There are more than 30,000 vessels in the world of 100 tons or more.

America and China enjoy a monopoly of siligons.

Last year more than 32,000 children were taught to swim in the London public schools.

Halley's comet has had its picture taken but we have not heard whether it looked pleasant.

Trouble is the one thing we know of that can always be found, when one looks for it.

Next time over trifles, there are too many big things it would be more profitable to attend to.

Cook charges Peary with business greed. "Mastering" Cook kept right on fattening his own bank account.

Many an admiring parent thinks these are dollars in her daughter's plume playing when in reality it is only pounds.

Some children seem to think that if they do not correct their parents in public they are entitled to be called wild.

Of course it is early yet but don't forget that the Christmas shopping days are not very far distant according to the calendar.

Quebec will prohibit the export of unmanufactured pulpwood of Crown Lands, thus showing no real of American retaliation.

Will Crooks, M. P. says the people of Britain will never consent to a tax on food. It is to be hoped he does not over-estimate their intelligence.

Wm. T. Stodd is obtaining spiritual warnings of disasters to aviators. That looks like a safe field for prophetic and other mystic lines of insight.

It is satisfactory to know that the production of gold in the Yukon is again rising. This is probably due to the newer and more scientific methods of extraction.

There must be some sort of mental telegraphy in the Arctic regions, says the old Cook and the men with Peary, else did Cook and the men with Peary know that Berger was on his way home.

Some people are born rich; others have riches thrust upon them. Of the latter is Mr. M. J. O'Brien of Renfrew who last week made a net profit of $400,000 on one mining transaction.

Mr. William Lamer advised his son to study Shakespeare and Gibbon and Macaulay. The Premier is almost a shining example of what may be accomplished by such studies.

In some parts of England there are cookery schools for boys. Considering that about half the girls nowadays know more about embroidery than they do about cooking, guess there is need of such schools.

It is just as true today as it was five thousand years from now, that the most vital and important facts of life cannot be taught by academic training, but must be learned by every human being for himself.

Dr. Cook says that at the stage of his journey he concludes from to-day, or if the jaws of both he and Peary had been sealed in this way life might have been more cheerful for the rest of us.

If food fortification is always the dominant thing to make war on, the most vital and important facts of life cannot be taught by academic training, but must be learned by every human being for himself.

A gentleman (presumably a subscriber to the Register) for the building of a cathedral in St. George's, an exact copy of the one in possession of St. George's and St. George's. I send you one of them. Well, which? Surely not the coal ball.

The czar of Russia rules over 160,000,000 people.

Nansen thinks Cook's new story is all right, and Nansen is pretty well qualified to detect an Arctic gold-brick.

It is quite true that the melancholy days have come, as any school boy can tell you, now that school has started again.

Has anyone mentioned that the discoverer of the North Pole got away from the spot on Skidoo Day—the twenty-third.

Both the hardy explorers found the North Pole in April. Neither one, however, would own up that he found it on the first of the month.

The hard part of it is that the photographs of the North Pole would be any more convincing than a picture of any other cake of ice.

In the skating season would only follow immediately upon the heels of the swimming period the happiness of the small boy would be suggested.

New York is going to cure tuberculosis patients by giving them work as road carriers and plumbers, thus causing them to forget their other troubles.

If the aeroplane had it to follow immediately upon the heels of the beach basket creations there will be no room for the poor-man-in this earth.

A notable feature in the evolution of railway traffic in England is the prospect of the total abolition of second class travelling on all the principal railroads.

Chas. J. P. Chase, the man who invented a "hot" scarf, has taken out a patent on an article. Merely his original invention with some new arrangements, probably.

No one attempted to tell what results it will produce, but the theory of the North Pole. The unexpected has happened in the form of a bitter controversy between rival claimants. No one expected this.

The meaningless nature of the parrot-like use of the phrase "secretly" was well illustrated in a St. John paper the other day, which announced that "a pretty wedding will take place this evening," etc.

The Ottawa Citizen has grown half-giant these last few days, claiming to be "the omnibus" in Europe. It is a strange institution. The city now bears the name of being the seat of the Knipp works and the tremendous activity of Germany preparing for war.

Chicago is favoring the use of electric motor power on all railways within eight miles of the City Hall. The object is the suppression of the noise nuisance and a part of the noise nuisance. Heretofore efforts have been made to render great cities fit for human habitation, but it seems easier for the cities to conform to the city's tortures than reform the city.

Victoria, Vancouver is the happy little town of the Territory in its special number of the Vancouver Saturday Sunset in which the city's claims and progress are attractively set forth. The growth of Vancouver is recent years is one of the West's many surprises, and none can visit without feeling some of the optimism exhibited by every resident. Lord Strathcona (presumably a population of half a million. What word agrees it may reach Vancouver will be one of the largest and most enterprising of Canada's cities.

The search of the most of the big game that is killed is left to the woods. Many hunters take only the choice parts of the carcass and leave the rest. They are tired, or in a hurry to get home, or will have to walk for days to get a home, and don't have the means. There should be a provision in the law against such conduct.

Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic and Cramps

Nearly every one is troubled with these complaints during the summer months. But, do they know what to do to cure it. Thousands do, many don't.

WE CAN TELL YOU!

DR. FOWLER'S Extract of Wild Strawberry WILL DO IT!

It has been on the market 64 years, and is universally used in thousands of families. There are many imitations of this sterling remedy, so do not be led into taking something "just as good" which some unscrupulous druggist tries to talk you into taking.

Dr. Fowler's is the original. There are none just as good. It cures Summer Complaint, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Sickness and all Bowel Complaints. Price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

We do not suppose that the impact of a comet would mean much more than a shower of fire and dust. There are, always people, however, who spend their days in terror of one sort or another, and these will feel better now that the astronomers have corrected their calculations and given out the assurance that Halley's comet is not going to collide with the earth as it will come no nearer to us than thirteen million miles.

The Central Vermont Railway claims not to have killed a passenger for seven and a half years. To this an unfriendly critic, the Rutland News, replies that during this time the railway has through its poor train service broken many a heart and caused an infinite amount of profanity on the part of its patrons. Statistics are probably misleading.

DON'T CHERISH GREAT EXPECTATIONS

We advise our Bathurst friends not to indulge in highly colored expectations of future prosperity as the result of the transfer of the Adams, Burns & Co's property to an American syndicate. They may soon change their tune. Some of the contractors have to have inadequate capital and try to do business on credit. They all, as far as possible, substitute machinery for men, and employ as much cheap labor and as few skilled hands as possible. They come only to make money out of the country for themselves, and will leave if they don't succeed in doing so. We would rather see the money lands and mills remain in the possession of New Brunswicks owners, even though they were not quite up to date in machinery and some other things.—Canadian World.

TAKING CHANCES IN THE RAILWAY BUSINESS

The writer of this paragraph accompanied an occasional party of railway managers from Halifax to Quebec by special train, some years ago, and when the telegraph failed to work at one place on the line, the train did not proceed. Why not go to the next station? asked the impatient reporter; there's plenty of time to reach it before the next train would train is due. "General Manager" O'Brien of the Boston and Acadia R. R. quietly answered: "Young man, don't take chances in this business. He could not say this until he had recently taken in the moving of trains. Night operators at many stations have been dismissed, and engineers and conductors are left in many cases to get by their own judgment. The special train that met the Maritime Express head on Wednesday morning, had orders to cross it at Nash's Creek, and was held behind there. Do you think you can make it. Bob?" asked the fireman as they pulled out of the station next to Nash's Creek, and the driver replied: "I think so." He thought he could make it, and set at liberty under the regulations and in the absence of any facilities for getting orders or instructions by telegraph or radio messages. He failed by two minutes, and the dreadful disaster occurred. The loss of property, to say nothing of the loss of life, amounted to many times the sum of the salaries of the dismissed operators.

The Management Board of the railway should change its ways, and adopt Mr. O'Brien's motto—"We take no chances in this business." He failed by two minutes, and the dreadful disaster occurred. The loss of property, to say nothing of the loss of life, amounted to many times the sum of the salaries of the dismissed operators.

TRAMPS HAD NARROW ESCAPE. If three tramps had not been made to leave the blind baggage at Pettit Roher it is highly probable that there would have been six victims instead of three. The boxes were being kept the engine and had not been notified until the arrival of the train at Pettit Roher, where they were put off.

WRIGHT BREAKS THE RECORD

COLLEGE PARK, Maryland, Oct. 9.—With practically a dead calm settled over College Park, Wilbur Wright today broke the world's record for speed in aeroplane over a 500 meter course, including a turn beyond the course, his time being 58.5 seconds, or 20 seconds less than that made by Delagarde over a similar course in France.
