THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Parliament Will Meet in November.

The date of the opening of the parliamentary session has not yet been considered in the cabinet council, but there is little disposition in the best informed circles to place any credence in the report that the House will not meet till January. The estimates are now being prepared by the various departments, and these can all be dealt with by council in the course of a month.

While there are a variety of important matters to be dealt with this session, the legislation to be introduced will not involve such lengthy consideration as did the Insurance and Anti-Gambling bills of last session, when interests from the Atlantic to the Pacific were heard. The bill which will involve the most consideration will be the act to amend the Bankers' Act.

Another reason why the House should meet in November is that it must rise early in the summer in order that the premier may attend the coronation of King George. The decoration of the Senate chamber may cause a short delay, but the House is almost certain to meet not later than November 17.

Mind Wandered Away.

Washington, The Post Office Department reports the following instance of absent mindedness. A Georgetown woman left her home to shut a letter and buy a loaf of bread. After getting a stamp in a drug store, she bought the bread. On her way home she began to think of a new gown or something equally as absorbing, and opened one of the large mail boxes intended for packages, and dropped her bread in it. Then she continued on her way with the stamped letter still in her hand.

At dinner time she went to the bread box and discovered her mistake. It was too late to get another loaf and she hurried to the Georgetown post office, where she told the post master what had happened, and demanded the return of her loaf of bread.

Beautiful Girl has a sea Burial

New Orleans, La., Sept. 29.—Carrying out a promise to their daughter who died last week, Professor Miller, dean of the academic faculty at Tulane University, and his wife yesterday took the body of their beautiful daughter, Margorie, and consigned it to a grave in the Gulf of Mexico. The young girl always loved the sea, and said that when she died she wished to be buried in the sea.

Two weeks ago while visiting friends at Tallulah Falls, Ga., she was drowned. The body was recovered and brought here. Professor Miller was in Europe. Mrs. Miller, desiring to carry out the wishes of her daughter, hesitated to do so on her own responsibility, and awaited the return of Professor Miller. Exchange.

A surgeon in a Western town engaged to perform an operation of a minor character upon a somewhat unsophisticated patient, asked him if he were willing to have only a local anesthetic. "Sure," he replied, "I believe in patronizing home industry whenever you can." And he meant it.—Lippincott.
