EMMERSON SILENT. Hon. H. R. Emmerson, the minister of railways, was seen at the Royal hotel last night and asked if he had anything to tell this paper about the election. Mr. Emmerson replied in about the following words: "I have nothing to say. It was a matter for the people of St. John to decide and I am bound to accept the result without comment."

Mr. Emmerson left last night for compared with 1,111 for Bernier in 1900. From Montmagny the only news so far received is that the liberal candidate has been elected by a majority of about three hundred. It may be more or less.

In East Bruce, the result is especially significant as the late member, Mr. Gargill, was a very strong candidate, and only carried the constituency by 43 in 1900. The majority for Donnelly, the conservative, is about two hun-

A small but anxious and expectant crowd was gathered in Berryman's Hall at five o'clock and rapidly increased. A forecast of defeat seemed to dampen everyone's spirits, and the tinkle of the telephone made quite a sensation, but this was only a false alarm. Soon, however, the liberal spirits rose with a jump, a majority in Wellington ward being the stimulus. This was, however, short-lived, as a conservative majority of 117 from Lorne ward acted as a wet blanket to all. The liberals left no stone unturned to bring out the vote, utilizing every influence at their disposal. The vote cast was: Gervais, liberal, 3,211;

In Hochelaga, the liberal victory is entirely due to the fact that the Grand Trunk railway influence turned the heretofore favorable vote of Point St. Charles into a majority of 301 for the Charles into a majority of 301 for the liberal candidate. In every other division the conservative candidate showed gains, though Westmount, the English speaking portion, might have done better had the people turned out to vote more freely than they did. As it is the liberal majority was more than out in half. The vote was:

ly reduced. But it was in the country parishes that the greatest reduction in the vote was made. Blanchet's (liberal) majority is given as 195, as compared with 1,111 for Bernier in 1900.
