SPORT NEWS OF A DAY, HOME AND ABROAD

Schofield, a contract is about to be let for the clearing of the land, the removal of rocks and stumps, and some drainage, and this work will go forward actively this spring. The St. John Golf Club has a lease of its present grounds for two years from May 1 next.

HOCKEY
U. N. B. Captain.
The U. N. B. hockey captain for next year will be chosen at a meeting of the students this week. Melanson, of Moncton, who played cover point last winter, is said to be the likely choice.

BOWLING

For the Artie Alleys roll-off this week fifteen qualified. Geo. Walker led with 27; Eddie Corey had 11; Murray McAdams, 10; John Carter and John Seales each have 18. There are eleven above 10 mark.

THE RING
Tommy Burns Tonight.
Calgary, Alb., April 2.—Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion of the world, will meet Arthur Pelky in a six round bout tonight. Pelky secured a draw with Jess Willard last spring, one week before the latter won from Luther McCarty.

BASEBALL
Local Notes.
The following notes are from the Fredericton Gleaser:—
Pat Duggan is finding it difficult to strike his 1912 gait in batting, and in his first two games in the south with the Providence club he failed to get a hit. Infielder Hugh Pinkerton, who was with the Marathons, is on the suspended list and will have to get reinstated by the National Association before he can play with St. John in organized ball.

A recent bulletin issued by the National Association contains information that Joe Callahan, Jack Fryer, T. C. Perley and John J. Cannon, all of the N. B. and Maine League in 1912, have accepted terms with the Pittsburg, Mass. Club in the Eastern Association.
Bob Ganley ought to be actively engaged in his work as manager of the Fredericton Club from April 3, getting his players lined up and looking over material trying out with the club around New England for some sufficiently promising material for the team.
There is no doubt as to Fredericton going to have baseball this season and if the local team gets away to a bad start the fans all know where to place the responsibility for the present procrastination. It is time to "cut the comedy" and start something.

FREDERICTON ANXIOUS.
The Gleaser Says:—
Local baseball fans are looking for an announcement without further delay that Manager Bob Ganley has been formally authorized to go ahead with the signing up of players for the Fredericton Baseball Club for the coming season.
Such an announcement will put the fans in better fettle and would be a wise move on the part of the local management. While Ganley may not have formal authority to sign men it is understood that he has been going ahead for some time getting his men together and the actual signing up of the players will not take very long.
However, the fans will feel easier when the signed contracts of the ball tossers commence coming in and would like to know that Manager Ganley has been authorized to make some kind of a formal move.

HAVE TRIED 54 PLAYERS.
During the training season at the two Boston camps, fifty-four players have got into the work-ups of the two teams. Stahl has had twenty-nine men to look over and Stallings has had twenty-five players, many of whom are new.
The records for the trip are not complete, but a glance at the batting figures shows that the men who did the hitting last year are coming along with every promise to repeat.
In the Boston Americans' list there are nine men who have hit over the coveted 300 mark. Martins, making a hit the only time he came to bat, leads the list with 1000. Walsh made two hits in three times at bat for 667. Neither of these men, however, has been retained.
Henriksen, who made so much trouble as a pinch hitter in the world's series, made four hits in seven times up. The other men over 300 so far are Hall, Yerkes, Speaker, Lewis, Gardner and Nunamaker. Hooper is way down to 198, while Stahl did not make a hit in four times at bat. At the Nationals' camp Perdue, Bariden, Marzaville, Titus and Kirke have kept in the honor class. Devlin has been hitting slightly above 200, while Bill Sweeney is down to 208—very low figures for the team's heaviest batsmen.

BILLY SUNDAY THINKS ANSON BEST BATTER

Billy Sunday, evangelist, who was the fastest base runner in the game when he played right field for the Chicago twenty-five years ago, was asked the other day whether the diamond stars of the present appeared to him to be more proficient than the great players of the past. Sunday replied:—
"There never will be another batsman like Adrian C. Anson. He stood erect at the plate and with keen eyes he judged the good ones so clearly that when he swung his bat mightily the ball either whistled past the infielders like a shot or sailed over the heads of the outfielders. Year in and year out Captain Anson was the greatest hitter in the league. All pitchers looked alike and all of them feared him."
"Speaking of pitchers, let me say that John Clarkson topped them all. He was the only pitcher I ever saw who could throw overhead and make the ball go down and then up. He used to wear his finger nail down to the quick in pitching that ball and often his fingers were covered with blood."
"Some of you boys talk about the 'squeeze play' and other tactics that seem new to modern fans. Bah! We used to make these same plays twenty-five years ago, but we didn't have any fancy names for them. Four times that I can recall I scored from second base on an infield hit, which, as you know, must have been going some."
"We didn't wear any gloves in those days. You fellows of course say the ball must have been softer, than it is now. But let me assure you that the leather was as hard as a rock in my time and that the pitchers used to shoot 'em over the plate just as swiftly as at the present day."
"Well, I remember how Clarkson, Jim McCormick, Grasshopper Jim Whitney, Amos Rusie, Charley Radbourne and Charley Hall Crane could send the ball blazing over the plate! In those days, you know, fouls did not count as strikes and Mike scored his safety on a base on balls. In that way he tired out the best pitchers. He could have fouled 'em off all day if necessary."
"I've seen Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Milan and other great baserunners of the present day, but they are no better than Bill Lange, Harry Stovey, Mike Kelly, Jimmy Fogarty, Johnny Ward and others I could name; Eddie Collins and Evers are fine second basemen, but Fred Pfeiffer, John Burdock, Fred Dunlap and Louis Bierbauer were just as good, if not better."
"Buck Spring, Silver Flint, Charley Bennett, Doc Bushong, and Jack Boyle were the great catchers in my day. I've never seen a better one since. Baseball is a business and a sport has made wonderful progress, but I wish the fans who are singing the praises of present day stars could have seen some of the really great players of days gone by."

can teams played the first game of the spring series yesterday. The latter team won 8 to 0.
Frank Gotch retained the championship last night at Kansas City by defeating Russian, George Lurich, in two straight falls.
The Y. M. C. A. basketball team defeated the St. Andrews Shamrocks last night in their gymnasium, 34 to 26. The game was fast and clean. It was witnessed by about 300 spectators. Willet and Thorne, for the local team, did good work, as did Williamson, Cummings and McQuoid for the visitors.

A young married couple from the country who were accustomed to very simple living went to a high-class hotel to dine. "We want dinner," said the husband—"dinner for two." "Certainly; which will you have—table d'hote or a la carte?" The husband pondered a moment. "What do you think, wife?" he said calmly. "Oh, hang the expense! Walter, bring us some of each!"
