

*Two New Works, by Count Tolstói,
"The Greatest Living Russian Writer."*

The Long Exile, and Other Stories for Children.

12mo, $1.25.

In these "stories for children" the genius and personality of Count Tolstói are displayed in a new and surprising light. These school scenes, and particularly the fables and stories which have had unexampled popularity in Russia, give very vivid pictures of varied life, and will delight many young readers in America.

Parents and teachers as well as young people will be charmed by their quaintness and simplicity of style, their dramatic strength, and their delicate touches of humor, as well as by the unobtrusive lessons which they enforce. It is a notable addition to juvenile literature.

Napoleon and the Russian Campaign.

With new portrait of the author. 12mo, $1.00.

What is war? What are the conditions that bring it about? How is its progress affected?

These questions are asked and answered in a brilliant and original way by Count Tolstói in this noteworthy volume, the text of which is based upon an extraordinary study of Napoleon's Invasion of Russia. He argues that the part played by the "great man and genius" has been vastly overestimated; that they are simply the manifestations of some popular movement, and that even the greatest of commanders is but the choice of circumstance, the sword in the hand of fate. The Count gives a scathing arraignment of Napoleon, and closes his argument with an eloquent assertion of the vanity of human wisdom when set up against the decrees of an inscrutable Providence.

Maximina.

By DON ARMANDO PALACIO VALDÉS, author of "The Marquis of Peñalta." 12mo, $1.50.

This powerful and dramatic work describes life in Madrid at the time when the revolutionary fever was rife. The heroine is a beautiful girl from the provinces, married to an aristocratic young editor of a liberal journal. Her character is drawn with marvellous fidelity. Journalism, politics, and society life furnish the scenes, which are painted with a brilliant touch. The book abounds in witty and humorous episodes which form all the deeper contrast with the more serious and tragic portions of the story. It is one of the notable books of the day.

Mr. W. D. HOWELLS gives an enthusiastic four-page review of this book in Harper's Magazine, in which he speaks of "the graphic fidelity of his pictures of life so remote as that of modern Madrid," of its admirable texture, unflinching right-mindedness, its clear and intelligent conscience. He declares that there is not a word in it that offends against purity or good morals, and that the story is "a flawless praise of marriage and wifehood, and one of the most exquisitely touching and consoling books ever written; simple, natural, and honest, as only the fiction of our time knows how to be."

Initials and Pseudonyms.

By REV. WILLIAM CUSHING. Second Series. 8vo, $3.00.

The publishers take pleasure in announcing the publication of the supplementary volume of Mr. William Cushing's Initials and Pseudonyms. The volume has been prepared with the utmost care to insure accuracy, and a vast amount of biographical and bibliographical information has been incorporated. The two volumes contain unquestionably the fullest and most accurate compilation of the sort extant. They are simply indispensable to all libraries and literary workers.
