

thia

By Pastor Charles Wagner

AND TO SERVE

In the twenty-second chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke Jesus says: 'Who shall not love his neighbor as himself, he shall not be able to love me, and he that loves his neighbor as himself, he shall love me, and I will love him, and I will consume him.' ... Wine turns to vinegar and food becomes poison through fermentation.

THEY DO IT.

The Japanese minister at the New Orleans States, which he tells with great pride two women dis-

FREE PASSES.

nt Refers to Roosevelt's Example.

May 12.—A. B. Stickler of the Chicago & Great West, who has been appointed to the committee on inter-criticized the free pass was 300 miles from the story of his bayonet charge. The admiral in an dead four years, it is the official denial may not the slightest respect of about 20, must be a good education, which is the stable and cucumbers, milk stands pigs; must be of gentle; early riser and teetotalers required.

LECT ALIBI.

FOR LITTLE.

CRIME AND THE JAIL

Crime, like other evils, is a product of causes usually susceptible of social control. At the thirty-second annual congress of the National Prison Association recently held at Philadelphia, Pa., there were present upward of one hundred prison officials representing the penitentiaries of the United States and Canada, and a large number of criminologists and students of social movements.

THE NEWS OF EUROPE.

London, May 6.—Lord Hugh Cecil, M.P., has written a most interesting article in the 'Times' on the differences and disagreements which have arisen in Greenwich.

Joseph Jefferson

Incidents of His Career—His Own "Rip Van Winkle" a Failure—Lincoln to the Rescue.

Incidents of His Career—His Own "Rip Van Winkle" a Failure—Lincoln to the Rescue.

It is a curious fact that Joseph Jefferson's first appearance as Rip Van Winkle was a failure. He first fell in with the part in 1847, and then with Charles Burke, who, himself, had dramatized Washington Irving's story, and played the title-role.

Resentment in War

Written for the Sunday Colonist by Capt. C. L. Flick, Late of the South African Horse.

Previous apprehension of death is common to all races of mankind. Numerous well authenticated instances are recorded in the annals of history, and by the world at large. The power of "second sight," as it is sometimes called, seems to be more common among the mountaineers of the Alps, and the closer contact with all that is wild, wild and beautiful in nature.

INDIAN TOM TO HANG.

Vancouver, May 12.—Tom Klennel-dino, the Indian tried for murder at the spring assays here was found guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon and today was sentenced to be hanged on July 25 next.

PUGET SOUND CUSTOMS.

Port Townsend, May 12.—(Special.)—The report of the customs for April, just issued, presents the largest totals ever shown in the Puget Sound customs district, and the fiscal year normally is expected to show a still larger total.

FRANCE AND JAPAN.

Paris, May 12.—Dr. Motono, the Japanese minister, called at the foreign office this afternoon, and had an extended conference with foreign Minister Delcasse on a subject not generally supposed to be the neutrality question, which is generally considered to have been settled by the late agreement of the departure of the Russian second Pacific squadron from French waters.

Gold Dredges On the Fraser

Another Big Scoop Will Be at Work Near Lytton This Fall.

Interesting Account of the Progress of This Branch of Mining.

From Our Own Correspondent. Vancouver, May 10.—Another big gold dredging company is to operate on the Fraser River—the Pittsburg Gold Dredging Co., Ltd., of Lytton, B.C. The $80,000 dredge, built by the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, will be operated at Lytton this fall.

Old Theory Exploded

Actual tests of the value of gravels below water have been possible only since the introduction of the dredge. It has been almost impossible to find barren gravels anywhere, but it was noted in 1858, when by the discovery of gold in the bars and benches they were overruled by eager and excited miners.

Clam Shell Dredge

Then came another venturesome spirit with a clamshell dredge. The apparatus consisted of a large wooden bucket, which was lowered into the bottom, and when it was full of clams, the bucket was hoisted up and the clams were dumped into the hold of the boat.

Clam Shell Dredge

Then came another venturesome spirit with a clamshell dredge. The apparatus consisted of a large wooden bucket, which was lowered into the bottom, and when it was full of clams, the bucket was hoisted up and the clams were dumped into the hold of the boat.

Clam Shell Dredge

Then came another venturesome spirit with a clamshell dredge. The apparatus consisted of a large wooden bucket, which was lowered into the bottom, and when it was full of clams, the bucket was hoisted up and the clams were dumped into the hold of the boat.

Clam Shell Dredge

Then came another venturesome spirit with a clamshell dredge. The apparatus consisted of a large wooden bucket, which was lowered into the bottom, and when it was full of clams, the bucket was hoisted up and the clams were dumped into the hold of the boat.

Clam Shell Dredge

Then came another venturesome spirit with a clamshell dredge. The apparatus consisted of a large wooden bucket, which was lowered into the bottom, and when it was full of clams, the bucket was hoisted up and the clams were dumped into the hold of the boat.

Hunting on the Island

An Interesting Article From the Pen of a Well Known Victorian.

To the January number of the Hunter-Trapper, a sportsman's paper, published at Gallipolis, Ohio, Herbert Croker has contributed a very interesting article on the hunting on the island of British Columbia.

INDIAN TOM TO HANG.

Vancouver, May 12.—Tom Klennel-dino, the Indian tried for murder at the spring assays here was found guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon and today was sentenced to be hanged on July 25 next.

PUGET SOUND CUSTOMS.

Port Townsend, May 12.—(Special.)—The report of the customs for April, just issued, presents the largest totals ever shown in the Puget Sound customs district, and the fiscal year normally is expected to show a still larger total.

INDIAN TOM TO HANG.

Vancouver, May 12.—Tom Klennel-dino, the Indian tried for murder at the spring assays here was found guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon and today was sentenced to be hanged on July 25 next.

PUGET SOUND CUSTOMS.

Port Townsend, May 12.—(Special.)—The report of the customs for April, just issued, presents the largest totals ever shown in the Puget Sound customs district, and the fiscal year normally is expected to show a still larger total.

INDIAN TOM TO HANG.

Vancouver, May 12.—Tom Klennel-dino, the Indian tried for murder at the spring assays here was found guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon and today was sentenced to be hanged on July 25 next.

PUGET SOUND CUSTOMS.

Port Townsend, May 12.—(Special.)—The report of the customs for April, just issued, presents the largest totals ever shown in the Puget Sound customs district, and the fiscal year normally is expected to show a still larger total.

INDIAN TOM TO HANG.

Vancouver, May 12.—Tom Klennel-dino, the Indian tried for murder at the spring assays here was found guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon and today was sentenced to be hanged on July 25 next.

PUGET SOUND CUSTOMS.

Port Townsend, May 12.—(Special.)—The report of the customs for April, just issued, presents the largest totals ever shown in the Puget Sound customs district, and the fiscal year normally is expected to show a still larger total.