

304th Day of the War.

LATEST From the Front.

10.00 A.M.

RAID CROWN PRINCE'S HEAD-QUARTERS.

PARIS, To-day. Official. Twenty-nine French aeroplanes between four and five this morning bombarded the headquarters of the Imperial Crown Prince. They dropped 178 shells, many of which reached the mark and several thousand darts. All the machines were subjected to a severe cannonade, but they all returned unscathed.

NORWEGIAN TORPEDOED.

LONDON, To-day. The Norwegian steamship Cubano was torpedoed and sunk yesterday off Flannan Islands. The crew landed at the Hebrides group of Islands off the West Coast of Scotland.

LAPLANDER SAILED.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Red Star Line steamship, Lapland, sailing as a White Star steamer left here to-day for Liverpool with 275 passengers, 14,000 tons of cargo. Only one passenger was an American passenger.

WITHOUT RE-ELECTION.

LONDON, To-day. The Commons passed in all its stages the bill enabling the new Ministers to sit during the period of war without re-election. The Lords passed the first reading of same bill and will take up its further stages to-morrow. Lawrence Guinness, Irish Nationalist, who follows leadership of a Parliamentary party but is the leader and only member of his own party was not to be denied however and despite the censorship of the speaker succeeded in saying members of the House who formerly were calling each other liars and political assassins were now aspiring to give each other jobs and were afraid to face the electors. Guinness was attacking Premier Asquith's political character when the Speaker ordered him to resume his seat. After passage of the Suspensory Bill, the Commons passed the first reading of the bill establishing a Ministry of Munitions over which Lloyd George will preside. While it is expected the new Government will have support of the House of Commons and Lords with the exception of a few irreconcilables such as Guinness, there is to be an unofficial opposition in both Houses. The leadership of that in the Lower House has been assumed by the Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, Unionist, and by the courtesy extended to Privy Counsellors Chaplin took his seat on the front bench on the left of the Speaker where he had his companions new and old. Privy Counsellors all known supporters of the coalition. Behind them, however, was a little group of radicals who will accept nothing but a Liberal Government and who as a token of their disapproval of the coalition crossed the floor of the House and took seats from which they faced the Ministers and where they will be in a better position to cross examine them. The proceedings of the Lords to-day were confined to a first reading of the bill relieving the new ministers from appealing for re-election, and to a few remarks by the Marquis of Crewe and Lord Lansdowne, and the entry of Italy into the war. Sir Stanley O. Buckmaster, the new Lord High Chancellor, occupied the woolsack for the first time.

THE CAPTURE OF PRZEMYSL.

LONDON, To-day. With the capture of Przemyśl which occurred at an early hour this morning, the Austro-German armies achieved the main object of the great thrust which they commenced against the Russian line in Western Galicia just a month ago to-day. They have yet to drive the Russians further back to establish themselves in an easily defended position, which will enable them to detach forces for operations against Italy and the Allies on the West. Whether or not they accomplish this, the German allies have won a great victory and with the suddenness which overshadows all the past operations of the war. With the surrender of the fortress they fell in to Russian hands, according to official reports 120,000 Austrians, 600 guns and an immense amount of war material. Most forts however had been completely despoiled by Austrians before they surrendered. This is considered in military circles here to account for the fact that the fortress succumbed so quickly to the Austro-German attack. Of what booty the Austro-Germans have captured with the fortress there is no estimate. It is not expected that the victors will be satisfied with their gain of Przemyśl, but that they doubtless will endeavor to push on to Lemberg and even farther and put the Russians in such positions that they will not be able to resume the offensive for many months. The British Government is urging workmen and employers to turn out shells in enormous quantities. Lloyd George the new Minister of Munitions is touring the country with this object in view. The expectation is that the new British armies when they take the field will be equipped as no other forces ever were. Meantime the French continue operations in North Artois where it is declared they are slowly moving the Germans out of strongly fortified positions. The British on their part became more active in the regions of Ypres and La Bassée, while the Italians continue to report the capture of important positions along their frontier.

10.50 A.M.

GREAT APPEAL BY LLOYD GEORGE AT MANCHESTER FOR SHOT AND SHELL.

MANCHESTER, To-day. Declaring that the German victory in Galicia was due to overwhelming superiority in equipment and that if the Allies in the west had been as well equipped, the Germans would not have been driven from France and Belgium, Lloyd George, the new Minister of Munitions, made a stirring appeal last night to employers and workmen to supply the British armies with the necessary munitions. "The speech was delivered before employers of engineering trades and Trade Unionists," Lloyd George received a remarkable ovation from the people of Manchester, which was in striking contrast to the manner in which he had been received in this city on previous visits of a political nature, particularly when he appeared at the time of the Boer War as an opponent of that struggle. "I come," he said, "as an emissary of the State to carry the most urgent message ever told to the ears of a Manchester audience. Our country is fighting for its life, for the liberties of Europe, and upon what it does and upon what it is prepared to sacrifice depends the issue. It depends more upon the masters and men occupied in running work-shops than upon any part of the community, whether Britain will emerge from this colossal struggle beaten, humiliated and stripped of power, honor and influence, and a mere bond slave to a cruel military tyranny, or whether it will come out triumphant, free, more powerful than ever for good in the affairs of men. I come here to tell you the truth, unless you know it, you cannot be expected to make sacrifices. Our Russian allies have suffered a severe set-back. The Germans have achieved a great success, not because of the superior valor of their soldiers, or the strategy of their Generals, the German triumph is due entirely to superior equipment—an overwhelming superiority in shot, shell, munitions and equipment. It was a battle won by their skilled industries and especially by the superior organization of German work-shops. Two hundred thousand shells were concentrated in a single hour on the heads of the gallant Russians. Had we been in a position to apply the same process to the Germans on our front, the Germans would have been turned out of France and driven half way across the devastated plain of Flanders. They would have been well out of the country they had tortured and tormented with dastardly cruelty. More than that we should have actually penetrated Germany. For the moment we have more than plenty of men for the equipment available. More men will come to the call but we want workshops to equip them with weapons. The State now needs the help of all, and I am perfectly certain the British engineers can do what the French engineers have already done. In France private firms have given the State assistance at this critical hour, which is beyond computation. The last French victories were largely attributable to the private workshops of France. I am here to ask you to help us to equip our armies with the means for breaking through the German lines in front of our gallant troops, and I know you will do it. Speaking of conscription, he said: "To introduce compulsion as an important element in organizing the nation's resources and skilled industry, does not necessarily mean conscription in the ordinary sense of the term. Conscription means raising by compulsory methods of armaments, food, clothing, and other necessities. I am certain no manly party would protest. We won our liberties in this land on more than one occasion by compulsory service. The Great Republic to the West won its independence and saved its national existence by compulsory service. Two of the greatest democratic countries in Europe to-day, France and Italy, are defending their national existence and liberties by means of compulsory service. It has been the greatest weapon in the hands of democracy many times for winning and the preservation of freedom. All the same it would be a great mistake to resort to it unless it was absolutely necessary. In closing his appeal to employers and men, the Minister said: "Stand by your country now that it has risked its honor, its life in a most chivalrous appeal for every day efforts to increase the output of war material."

SUBMARINE SINKS TRAWLERS.

LONDON, To-day. Two Welsh trawlers were sunk by a German submarine, the Hrold of Cardiff, and the Victoria of Milford Hrold, the former about 150 miles South West of Land's End, the latter 130 miles from St. Ann's Head. Several men on the Victoria were killed by shells from the submarine. The remainder of the ship's company and crew of the Hrold have landed at Milford.

WILSON DRAFTS REJOINER TO GERMANY'S REPLY.

WASHINGTON, To-day. The President yesterday drafted a note, brief but pointed, to be sent to Germany, asking the definite question: Whether the Imperial Government intends to be guided in future by the humane principles embodied in international law for the conduct of Maritime warfare. It will be submitted to the Cabinet to-day and be despatched before the week end. Coincidentally there will start for Berlin a personal emissary of Count Von Bernstorff, German Ambassador, to-day before the Emperor of the German Government. The substance of what the Ambassador learned from President Wilson in his talk yesterday. The public state of public opinion in the United States toward the German Government and the American view on submarine warfare. The President made arrangements for the safe conduct of the convey. His name is not known generally, but foreign Governments already have given assurance to the United States that he will not be molested. The despatch of the Ambassador's report will not affect the sending of the American Government's rejoinder to the last German Note.

POPE BENEDICT AND PEACE.

ROME, To-day. Pope Benedict is preparing a White Book in which he will show the steps he took in support of peace.

GERMANY SORRY (I)

CHRISTIANIA, To-day. Germany has informed Norway that the investigation has shown that the Norwegian steamer Belevage was torpedoed accidentally by a German submarine. The communication says that Germany deplored the fact and is willing to pay full compensation.

MOVING NORTHWARD RAPIDLY.

VIENNA, To-day. German-Austrian forces, which broke through the Russian lines at Strzy, are moving northward rapidly. The Russians are apparently unable to make a stand in the plains, and the chances of doing so north of the River is regarded as problematical, now that Przemyśl has fallen, rendering it possible for General Mackensen to continue his movement eastward. He would naturally meet a check at the Russian fortified positions, partly composed of a chain of lakes extending north and south eighteen miles west of Lemberg. It is thought, however, that these positions will prove untenable, because General Linsingen, having crossed the frontier to west of Miedkoff, will likely cut communications with Lemberg. The Austro-German plan of operations against Lemberg apparently is the same as against Przemyśl.

WANT TO SEVER RELATIONS.

LISBON, To-day. Protesting vehemently against the sinking of two Portuguese ships by German submarines, the press of Portugal demands the Government to immediately sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

AUSTRIANS STRONGLY ENTRENCHED.

ROME, To-day. An official statement says the Russian forces of movement along the entire front, show the situation continues to develop in favor of the Italians, who have assumed an offensive against the Austrians, who are strongly entrenched and supported by powerful artillery.

CUT OFF FROM MEMEL.

LONDON, To-day. Russian forces on the fronts of Lithuania, have cut that city off from Memel, depriving Germans of their base supply, says a despatch from Petrograd. The Russian force is approaching Lithuania from the north. With this city enveloped, the Germans have an outlet to the sea.

EVACUATED FORTRESS AFTER REMOVING BOOTS.

PETROGRAD, To-day. The Russian troops on the fronts to the north and west of fortress of Przemyśl, evacuated their position on Wednesday night, after all the war materials taken from the Austrians had been removed, according to an official statement issued by the Russian General Staff. It is explained that after the capture of Jaroslavl and Radyma by the Austro-German forces, they began to spread along the west bank of the San River, making the defence of Przemyśl a difficult task. The Russians contend they realized from the first that Przemyśl was incapable of defending itself, and they went as far as to leave it as it served their purpose. The positions occupied around Przemyśl extended to Russian front by about 24 miles, and the troops occupying them were exposed to concentrated artillery fire.

IMPORTANT RUSSIAN SUCCESS.

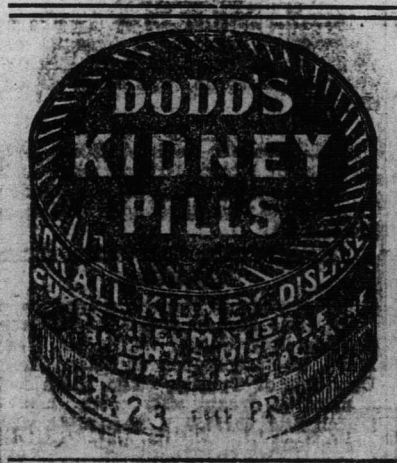

PETROGRAD, To-day. The Russian War Office to-day announced an important success of the Muscovite troops on the Lower San in the vicinity of Pudniw, where four thousand German prisoners and numerous cannon and machine guns were taken. The Russians claim to have pierced the Austro-German line at that point. Pudniw lies in the San Valley about thirty-five miles from Sieniawa.

RECEIVED WITH INDIFFERENCE.

VERA CRUZ, To-day. President Wilson's note to General Carranza and the leaders of other Mexican factions, published without comment in the newspapers here, was received calmly by the public. Apparently it was regarded with indifference by the groups of persons who gathered in the cafes to discuss its contents.

Combatting Zeppelins.

Providence Journal.—There are all sorts of stories about a forthcoming Zeppelin raid on England. London, in particular, it seems, is to be the object of the attack. But, meanwhile, a defence against the dirigibles is being devised. The Zeppelin that flung its deadly missiles on Ramsgate was chased by two aeroplanes as far as the West Hinder lightship. The supremacy of these great aerial machines is to be seriously challenged henceforth. By the time the alleged German air-fleet is ready to descend upon London there will probably be a numerous fleet of aeroplanes ready to receive it, and formidable batteries of anti-air-craft guns also.

THE BRITISH THEATRE.

This popular theatre has an attractive programme for the week-end. Three interesting dramas "Accused," "Buffalo Jim," and "The Prospects" by the Kalem, Vitagraph and Biograph players respectively, will be shown. "The Day of the Dog," "Simon and the Spirits" and "The Clock Went Wrong," are three comedy screeners by the Selig players. "Meller Drammer" is also a comedy brought by the Selig players. Mr. Arthur Priestman Cameron will be heard in popular comedy.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Alex. Rodger took place from her late residence Barnes Road, yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. Rev. J. S. Sutherland officiated at the graveside and interment was at the General Protestant Cemetery.
