FEMALE SCIETT.—You knew my opinion of female society. Without it we should degenerate into brutes. This observation applies with tenfold force to young men and those who are in the prime of manhood. For, after a certain time of life, the literary man may make a shift (a poor one I grant,) to do without the society of ladies. To a young man nothing is so important as a spirit of devotion (next to his Greator.) to some amiable woman, whose image may occupy his heart, and guard it from pollution, which besets it on all sides. A man ought to choose his wife, as Mrs. Primrose did her wedding gown, for qualities that "wear well." One thing, at least, is true, that if matrimony has its cares, celibacy has no pleasure. A Newton, or a mere scholar may find employment in study; a man of literary taste can receive in books a powerful auxiliary; but a man must have a bosom friend, and children round him, to cherish and support the dreariness of old age.—John Daydolph.

A REMARKABLE CHARACTER.—New-York possesses many remarkable characters,—remarkable for every diverse reasons, but generally for their eccentricity. We have one in mind, a Madame De L., who is now probably sixty years old, and lives apparently in extreme destitution, in the garret of the house she owns. She pays taxes on $15,000 of real estate, and $1,100 personal property, and owns banking and railroad stock to the amount of something like $50,000. In the street, her appearance is well calculated to excity commiserlike $50,000. In the street, her appearance is well calculated to excity commiseration. Indeed, some kind-hearted individual, a few days ago, benevolently offered her one cent, as a gratuity. The insult, however, was resented, as became her insulted honor. Diminutive in stature and a decrepid, her head is covered with a hood, slouched and almost perennial. The cloak is well matched, and appears to have done good service, as the folds in the cloth are mostly worn to the warp. Her daily food consists of a shilling loaf of bread, which is left her at door regularly, and there is added to this a small portion of meat, or such other food as she sees fit to obtain at the market. Even these small comforts are shared in solitude, in her quiet retreat. The human face divine has no charms for her. Her property naturally descends to mostly worn to the warp. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

MOST ASTONISHING CURE OF SCROPULO ULCERS-A CASE CERTIFIED BY THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

THE MAYOR OF ROSTON.

Copy of a Letter from J. Noble, Esq., Muyor of Boston, Lincolnshire.

Te Professor Holloway.
Dear Sir,—Mrs. Sarah Dixon, of Liquorpond street, Boston, has this day deposed before me that for a considerable period she was severely afflicted with Serofiscos Sories and Ulcers in her arms, foot, legs, and other parts of her body; and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she precared a small pot, and a box of the Pille, and before that was all used, symptoms of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules, as to dict, & &c., she was perfectly cured, and now cajoya the best of health.

We cheerfully comply with the request of a friend to insert the following letter which we are assured in from a lady of the first respectability, residing in Lowell, Mass., believing that a vast amount of suffering may be prevented, and many valuable lives saved, by calling the attention of mothers to this valuable prescription of an old and experienced nurse:

MRS. WINSLOW.

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

For the Nervous Affections, Convulsions, Fever, Inflammation of the Bowels, &c. that attend this period of children, she recommends it as sure to produce the desired effect, giving Rest to the Mother, and Relief and Health to the Infant.

A child in Congress-Street was cured by the Soothing Syrup, of Infantile Dysentery or Diarrhean after being given over by the attending Physician.

Mr. Blackman, of Eddington says, it has acree feliles to cure the Dysentery or Diarrhean in children whenever used in the village. Lots of it is cold.

One parent informs me his child has suffered to en alarming extent, with Platulence or Wind Chole. Lately they have used the Soothing Syrup, and it always effects a speedy cure.

Hundreds of like instances might be enumerated. PROOF POSITIVE.

Messre. Curtis & Perrings.—Please send us a further supply of Soothing Syrup. We are selling large quantities of it, and from what we can learn, it is used with antiform success, both by children and adults, in all cases of Dysentry or Diarrhea. Yours respectfully, W.D.
