IN THE CHURCHES

Bishop Richardson in a pastoral letter to his 30,000 churchmen refers to the high cost of living as a serious problem.

"Moral and Spiritual Aspects of America's Entry into the War" was the subject of Prof. W. F. Osborne's sermon in Centenary church last evening before a large congregation. Prof. Osborne is connected with the Manitoba University and is one of the foremost of Western educationalists.

Rev. George Scott occupied the pulpit of St. David's church at the morning service yesterday. Mr. Scott preached a well prepared sermon on "I saw a new heaven and a new earth."

D. C. Clark, Sunday school superintendent of the Charlotte street United Baptist church, St. John, was yesterday afternoon made the recipient of a token of appreciation from the Sunday school scholars. Mr. Clark keeps a record of all the birthdays of each pupil of the school and, as his own falls this week, the teachers and scholars took occasion yesterday to remember him.

Met His Death By Feul Play

Fredericton, June 10.—The inquest into the death of Martin Thomas was concluded at Fredericton Junction on Saturday before Coroner John Murphy, of Blissville. The verdict brought in by the jury was that Martin Thomas came to his death by foul play at the hands of persons unknown to the jury, suspicious reading upon Frank Morey and Mary Thomas, wife of the deceased. Several witnesses were recalled Saturday.

The folks that smoked it twenty years ago still choose the Marguerite.

Junction, who conducted a post mortem examination upon the remains, which had been exhumed, was the chief witness. The analysis of the contents of the stomach of the deceased made by M. V. Padlock, of St. John, was put in evidence. No trace of arsenic poisoning had been found in the stomach. This makes impossible the suggestion of the wife that the deceased might have taken Paris green and then set fire to the house.

Further developments are expected in the case this week. P. J. Hughes, of Fredericton, represented the crown.

THE RECENT VISIT OF AMERICAN WRITERS HERE

(Montreal Star.)

Much good work is being done by the Canadian railways in making Canada better known in the United States. A recent instance of happy co-operation in this respect, was the party of American writers who spent a few days in Montreal and then went on a salmon fishing trip in New Brunswick, under the joint auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian Government Railways, the New Brunswick government and the New Brunswick Guides' Association. Outfitting at Fredericton under the expert advice of Harry Allen, the well-known New Brunswick guide, they loaded a fleet of canoes at the head of the Cains River, a tributary of the Miramichi and fished the pools for six days, camping on the banks of the stream each night. They were rewarded with eighteen fine salmon, one of which measured no less than forty-two inches in length, not to mention a very much larger number of trout.

The party included such well known writers as Hugh Fullerton, Jack Leigh, Grantland Rice, Maxmillan Foster, and W. O. McGeehan, also L. O. Armstrong, of the Bureau of Commercial Economics, Washington, who lectures widely on Canada in the United States, and J. M. Gibson and A. O. Seymour, of the Canadian Pacific Railway. A motion picture operator from the Eassey Film Company, of Chicago, took pictures of the more exciting catches and expects to release through the United States one of the most spectacular fishing pictures ever taken.

CANADIANS USE DRUMS OF BURNING OIL IN ATTACK

In the Canadian's raid on the German trenches on Saturday morning a new method of warfare was used by the Canadians for the first time when they preceded the assault with the projection of two hundred drums of burning oil into part of the enemy front.
