for Halifax, and next to the magnificent gifts of George Munro and the bequests of William Murdoch, who died twenty years ago, is the largest gift ever made in Nova Scotia. Sir William Young, who is now in very ill health, is over eighty-six years of age, without any family, and is reported to be worth between $300,000 and $400,000 The college will probably put up a $50,000 building early in the season, and add wings to it as required. The great need for a new college building is shown by the fact that between forty and fifty Maritime men attended McGill during the Sir William Young's session just closed. splendid gift of $20,000 ought to serve as a great inducement for several other comparatively wealthy Haligonians to do likewise.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives the people of Halifax some good advice. After describing the great natural advantages of the port and stating that the proposed new graving dock will be the largest dock in the world, it says that the city would probably have a great future before it if its citizens had some of the energy that characterizes some of the founders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and would sink their individualism and work together for the interest of their city and port as well as for the welfare and progress of the great Dominion of Canada. The Pall Mall Gazette has struck the nail on the head. The people of Halifax are to provincial. If the city is ever to have a great future it will be because the people wake up to the fact that they are not an isolated community, but part of the Dominion of Canada for all time, and that the only way to secure prosperity is to be alive to the commercial epportunities of Canada.
