THE ESSENTIALS OF MANLINESS

Hear Power, Conscience Power, Life Power, Says Rev. Dr. McCrae.

The inspired and ever-living words of David, greatest of the kings of his land, to Solomon-"Be thou striving therefore and show thyself a man"-were chosen by Rev. D. L. McCrae, Ph.D., of Westminster, last night tokens were very beautiful, and in-cluded a large anchor from the Comof St. Andrew's Church. In these words God spoke to every young man in our age and all ages. To be man-ly was the natural desire of every young man. Yet, unfortunately, many held erroneous views of what constitutes true manliness, and the entertainment of views that were false and vicious was apt to mould a false and vicious life. Three wrong views, he said, were ommonly held. One was that mere physical strength or courage consti-tutes true manifiless. This did not fulfill the Christian character, nor was it true, as character pertained to spirit, not to muscle. He did not spirit, not to muscle. disparage physical strength, but in itself it was a mere brute thing that might be associated with the there was in man. Something more was necessary. Another wrong idea was that mere who had one mental endowment, and put behind it these three powers would be a far greater man than he who had ten talents and did not. "We must remember," he said, "that we must not judge a man by his hatband any more than by his waistband." third wrong view was that restraint should be thrown off, that the power which often developed into license was true manliness. Dr. McCrae earnestly advised young men against these wrong beliefs, and recommended them to read the Bible thoroughly and con-scientiously for a true knowledge, concerning what constitutes a true manly character.

IS ALCOHOL BOTH FOOD AND POISON?

Mrs. Mary Hunt, of Boston, Answers the Question in the Negative.

In her recent address before the W. C. T. U. of London, Mrs. Hunt, of Boston, superintendent of scientific temperance in the World's W. C. T. U., called attention to Prof. Atwater's that they are being answered by the laboratories of Europe as effectively as by those of America. The Outlook has recently been devoting much space to this interesting subject, and has advanced the theory that alcohol is both a food and a poison. This claim, according to Mrs. Hunt, is overwhelmingly refuted by the scientific testi-mony of two continents. Prof. Max Kassowitz, a noted specialist of Vienna, has just published in a leading German medical paper (Deutsche Medicinische Wochenschrift, 1900, No. 32) a careful review of all the recent investigation on the food value of alcohol. After a critical examination of all the claims that have been made for it he gives this as his decision: 'Alcohol for the animal and human organism is not a food and at the same time a poison, but a poison only, which, like all other poisons, in large amounts, has a deadly, paralyzing, and disease-producing action, while in small doses it has only an irritating Mrs. Hunt referred to the action taken last week by the Educational Association at Toronto, which proposed to change the topic of the study from physiology to hygiene, and stat-ed that to do so would be to take away the scientific basis upon which away the scientific basis upon which the temperance reform rests; that the study of physiology and temperance would be sure to degenerate into a later constitution today owes its destruction to the study of the sure that the study of physiology and temperance would be sure to degenerate into a later constitution today owes its destruction. SHARP SWINDLER

Extent of $5,300 and Escapes.

Toronto, April 15 .- One of the most extraordinary swindles perpetrated in recent years on the banks of Toronto came to light last night. George A. Winton, who said he was from St. John, N. B., and was engaged in the bicycle business on King street west, (smooth-shaven, fair complexiond, and apparently about 25 years of age), opened an account at the head office of the Imperial Bank on Thursday de positing $50. On the same day he deposited $20 with the Bank of Commerce, and next day increased his bal-

The check was to his mental strength constitutes true man- own indorsation, and he should have gone at once in the ordinary course and got the money. Instead, he evidently slipped out of the office, erased the $10 in the marked check, put in $2,455 in its place, returned and drew the money. Before this fraud was discovered he went over to the Bank of Commerce, where he had made ac quaintances by putting in two deposits and drawing out $10 by check, and had a check for $20 marked. more he left for a few moments, instead of going direct from the ledgerkeeper's office to the cashier's and raised the check to $2,900. The net proceeds of his day's work was $5,300, and Winton got clear away.
