ANNIVERSARY AT KOMOKA.

The 23rd anniversary of the founding of the congregation of the Komoka Presbyterian Church was fittingly observed on Sunday. The anniversary sermons were preached by Rev. Dr. McCrae, of Westminster, in the afternoon and evening, and were very largely attended. In the evening the speaker made feeling and appropriate reference to the death of President McKinley. A special feature of the services was that no special collection was asked, the church being free from debt, but notwithstanding this the offering was liberal.

ROADHOUSE IS ### UNDER ARREST.

London Socialist Is Charged With a Serious Crime.

Complainant Is a Young Woman Who Accuses Him With Having Betrayed Her.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—Robert Roadhouse held forth on Saturday evening to a crowd of several hundred on Temperance street, just west of Yonge, Toronto. Roadhouse was mounted on a small wooden stand, illuminated by a gasoline lamp. He began by referring to the assassination of President McKinley, and claimed that socialism, or more particularly the Socialist Labor Party, was opposed to the methods of anarchism. There was no use in killing a president, a czar or any other ruler, another man was always ready to step into his place. Roadhouse then launched into an attack upon trades unions, and ran foul of a trades unionist in the audience who gave him some back-chat. The trades unionists, Roadhouse declared, were made the tools of the old political parties. Why? Because they were duped by their leaders, who were taking, looking for dirty government jobs. Dan O'Donoghue was a fake, Robert Glocking was a fake, Joe Marks, of London, was a fake, and Frank Flahy, of London, was a fake. It would be found, Roadhouse went on to say, that all the so-called labor leaders were in the pocket of the capitalist. The Union, Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Steel Workers, and the rest of them—had at one time or another done the dirty work of the Republican or Democratic Party. He then turned to the Canadian labor leaders. He said the dirty work of the Grit or Labor Party are union wreckers. He claimed, He charged the locomotive fire-brakesmen with having "scabbed" during the strike of the street railway workers of the C. P. R. trackmen. At the time of the Albany strike, he said, when people were in other right direction, the railway unions acted as "scabs" again. "Had they been true unionists," he shouted, "they would have handled the trains which drew the militia and the scabs to Albany to put down the strike of the Albany trackmen."

ROADHOUSE ARRESTED.

Robert Roadhouse, the socialist, who has been stirring things up at Gore Park, Hamilton, for some nights of late, and to whose utterances the trouble of Saturday night is attributed, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was taken to the police station, where he was held for some time, and then released. He was charged with disturbing the peace, and was evidently charged when he found out. He will not be admitted to bail.

Amusements.

"HUMBURG" AT THE GRAND.

"Humburg," one of the late Roland Reed's comedy successes of almost a decade ago, was brought to the Grand last night by a good company, headed by Walter Hodges, a young comedian, whose presentation of the principal role has met with favor elsewhere. The comedy, which is a farce, forming in several respects to the canons of construction observed in most of its kind, contains abundant opportunities for the actor to display his wit and his physical qualities. The humor displayed by Walter Hodges in his delineation of the principal character, a young man who is supposed to be in connection with the riot, and was evidently charged when he found out. He will not be admitted to bail.

The minor parts were satisfactorily filled. Specialties, introduced between acts by Miss Emma Italia and Mr. Emilie, received, took well, but were each marked by broad touches that should be eliminated to make them acceptable to Canadian audiences.

"QUO VADIS" TONIGHT.

The production of "Quo Vadis" at the Grand Opera House tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night, under the direction of F. C. Whitney and Edwin Knowles, is arousing interest far beyond the ordinary, for the theme of the play is one that appeals to all. The case of accident drops to the seldom visit a theater, as well as to every habitue. Messrs. Whitney and Knowles were the first theatrical promoters to realize the stage possibilities in "Quo Vadis," which is a novel, and the instantaneous success of the play parallels only that of the book. London, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Detroit, Washington and Philadelphia were the only cities in the world favored by a glimpse of the Whitney-Knowles production last season. By reason of an oversight on the part of the author, the stage rights to "Quo Vadis" were never protected by our copyright laws, and as a result there were dozens of feeble imitations launched upon the theatrical sea promptly upon the announcement of the success achieved by Messrs. Whitney and Knowles. Few of these survived, however, and the stage version made for Whitney and Knowles is the only one that has received a noteworthy consideration. Despite the heavy expense necessary for taking such an aggregation on tour, there will be no advance in prices when seen here for the first and only time this season. Seats now on sale. Prices—Orchestra, 2 rows, $1; balcony, 75c; balcony, 50c; gallery, 25c. Owing to the length of time required in the presentation, it is absolutely necessary that the curtain rise promptly at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. The special price matinee Wednesday afternoon should attract a large attendance of ladies and children.

"THE GIRL FROM PARIS."

"The Girl From Paris" will have its first presentation at the new Grand next Friday evening. The piece is from the pen of Ivan Caryll and Geo. Danse, who are also responsible for "The Gelsin" and "The Runaway Girl." In "The Girl From Paris" they laid the foundation to their fame and offered theatergoers a lot of merry musical jingles, clever dances, brisk, bright dialogue and scenic specialties. The company presenting the play is headed by Miss Olive Ulrich, who is ably supported by Will Gardner, Geo. Sidman, Frederick Duff, Blanche Verona, Sadie MacLaren, Noble Reynolds, Florence Henry, Helen Norton, Feroi Desmond, Tina Marshall, and a chorus of half a score of pretty maidens.

PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL

An Aggressive Paper by Principal Merchant of the London Normal School—Resolution of Sympathy.

President John McPherson last night in St. Andrew's lecture room presided over what was probably the best meeting yet held of the London Presbyterian Council. The attendance was large, the paper read by Principal Merchant, of the London Normal School, one of the best yet submitted, while the discussion was animated, interesting and thorough. Principal Merchant's views were very thoroughgoing and radical in relation to his subject, "The Needs and Defects of Sabbath School Arrangements and Teaching," but, by the time the discussion closed, it was felt by all that his views, if not to be accepted in their entirety, were at least in the right direction. Principal Merchant believes that the church does not bestow one-tenth of the time, money and attention that the training of the young in Scripture knowledge deserves. The needs to be better special buildings, a better all-round equipment, better trained teachers, and a vast addition to the proper work of the church. He needs to be in connection with Presbyterian churches in this city probably ten times as much money as expended on choir expenditures compared with the sums devoted to Sabbath school work. Nearly all the expenditures and conveniences in connection with a modern church are expended on choir, whereas the tenfold attention of the church should be directed to the young. Mr. Merchant believed that the chief energies of the minister and his assistants should be devoted to the spiritual nurture of those who in a few years will be the men and women of the future. After a very animated and exhaustive discussion, a cordial vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Merchant, with the request that he revise and prepare it for publication at an early date. The president suggested that it would be appropriate, as coming from a fully representative Presbyterian body, that a resolution should be adopted with respect to the assassination of the late President McKinley. It was then moved by Mr. John Cameron and seconded by Rev. J. G. Stuart, that the London Presbyterian Council of London, Ontario, take this opportunity to place on record our sincere sympathy with the people of the United States in their great national bereavement, in the death of the late President McKinley at the hands of an assassin, together with our detestation of the dastardly crime. We recognize in William McKinley the able, upright and high-minded chief magistrate of a great nation, and the exemplar of highest Christian manhood. He gave his honors to the world again. His blessed path to Heaven, and slept in peace. We beg respectfully to tender to Mrs. McKinley our sincere sympathy in the death under such tragic circumstances of her chivalrous and devoted husband; and we pray for her, as for the nation, the sustaining and guiding hand of the Divine Providence. And resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent, through Col. Culver, United States consul in this city, to United States Secretary Hay, and to Mrs. McKinley.
