

the cost of labor. But the cost to the consumer was not legitimate; parliament and the government should seek to reduce the gap between the price paid to the producer and the price charged to the consumer. The tariff was not wholly responsible, but the restrictions of the tariff were the method used by the combiners to effect their purpose. The government could not afford to be indifferent to the effect of the tariff, but there were others able to take the reins of office. He would not pretend to be a prophet of the future, but there were things more serious than office, the welfare of the country.

The leader of the opposition in conclusion moved the following amendment: "We regret to have to represent to your royal highness that in the gracious speech with which you have met parliament, while it admitted that the business of the country is in a depressed condition, yet there is no indication of any intention on the part of your advisers to take any steps toward relieving such a situation."

Premier Borden.

After expressing himself in complimentary terms upon the speeches of mover and seconder of the address, Right Hon. Mr. Borden made a grateful acknowledgment of the royal highnesses, making special mention of the unfortunate illness of the Duchess of Connaught.

Coming to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech, the premier dealt first with his complaint that there had been delay in the opening of parliament. The leader of the opposition, he said, had been elected to know why parliament had not opened in November should look around and see the members behind him. They all welcomed the change. The opening in November, followed by the long Christmas vacation had proved unjust to those who came from a distance and the business in reality would expedite business.

Replying to the reference to Mr. Meighen, Mr. Borden said that it was perfectly true that there were many men on the Conservative side who were competent to fill the post, whereas Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for five of his ministries, had had to go outside parliament.

Referring to the attack on Mr. Foster for his absence, Mr. Borden said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, at all events, should be well content to have the minister of trade and commerce away. However, he would observe that Mr. Foster was on the ocean and should be in his seat about Monday.

Mr. Borden next dealt with the question of the highways bill. That bill which the senate had twice killed, had been perfectly well considered and conserved the interests of every province in Canada. The majority of the provinces would have been perfectly willing to support it in the form in which the government had presented it. He himself had given his pledge that in the distribution of the allocation of money to the provinces should be in accordance with their population, and the estimates had borne this out. When the measure was first introduced the Liberals had given it a half-hearted and a lukewarm support, but they had ended by voting squarely against it. The senate then, on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's responsibility, had inserted amendments which it knew would be rejected by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

"I shall such a majority of the senate, in the course of the session, as to accord with the wishes of the majority of this house it is useless for me to reintroduce this bill in the form in which the government proposes it."

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

He noted that the senate had now thrown out four motions passed by the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

OFFICIALS FIRED IN WESTONLAND

Scott Act Inspector One of Them Motion to Dismiss the County Treasurer Also Carried

James Freil to Replace R. W. Hewson as County Attorney—Liberals in the Saddle—Restore Places to Old Officers—Increased Vote to Moncton Hospital.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Dorchester, N. B., Jan. 22.—At a late hour last evening the resolution in regard to the grant to the Moncton hospital was passed that the sum of $25,000 be voted to the hospital towards its maintenance, and that the sum of $500 of the $2,000 be assigned to this current year.

At this morning's session Councillor LeBlanc, of Shediac, moved a resolution expressing disapproval of the act of March, 1913, passed by the New Brunswick legislature in regard to the issuance of the counties being paid for by the different municipalities.

Councillor McDonald, of Shediac, moved an amendment to the resolution that the council express their disapproval of the legislation also passed in 1898 which relates to the different municipalities paying for only the harmless income and the act mentioned above which deals with all the income and that the council request that legislation which would be just and right be passed. The amendment was carried.

The report of Scott Act Inspector A. N. Charters, of Moncton, was presented by the Scott Act committee and accepted. The report showed information, 80; convictions, 18; dismissals, 6; dropped, 1.

The report showed $710 collected through payment of fines, but the deficit amounted to about $1,000 for the year.

The County Auditor Thomas Murray, of Sackville, submitted his report which reported that the finances of the county were in a healthy condition and showed a balance in the credit of the county of $1,192.57 with bills due to the county to the amount of $500.

Councillor Hickman gave notice of the following resolutions: That Patrick Herbert, Esq., of Dorchester, be appointed county treasurer of the municipality of Westmorland in place of Hon. A. D. Bichard.

Dismisses Scott Act Inspector. At the evening session it was moved by Councillor Pascevit of Sackville, seconded by Councillor Hickman, that the present Scott Act Inspector, A. N. Charters, be dismissed from office, and referred to Mr. Charters being a man of good qualities and thought it was unnecessary to do so.

The bill passed through the commonsense without one dissenting voice, even the leader of the opposition voting for it. But the Liberal majority of the commonsense saw fit to amend the bill so as to make it useless for the purpose for which it was intended, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had then backed up the senate.

In regard to the naval bill, Mr. Borden said that the commonsense, believing that immediate and effective aid was necessary, had introduced the bill last session in accordance with the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

The commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense. He said that the commonsense of the commonsense of the commonsense.

DISMISS SCOTT ACT INSPECTOR

Mr. Colpitts, of Carleton Co., Replaced by John F. McLean

Big Deficit for the Year in Enforcing the Law May Be One Reason—Council Favors Increased Pay to Grand and Petit Jurymen.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Woodstock, N. B., Jan. 22.—The County Council adjourned tonight, after three days session. The finance committee recommended an assessment of $11,000. Resolutions were passed asking the provincial government to increase the pay of jury men, both grand and petit.

A communication from the provincial hospital was read notifying the council that the municipality of Carleton had eighteen patients for whom the county would have to pay $1 per week, according to the act passed March 1913.

The Scott Act Inspector's report was the subject of a long discussion. The total cost of administration was $1,882.07, with receipts from fines of $933.10 showing a deficit of $948.97.

A resolution was passed that all monies collected from Scott Act fines should be paid to the secretary-treasurer of the county, and not left in the hands of the inspectors and police magistrates, as has been the custom.

A vote on the dismissal of Inspector Colpitts was defeated, and afterwards reconsidered when it carried by the necessary two-thirds vote of the council.

John F. McLean, of Richmond, was appointed inspector at a salary of $400 a year. Inspector Colpitts has held the office for twenty-one years and his dismissal, brought about by a combination of circumstances, was a great surprise.

Attempts have been made before for dismissal of this official and, always failed, and only carried on this occasion by the narrowest majority.

Warden Phillips gave a dinner at the Victoria Hotel yesterday to the members of the council and officials.

KRAFCHENKO'S GUARD REMANDED FOR SENTENCE

Reid Pleads Guilty—Bandit's Lawyer Denies His Guilt and Asks for a Trial by Magistrate.

Winnipeg, Jan. 22.—P. J. Reid, former constable and one of Jack Krafchenko's guards pleaded guilty before Magistrate Sir Hugh MacDonald today on a charge of assisting Krafchenko to escape, while the latter was awaiting trial on a murder charge.

Reid, who told the whole story of his connection with the affair before the royal commission yesterday was remanded one week for sentence.

Percy E. Haged, Krafchenko's counsel, and John Westlake, were charged with complicity in the jail delivery. They pleaded not guilty and asked for trial by the magistrate, which is now in progress.

The Natural Month For Sales

January is known in merchandising as the natural month for "sales."

It is the month of business house-cleaning and planning for the new season. Most stores "take stock" and balance their books in January. They are naturally anxious to clean out small lots and turn their wares into cash.

So they make prices accordingly. Those who like to profit by sales need no urging to read the newspaper advertising these days. They scan every line and they shop knowingly.

It is interesting to watch the way the stores go after business with each turn of the season. Our Canadian merchants are setting an example of progress to all the world.

They know how to make advertising pay you and pay them.

MORE PROTECTION AND MORE EXPENDITURES

Tory M. P.'s Panacea for Canada's Ills

Donald Nicholson of P. E. I. Not Worried Over High Cost of Living—Mr. Hughes Scores the Extravagance of Borden Government in Debate On the Address.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—"What's the use of proclaiming in favor of protection if we don't stand for it in our own countries for industries and good protection all around. We don't want any reduction in the tariff. Let us dash away and spend the money."

This frankly and outspokenly Donald Nicholson, of Prince Edward Island, proclaimed the policy of the Borden government to parliament tonight. The plain-spoken Conservative was greeted by applause from the government benches.

Mr. Nicholson's declaration was the second indication for the day as to the government's position. It was preceded by Dr. Schaefer's practical renunciation of the claims of the Manitoba legislature for free wheat. Let us have no provincialism, exclaimed the Manitoba Conservative. But rumor hath it that his eyes were upon the senate rather than upon his province.

Messrs. Hughes, Kings (P. E. I.), and Turgeon, Gloucester, the two Liberal speakers of today, further emphasized the government's position. They were strident and earnest economic conditions by removing tariff restrictions on foodstuffs and lessening the burden of taxation on the farmer.

Mr. Hughes scored the government's reckless extravagance on military and naval matters. He pointed out that the government had spent $10,000,000 on military and naval matters, while the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

Mr. Hughes scored the government's reckless extravagance on military and naval matters. He pointed out that the government had spent $10,000,000 on military and naval matters, while the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

BORDEN GOVERNMENT PLANS TO ECONOMIZE?

Main Estimates Likely to Be $20,000,000 Less Than Last Year—No Cut in Militia Expenditures—Supplementaries Expected to Be Large—More Light on Pelletier's Mail Lock Contract.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The main estimates for the coming fiscal year, which will be tabled in the house at the conclusion of the debate in reply to the speech from the throne, will, it is understood, show considerable reductions from the main estimates tabled last year.

The latter totalled $178,022,282, of which $58,801,846 was on capital account. The main estimates this year will be about $20,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

The main estimates of the year will be about $200,000,000 short of this amount, there being a reduction of about $10,000,000 each on consolidated fund and capital accounts. It may be noted, however, that there is no reduction in contemplated expenditures for the militia department.

The main estimates will, of course, be followed later in the session by supplementary estimates which last year ran up to nearly $25,000,000. It is expected that the supplementary estimates this session will be fully as large if not greater, and the total for the year will probably not fall far short of the $200,000,000 mark.

LAKES ROUTE AHEAD OF PANAMA CANAL

WESTMINSTER ABBEY SERVICE FOR STRATHCONA

Family Refuses Offer of Interment There, But Accepts Offer to Hold Funeral Rites.

(Special Cable to The Telegraph.)

London, Jan. 23.—The simple tastes of Lord Strathcona throughout his life, and his known wishes regarding his last resting place, will be respected now that he has passed away. The offer of the Dean of Westminster and his colleagues to afford interment in the famous abbey, has been gratefully declined by the Baroness Strathcona, who states that her father clearly expressed a wish to be buried beside his wife in Highgate cemetery.

Dr. Howard, husband of the Baroness Strathcona, and son-in-law of the late high commissioner, yesterday had a conference with the colonial office, after which the Secretary of State, H. C. Fox, on behalf of the king, suggested to the family that the funeral service should be held in Westminster Abbey as a mark of public respect, and the solemn interment for the deceased in every part of the dominion.

The original intention was to hold the service at St. Columba's church of Scotland, but the family wished to show their appreciation of the Westminster proposals, and accordingly accepted the service in the Abbey, which has been fixed for 11.30 a.m. on Monday to be followed by interment in Highgate cemetery.

Messages of sympathy were received during the day from the Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, Mayor of Calgary, Canadian-Japanese Association of Vancouver, and Hon. Clifford Sifton.

The original intention was to hold the service at St. Columba's church of Scotland, but the family wished to show their appreciation of the Westminster proposals, and accordingly accepted the service in the Abbey, which has been fixed for 11.30 a.m. on Monday to be followed by interment in Highgate cemetery.

Messages of sympathy were received during the day from the Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, Mayor of Calgary, Canadian-Japanese Association of Vancouver, and Hon. Clifford Sifton.

NEW BRUNSWICK GOVERNMENT REORGANIZED

George J. Clarke, Attorney-General—James A. Murray, Minister of Agriculture—Dr. Landry Now Provincial Secretary.

Fredrickton, Jan. 22.—Premier Fleming and his reconstructed provincial government were sworn in this afternoon. Lieutenant-Governor Wood arrived today from Ottawa, and after his usual arrival he and the premier were engaged in a conference.

The members of the new cabinet were sworn in before his honor soon after the arrival of the lieutenant-governor. Premier and minister of lands—Hon. J. K. Fleming, Carleton county. Attorney-general—Hon. George J. Clarke, Chatham county. Provincial secretary-treasurer—Hon. Dr. D. V. Landry, Kent county. Minister of public works—Hon. James Murray, Carleton county. Minister of agriculture—Hon. James A. Murray, Kings county. President of executive council—Hon. John E. Wilson, St. John.

Discussing the probable cost of improving the waterway from Lake Ontario to Montreal, Senator Townsend said he had no means of estimating the cost, but declared he did not believe it would cost $180,000,000. "Whatever the cost is, it can be recouped in power sales," he added, adding that improved waterway would mean greater potential energy, and the water power developed as a consequence if sold could bring a revenue of several million dollars a year.

LLOYD GEORGE AND CHURCHILL LEAVE MEETING ARM IN ARM

No Sign of Friction Between Two Cabinet Ministers as Reported.