PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

NATIONAL CHORUS TONIGHT.

Rush seats to the number of two hundred will be available for tonight's concert by the National Chorus in Massey Hall. They will be on sale at fifty cents at seven o'clock. The chorus, now concluding its fourteenth season under the direction of Dr. Albert Ham, has for months been rehearsing a most excellent program, hearing the assistance of Mr. Morgan Kingston, the leading tenor with the Chicago Grand Opera Company. A few good seats are left.

"FLORA BELLA"

With witty lines, clever tunes and graceful dancing, "Flora Bella," with Lina Abrahams and the original cast from her New York run, begins a week's engagement at the Alexandra Monday night. The scenes take place in Russia. A princess, without her husband's knowledge, has been a cabaret singer, but, believing that a prince should conduct himself in a cold old way and almost loses her husband. She returns to her cabaret life for just one night, is discovered by her husband, with the usual happy ending. The cast includes Harry and the patrons of the Alexandra are advised to secure their seats early.

"INTOLERANCE" TO CONTINUE.

The greatest film picture yet produced, "Intolerance," will continue at the Grand Opera House all next week. It is the latest work of D. W. Griffith, who has gathered together epics from Babel, the life of Christ, Charles IX of France, and from today, molding them together in a marvelous production. He calls the picture "Intolerance." There are four plots in the photodrama. All are magnificent in detail. The most wonderful scores of music and battle scenes during the different periods entrance and thrill the spectators.

"THE GIRL WHO SMILES"

To fill the world with cheerfulness and smiles was the desire of the authors of the above named comedy when they wrote their lyrics and music. That they succeeded is beyond question, for when produced in New York it took that village by storm; when it played Toronto, it repeated its N. Y. success. The Girl Who Smiles opens a week's engagement at the Alexandra Monday, February 5th.

LOEW'S.

Ad. Hoyt's Minstrels, greatest act of its kind in vaudeville, presenting several of the stars who worked with Primrose and Dockwray, will be the feature attraction this coming week at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre. An added attraction will be Mr. and Mrs. Norman Phillips in a comedy sketch, "Sweetie to the Sweet," by Marie and Frances Norstrom; Johnson, Howard and Lisette, acrobatic comedy, dancing, singing and nonsense in general. Others on this bill will be Harry and Augusta Turpin, in musical comedy "The Merry Widow"; and the "Tennis Court," Wilson and Wilson in Southern Types, and Clarke and La Vere in "The Girl and the Cop," a five-act, photoplay, "The Mischief Maker," features June Caprice.

SHEA'S.

Shea's Theatre has assembled an all-star bill for next week headed by Elizabeth Brice and Charles King in "The Musical Comedy in a Vaudeville Way." Miss Alberta Rasche has a unique terpsichorean novelty, which is called "A Ballet Divertissement." Edna Munsey is the latest musical comedy star to bid for vaudeville's favor. Miss Munsey will be remembered as the prima donna of the "Only Girl" in "Who Owns the Flat." "The Musical Comedy" is a highly amusing

Westminster Presbyterian Church, Bloor street, was the scene of a wedding on Friday night, Feb. 2, when the marriage was solemnized of Muriel Isabel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McEachern, to Captain Ellsworth Flavell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flavell, Holmwood, Queen's Park. The service was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Neil, who carried off a shower of sweethearts and the organist played soft music throughout the service, and during the signing of the register. Mrs. Wallace Barrett sang "God Made Three Mice." The lovely little bride, who was brought in by her father, wore an exquisite gown of silver lace over shell pink satin, with panels embroidered in pink silk. The bride's shoulders were lined with pink ribbon, and the tulle veil was held in a cap with aprays of orange blossom. The bride carried a bouquet of heart roses and lilies, and wore the groom's gift of a pendant watch of pale blue enamel and diamonds with chain of pearls. The bride's bridesmaids were Miss Frances Pigott (Hamilton), who wore orchid satin and net with silver lace, and a large hat of tulle and pearls. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of mixed flowers with a lace veil, and wore the gift of the groom, a platinum and amethyst pin. Mrs. E. G. Fraser was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Wallace Barrett, Captain Frank McEachern, Mr. Norman MacEachern and Mr. George MacEachern. The groom gave the best man a wrist watch, and to the ushers silver match boxes.

The ceremony Mrs. McEachern held a reception at her home in Elm avenue, the hostess wearing a white satin gown with cloth of gold veiled with black tulle lace embroidered with jet and crystals, and a black hat with a garland of French flowers. She

THREE SOLDIERS

DIE IN HOSPITAL

Wounds of Three Toronto Heroes Have Proved Fatal.

FOUR ARE WOUNDED

Other Local Men Lying Ill in French Institutions.

According to the latest casualty lists three Toronto soldiers have died of wounds or illness, two others are dangerously ill, and three others are reported as wounded.

Pte. Wilfred Clark Walls, son of Mrs. Emily Walls, 740 Gladstone avenue, died of broncho-pneumonia, on Jan. 15, at 18 casualty clearing station. He had just passed his 21st birthday, and was a native of Toronto. Before enlisting with the 54th Battalion he had been in the employ of the Robert Simpson Co. He was a member of Gerrard Street Methodist Church.

Corp. H. Budd, reported dangerously ill two weeks ago, is now reported to have died in hospital. Corp. Budd was with the 54th Battalion when that unit left Exhibition Camp in June. He was later transferred to another unit. His relatives live in England.

Pte. G. D. Lapp, who has died of wounds, was a member of the 50th Battalion, and enlisted here early in the war. His next of kin is Mrs. G. Lapp, Uxbridge, Ont.

Served Long Time.

Pte. Frederick H. reported wounded and enlisted in Toronto with the 19th Battalion and has been on service since the early stages of the war. Relatives live in London, England.
