A TREASURE HUNT IN AUCKLAND

After Four Previous Attempts to Recover Lost Gold, a New Expedition Has Started Out On the Hunt.

Auckland, N. Z. - Captain N. C. Sorenson, formerly employed as diver by the Auckland Harbor Board, purposes, in conjunction with a partner in Dunedin, to fit out an expedition, to cost about $50,000, to proceed to the Auckland Islands to endeavor to recover the bullion believed to have been lost in the General Grant, wrecked there in 1866. Four previous attempts to recover this treasure were unsuccessful. Captain Sorenson believes that the treasures were through attempting the work from the seaward side. His idea is to land an expedition on the landward side and out a road across to the wreck, and operate by means of derricks erected on the cliffs.

The General Grant was a sailing ship of about 1300 tons. She left Melbourne for London, laden with valuable profits of the Ballarat goldfields, on May 3, 1862. Just ten days later she struck hidden rocks off the Auckland Islands, and the majority of those on board were lost. The survivors experienced hunger and cold before they were discovered in the month of March, two years later, by Captain O'Hoy, of the ship Hampshire, who took them to the Staff.
