GERMAN TROOPS AND POLICE SURROUND COMMUNISTS, TAKE 1,000 PRISONERS AT LEUNA

Insurgents At Nitrogen Plant Offer Stubborn Resistance — MANY PRISONERS Fifteen Rioters Killed, Forty Wounded in Clash With the Security Police at Essen—Attempt to Bring On General TAKEN BY GREEKS Strike in Manufacturing Centre Fails.

Berlin, March 29.—An important gain was made today by the Government forces engaged in dealing with the Communist disorders in Central Germany when Government troops and security Important City of Eski-Shehr olice surrounded the nitrogen plant at Leuna, which has been a Communist stronghold for the past five days, and forced the insurgents to surrender.

The insurgents, against whom the attack was opened at an early hour this morning, at first offered stubborn resistance, but their escape was cut off on all sides, and they were obliged to March to Angora Is Believed

The troops took 1,000 prisoners and seized large quantities of riffes, machine guns and ammunition.

Essen, Germany, March 29.—Fifteen rioters were killed and 40 others wounded in a clash with security police here. The attempt to bring on a general strike in this region has so far failed. which has been put into force by the German authorities in parts of Central Germany affected by the communist disorders.

With the exception of the minor outbreaks in the United States bridgehead region Monday, which was promptly and effectively dealt with by the United States military police, the disorders reported in the foregoing are the first to be recorded in the Rhine area since the outbreak of the communist rising in Prussian Saxony.

Berlin dispatches filed late Monday night indicated some anxiety in governmental circles there over the development of possible distarbances in the extremitate to be up the plants in a general strike bang forecast. of shattering all the old traditions about the climate.

Once upon a time he was as reliable as the newspapers. Now he can no more be depended on than Germany's promises of reparation. He is quite likely to deluge the country with snow-dakes on July 1, and to ruin snow-shoeing and skating in January with soft spring showers.

Easter Sunday, which should have been bright and gay, to form a fitting background for all the new apparel with which both male and female London was prepared to deck itself, was cold and rainy. Today, when temperatures should have been climbing toward their summer altitude, the Weatherman threw in the reverse greats and backed up to 10 degrees above zero. Mathematicians point out that this is just 13 degrees below zero, and is no temperature for the second week of spring. Besides, 13 is unlucky. It was terribly unlucky for a lot of people who packed all their winter attire away with the moth balls.

Warm sunshine gave promise of better things to come, and, considering the lamb-like entrance of March, there may not be much protest if it lives up to form and goes out like a lion.

Later two more bodies were taken from the ruins, bringing the known death list to five. Parts of another body also were recovered, but the corpses were so had mangled that the coroner's assistants were uncertain whether this latter discovery actually increased the death list.

The police were informed that the warehouse contained a wholesale grocery stock, including considerable starch and flour.

Emotions Can Actually Break

"The ordinary, everyday emotions of life produce more wear and tear on the heart than work." he added. "The heart is protected from over-strain in a variety of ways. Fainting, with the subsequent rest of the heart, is one of these."

"All I could see was a flash of flance and then I heard a roar. I was knocked off my feet, and when I got up my heard and face were bleeding."
