Manitoba Party Claims Canadian Situation Grows Worse Steadily.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Aug. 8 .- John Queen. Labor member of the Manitoba legislature, who bitterly condemned methods employed in encouraging Britishers to emigrate to Canada, at the recent empire labor conference, has been sustained in his stand by the Independent Labor party of Manitoba.

In a cable sent by the provincial board of the party to the Daily Herald, Labor's official organ in London, confidence is expressed in Mr. Queen and his criticism of the Canadian government upheld. The cable depicts unemployment conditions in Canada as "getting steadily worse," spreading of false propaganda relating to the country deplored and characterized as a 'gross injustice' to those who other-wise would remain at home. The Canadian government is taken to task for conducting "subsidized immigration," and the policy is con-demned as one that can only lead to disappointment for those who often found themselves unable to make a living after a few months' residence in the country.

The policy of the Independent Labor party, the cable states, is not opposed to a natural influx, but on the other hand welcomed the volun-

The Druse uprising causes considerable worry in well-informed quarters who know the difficulties France is going to meet in Syria unless the rebellion can be crushed immediately. From the maze of in-

Secretary of British Miners' Federation Declares Baldwin Party at Stake.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 9 .- Dispersal of the ninisters and members of parliament or a long vacation seems not likely to stop the criticism of the government's method of obtaining a truce in the coal-mining dispute.

A prominent Conservative writer n the Sunday newspapers bluntly accuses the government of having, for prudential reasons, financed a Communist triumph.'

The writer further declares that Premier Baldwin staked himself and his party upon a prodigious gamble. A. J. Cook, secretary of the miners federation, who by the miners and Laborite extremists generally is be-ing halled as the hero of the hour for his activities in the mine dispute, epeaking today at Crook, County Durham, claimed that labor's victory was the greatest in the history of the labor movement. Its lesson was that labor could get only what it is strong enough to take. He predicted a first-class political crisis during the coming nine months, in consequence of the government handling the coal

"Premier Baldwin told me," said "Premier Baldwin told me," said Mr. Cook, in the course of his speech, "'You had us this time, but hereafter we will be prepared.' Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill on the same occasion said, 'Remember, Cook, this is not a gift from us, but it is cheaper than a revolution."

Mr. Cook said that in reply to the chancellor he declared: "We don't want revolution. We don't want to destroy one another, for that's what evolution means.'

What is said to be a moderate statistical estimate of the subsidy granted by the government to the coal miners shows that the loss of £173,000 suffered by the South Wales coal mine owners for the first six months of 1925 will, on the present basis, be changed into a profit of £949.000, and there is a general admission, even by many Conservative newspapers, that the subsidy is only too likely to involve the taxpayers in loss of £20,000,000 and perhaps £40,000,000, thus completely upsetting

I had seen the Furniture ad., the pretty windows, and I had heard the sale spoken of. But today was the first day I had a few minutes at my disposal, so I went "posthaste" to the Furniture Department.

Furniture always makes me enthused, but my pocketbook will not at all times back up my enthusiasm. But today I was agreeably surprised. As I gazed about me my eyes rested on a lovely little dining-room suite which I promptly thought would be suitable for a small home or an apartment. It was a nine-piece set in old English oak, and only one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

One set particularly attracted my attention. It was solid ecolnut in Colonial design. A beautiful set with a very attractive buffet. I went to open what I thought a drawer, by means of an exquisite handle, and found-a small cuphoard. It is really lovely.

There were Chesterfield sets greatly reduced. And I spied three artistic-looking tea wagons. The many things are really worth seeing and you will indeed be rewarded by furniture at an exceptionally low price

RAYON

Its Wearing and Washing Qualities

The wearing qualities of Rayon are equal to any other material of an equal grade used in like manner.

It is well known that wool must be laundered in certain ways and with certain soaps to avoid shrinking. It is also well known that hot water and hot irons are enemies to silk. But the characteristics of Rayon are not so well understood. No water is too hot or too cold for Rayon, and it will withstand roughly while wet. When dry again, Rayon regains its full original strength. As nearly all Rayon is fast dyed, there is little danger of harm strong soaps better than silk or wool. But it must not be handled ing the colors when washing, but a knitted Rayon garment should not be hung up to dry. It has been found by means of tests that the Rayon garment will outlast a silk garment when subjected to the same use and treatment, while similar tests with cotton show that it wears just as Rayon, therefore, when treated with the same care as silk, will give entire satisfaction.
