WRESTLING Dan McDonald Won (Halifax Recorder). A wrestling match at the Bux theatre last Saturday night between Dan McDonald and Jim Smart, was won by the former, who secured one fall after about a half hour's wrestling. While Smart had the advantage in weight, McDonald's clever tactics kept his shoulder from being placed on the mat. The bout was very fast, and the spectators were kept excited. Smart showed his great strength jiffing McDonald bodily in the air on occasions. After the fall was secured a rest of ten minutes was given, when they went at it again, and wrestled until midnight, when the match was stopped, and the decision awarded to McDonald. Those present were well pleased.

O'Keefe and Webster, two lightweights, wrestled for fifteen minutes in the preliminaries. No decision was given.

BASEBALL Athletics Win From Cubs Jacksonville, Fla., March 20.—The Philadelphia Athletics battled Vaughan and Lavender hard here yesterday and defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 3, Schrag.

That Racking Persistent Cough Can Be Quickly Cured By DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

All obstinate coughs and colds yield quickly to the general action of "Dr. Wood's" for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with which is combined Wild Cherry Bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks. This makes it, without any chance of denial, the best cough medicine on the market to-day.

When you ask for "Dr. Wood's" see that it is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark, and that the name, The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., appears on the wrapper. Price, 25c and 50c.

Mrs. H. C. Kingston, Moose Jaw, Sask., writes: "I wish to recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup as being the best cough medicine on the market. A few months ago I took a severe cold which left me with a racking cough. After trying several cough remedies, with no result, I decided to get a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after taking the first two doses it began to effect a cure, and after continuing its use for a short time, I was entirely cured. I cannot say too much in its praise."

Injured Knee Hot Springs, Ark., March 21.—Walter Rehg, a Red Sox substitute outfielder, is the first of Manager Carrigan's outfit to go on the injured list for 1915. Rehg was yesterday pronounced to have water on the right knee. The accident happened two years ago while Rehg was playing third base for a team in Kansas. A base runner slid head first into the present Red Sox player's knee, but otherwise than causing a swelling which was at the time painful, caused no trouble.

O'Toole Passes Out Four years ago Marty O'Toole, then pitching for the St. Paul American Association Club, made such a brilliant record that the Giants, Cubs, White Sox and Pirates vied with one another in bidding for his release. Conkey went as high as $30,000 but Barney Dreyfus, who had the inside track, secured O'Toole for $22,000 and several Pittsburgh players. With the Pirates O'Toole was a big disappointment and last fall he was sold to the Giants for the waiver price on condition that he made a success with McGraw. O'Toole, however, continued to be a failure so that the Giants at the end of the season, sent him back to Pittsburgh. The Pirates then released him unconditionally, as all of the major league clubs were clamoring for O'Toole remained out of a job until the Columbus American Association Club signed him on trial a few days ago.

A Triple Play Hero Neal Ball, former major leaguer, has come to terms with Manager Dunn of Montreal and signed his contract for the 1915 season. Ball is a second baseman, and is one of the few men in baseball who ever made an unassisted triple play. He did this while a member of the Cleveland Naps in 1909. It was a game with the Boston Red Sox. Wagner was on second and Stahl on first. Ball caught a line drive from McConnell's bat, touched second and touched Stahl out. In the same inning Ball made a home run.

Could Pitch With Either Hand Baseball history tells of Owen Keenan, who pitched for Youngstown, Ohio, in 1885. Keenan could pitch equally well with either arm. On July 4 of that season this wonder pitched two games of ball against New Castle and beat that team in both contests. He worked his left arm in the first game and used his right wing in the second contest, with the odds slightly in favor of the right whip.

The famous Larry Corcoran of the Chicago team in the early '80s was one of the great hurlers of the era. Larry lost the use of his wonderful right arm during the season of 1885. This almost broke his heart. On July 4 of that season this wonder pitched two games of ball against New Castle and beat that team in both contests. He worked his left arm in the first game and used his right wing in the second contest, with the odds slightly in favor of the right whip.

Jack Johnson's Jump From Saloon Porter to Ring Champion—Willard is in Cuba Jess Willard reached Havana on March 18. A great crowd was on the pier to welcome him.

From Porter to Champion Less than fifteen years ago Jack Johnson was sweeping out the saloons of McKenna in St. Louis. He was at the bottom of the ladder and the lowly position seemed to suit him.

Fifteen years later we find him complaining because the European war deprived him of a little change—something like $200,000 were the figures he used.

A trifle more than six years ago, December 26, 1908, to be exact, Johnson received $5,000 and the world's title as his reward for beating T. Burns, a 180-pound class champion. That was really the first money of consequence Johnson ever earned. Since that time Johnson has taken in approximately $300,000.

His Career in Dollars Here's the way Johnson's career figures since winning the championship, giving the opponent's names, the reported sums he received for bouts and the number of rounds.

For a man who swept out saloons fifteen years ago and who was hard pressed to find railroad fare to follow Tommy Burns around the world less than seven years ago, that snatches of big business. It means that Johnson has:

PROPHECIES ON WAR ARE COMING TRUE Most Remarkable of Them Agree That Germany Will Fall NUMEROUS PROPHETS: Present Day Events Foretold With Accuracy More Than Forty Years Ago—Some Instances

Over in Europe it would seem that while half the world is fighting the other half is prophesying. It is a queer sort of collaboration, but not so general as the stay-at-home type helping out in the best way they can, and backing up the weary fighters with prophecies of victory if no had thing useful in its way as knitting socks.

Even the governments look at it in that tolerant and hopeful way. You may remember a cablegram from Berlin which stated that the police had taken the ban off clairvoyants and psychics who were cheering up the war-saddened population immensely. I haven't the faintest doubt it is true. I know, I know, the prophets fill the little war-time newspapers. And in London there is even a publication which gives "Telegraphic War News," price two pence.

Many of the most accurate are the predictions which have been dug up out of the half-forgotten caves of prophecy. Many of them have been added to the American newspapers, notably the rather vague one of Tolstol and the more exact—perhaps too exact—prophecy of Mayrink, which has long been known in Germany.

Strange Prophecy One of the most curious was brought to light by the Daily Chronicle of London, a prophecy made by Father Vianney, the famous Cure d'Als. It is to be found in "Voix Prophetiques ou Signes, Apparitions et Previsions Modernes," published in two volumes in Paris by Victor Palmé in 1872—the first edition of 1872 had been written long before. It predicted the invasion of France in 1870 and the success of the Prussians.

Then it foretold the present war and a second Prussian invasion. The prediction goes on to say: "The enemy will go on immediately. They will return again and destroy as they come. Effective resistance will not be made. They will be allowed to advance and after that their communications will be cut and they will suffer great loss. They will be followed and few will reach their goal. All that they have taken away will be restored, and more added. Much more terrible things will happen than have yet been seen, but a great triumph will be witnessed on the Feast Day of Our Lady (September 8)."

Now if you bear in mind that this date marked the turning point of the German campaign in France—the commencement of the German retreat—you will admit it is a fairly accurate prediction. And there is another prophecy thing. In the course of his prophecy Father Vianney predicts that at the outbreak of the war his canonization will have begun, but that there will be time to finish the ceremony before war intervened.

This is precisely what has happened. The proceedings for the canonization of the Blenheuxeur J. B. M. Vianney were begun, and after war was declared, were brought to an abrupt end. Germany Disembered war is not fought near "Paderborn in Westphalia."

All these prophecies—and there are many others—are unanimous, you observe, in predicting the defeat of the German armies and the victory, certain and formidably complete of the allies.

Are there no German prophecies to set over against them? I am sure there must be.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
