

therefore, the only rule in these cases is the rule of complete joint action by both parties. Both the University and the Department should always bear in mind carefully that the public is the real party interested in all these questions affecting fair and friendly cooperation between the University and the schools.

You may, if you wish, Mr. Principal, give my compliments to Mr. Mitchell and say that I said so.

Yours very truly,

Ira A. MacLay.
Dean

Encls.2.