'er the vast spaces of the moonlit sea,
And one lies quiet, listening dreamily,
How sweet it is to hear the watchman's cry:
'All's well, the lights are burning bright!
And then to sleep in safety through the night.
When the ship fights her gallant, steadfast way
Amid the sounds of tempest and of rain,
'Tis sweet to hear the watchman's voice again,
As one lies sleeping, longing for the day:
'All's well, the lights are burning bright!
Ah, what a comfort in the stormy night.
Three lamps there are, Faith, Hope, and Charity,
Which we may light to keep our souls from harm
In our long voyaging through storm and calm;
And sweet it is while on Life's restless sea
To hear the watchman, Conscience, in the night,
Whisper: 'All's well, the lamps are burning bright.'
—Mary F. Simon in New Orleans Times-Democrat

The War Must Go On.

Even if the saloon men should do all they promise in the way of reform and decency—even if that myth 'The Model Saloon' were really established—even if liquor were sold by reputable men and under orderly conditions, the opposition to the traffic would not and could not cease by the moral and Christian elements of the nation. They are unalterably and forever against any liquor selling. They believe the traffic in any shape is a public nuisance and a social menace. Getting drunk in a 'model saloon' is as reprehensible as if it were in a doggerly and if the saloon can be made to appear unobjectionable it will prove a temptation for thousands of young men whose lives will be ruined by it—young men who to-day feel the heat that society has placed on these drinking places of low or dubious character.—Western Christian Advocate.

He Couldn't Stop.

There was once a horse that used to pull around a trap which lifted over from the depths of the earth. He was kept at the business nearly twenty years, until he became old, blind, and too stiff in the joints to be of further use. So he was turned into a pasture and left to crop the grass.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

"Bottles and rags! Bottles and rags!" called the ragman, as he plied his calling.
'Why do you always put these words together?' asked the passer-by.
'Because, madam,' said the ragman, contemptuously touching his hat to the lady, 'wherever you find bottles you find rags.'
Shrewd philosophy! It is a pity that our statesmen cannot see the thing as clearly, and that for the good of prosperity, to say nothing of the moral happiness of the people, they do not stop the accursed liquor traffic, instead of putting in the way of Christian workers all sorts of handicaps.
Remember the shrewd words of the ragman, who sees things as they are: 'Wherever you find bottles you find rags.' And if you wish to save people from coming to rags, you will banish the bottle. Let us all say we shall not give our fight until we succeed—'Angels!'
If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers.

Systematic Seed Improvement.

In the production of the ordinary farm crops of Canada, approximately 45,000,000 bushels of seed are required annually. In view of the enormous extent to which yield is dependent upon the quality and vitality of the seed sown, it is of the greatest importance to the individual farmer and to the nation that as much of this seed as possible be of a high order.
L. H. Newman of the Dept. of Agriculture explains the system of Seed Registration and the recently instituted plan of inspecting and sealing all sacks of seed before they leave the premises of those growers who grow seed for the trade. This address which is printed in pamphlet is being distributed free by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.
Remember the shrewd words of the ragman, who sees things as they are: 'Wherever you find bottles you find rags.' And if you wish to save people from coming to rags, you will banish the bottle. Let us all say we shall not give our fight until we succeed—'Angels!'

Skin Soft as a Child's.

'I was a great sufferer from eczema and skin rheum for years,' writes Mr. John W. Ness, Janesburg, N.Y. 'Five years ago three boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder cured me and the old trouble never returned. My skin is soft as a child's now, and I shall always say a good word for this Ointment.'
Salads, like native strawberries, being ripe at about this season, and more or less welcome on every table, a reader of this column is inspired to contribute the following true story.
Johnnie's ma decided that salads would be about the proper thing for dinner and began to prepare said dish at 4 p. m. that it might be ready at about six. Johnny watched her industriously as she chopped up lettuce, cold potatoes and things. And he was puzzled. 'What are you making, ma, swill?' he asked.

Bad Cold in the Chest.

I'm sorry to tell you that I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine, and was promptly cured of a very bad cold in the chest, writes Miss Josephine Gaultier, Dover, South Ont. You can depend on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine to relieve and cure all inflammation and irritation of the throat and bronchial tract.
Little James, one of the fresh air children from the city, was enjoying his first visit to the country. Having followed the farmer to the barnyard where he was feeding the pigs, James happened to notice the wind mill, which was close by. He looked at it for a time, then said: 'Boy, that's a fine elastic jar you have for your pigs.'

The blaze was about 650 feet above the street. The night watchman discovered the fire while making his rounds after the workmen had left. He notified Frank Holmes, superintendent of construction, who had to climb the 45 stories by the stairs. The two men soon had the blaze out with an extinguisher.
