Our Entire Stock of Mink Furs at Magnificent Reductions

The weather man is partly responsible for the remarkable condition of the fur market, which has made possible the splendid pricing shown below. The first cold snap will bring prices back to normal, but we take a chance on the open weather continuing, at least, over tomorrow, and will make these reductions on beautiful furs that include our best stocks. It is doubtful if such an opportunity will occur again in a long time.

A Green Ticket on every piece of Mink in the department will show the reductions made for Tuesday's sale only.
