The show at Munro Park this week is superior to anything seen there this season. It is Daly's minstrel show, and last night the complete show made a decided hit. It opens with the whole company, and good dialog and songs are introduced. The olio includes Don Harrington, ventriloquist, who is one of the best in his line, giving six different dialects. The Bijou comedy trio, composed of Gus Neser, George Dorsey and H. Waltjen, present 15 minutes of up-to-date comedy and song, and give some fine catch songs and various imitations, which take well. Mr. Daly gives several good imitations on a violin, and the crowd were well pleased with his work last night. The bill closes with acrobatic comedy work by Mac and Mac. The show on the whole is the best of the season, and runs all week, with matinees daily at 3.30.

AN OLD TYPEWRITER FOUND.

No Further Need for Secretary McQueen to Search City Hall.

When the Board of Control at a recent meeting gave half an hour's deliberation to the application of the Assessment Commissioner for a new typewriting machine in his office, the result of the discussion was the recommendation that enquiries be made by the secretary with a view to discovering an old typewriter not being used somewhere in the building that would meet the necessity. In this connection the following communication has been sent to the Assessment Commissioner:

Toronto, July 21, 1902.

Robt. J. Fleming, Esq., Assessment Commissioner, City Hall, Toronto:

Dear Sir,—I read in the papers that you have been ordered by the Board of Control to get an old typewriter.

I want to make an application for the position for any mother-in-law. She is quite old, and I am sure would fill the position. She was for many years associated with your friend, Mr. Frank Spence, as a temperance advocate, by whom she is highly recommended.

Trusting you will give this your favorable consideration, and she will get the job before it is sought by one of the old women on the Board of Control, as it is rumored.

Your well wisher,
William Cometoo.

The communication will, in all improbability, be referred to the Mayor.

"YES, I FINISHED HER,"

Said a Halifax Murderer, Who Cut His Wife's Throat.

Halifax, July 21.—A brutal and cold-blooded murder was committed in this city at 6.30 o'clock to-day. Geo. William Cooke, aged 45, married Lydia Arnold, aged 42, six weeks ago. This evening he deliberately cut her head off with a razor and went to sleep in the bed from which the corpse of his wife had fallen and which was covered with blood of the victim.

The murder was committed at 299 Albemarle-street, where the couple resided with Cooke's wife's sister, Eliza. The latter heard her sister scream, and on going to the room from which the cry proceeded was horrified to see her sister lying on the floor, partly under the bed, with her throat cut from ear to ear. She ran to the police station, and an officer went up and arrested Cooke.

When the officer told him his wife was dead he replied: "Yes, I finished her. I cut her throat with the razor."

He offered no resistance, but quietly walked to the station and was locked up.
