

scribers to this Institution took place last evening at eight o'clock, in the Board Room of the Home, Sullivan Street. The room was well filled by ladies and gentlemen who take an interest in the welfare of the Institution.

Among the gentlemen present, we noticed the Rev. Dr. Lett, Rev. J. G. Armstrong, Rev. T. S. Kennedy, Hon. and Rev. Mr. Hodge, George Gurnett, Esq., T. P. Robarts, Esq.

The Chair was occupied by Mrs. Gurnett.

The meeting was opened by prayer, by the Rev. Dr. Lett.

The Report of the Directors for the past year was then read. We shall publish the Report to-morrow. The occasion was rendered the more interesting by the presentation of a handsome timepiece to Dr. Ogden, for his services gratuitously rendered as Medical Adviser to the Institution.

Mrs. Gurnett, in a few graceful remarks, made the presentation.

Mr. Gurnett, in moving the adoption of the Report, said he had no idea that the success of the Institution would have been so great as it had shown itself to be. There must be some enterprising spirits to whom must be given the credit of carrying out the objects of the Society to this successful issue. The conception he attributed to a gentleman not then present; but to its successful adoption they were indebted to the Rev. Dr. Lett, who sacrificed his time and spent his energies towards the success of the Institution. We should feel deeply indebted to that gentleman. Flattery had always been repugnant to his feelings; but it was simply an act of justice to Dr. Lett, to ascribe to him the satisfactory state of things which at present exist. He did not mean to say that Dr. Lett stood alone in obtaining this success; other gentlemen, but not to so great a degree, had exerted themselves towards gaining the desired end. Much as has been done, however, he thought something still remained undone. He referred
