stringy phlegm, often bloody in streaks or spots. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam is a certain cure.

CROUP.

This is one of the most dangerous diseases to children under nine years of age. The mother, generally in the night-time, is awakened by the prolonged choking cough of her darling child, with signs of suffocation, and often before morning the gentle spirit has fled. But with Dr. WILSON'S CHERRY BALSAM at hand, the cure is almost certain. The cause of this terrible disease, usually, is exposure to a damp atmosphere in badly ventilated rooms, want of sufficient clothing, heats, colds, &c. When the attack is first noticed the child should be placed in a hot salt bath, in a warm room, for ten minutes, then wiped dry and placed in bed, covered with flannel blankets, and then given an emetic consisting of an even teaspoonful of powdered alum, and the same quantity of mustard, to produce vomiting. Dr. WIL-SON'S PULMONARY CHERRY BALSAM should then be administered to allay irritation, and prevent and clear the throat of any false membrane that may have been formed. The temperature of the room, also, should be watched, and every pains taken to keep it warm, and prevent additional colds.

WARNINGS.

No cold should be permitted to make any headway. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam should be taken on its first appearance. Neglect may lead to years of suffering and a lingering death.

In purchasing this wonderful medicine, be sure that you obtain the genuine article. Its very high reputation has led to its being counterfeited in various parts of the country. See that each bottle has Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam blown on the glass, and only purchase from reliable dealers.

SNATCHED FROM THE GRAVE.

Douglas, N.B., June 8, 1878.

SIR,—This spring I took a severe cold. It was while following my usual business of surveying lumber. It continued to grow alarmingly worse for four weeks, and was accompanied by soreness and weakness of the lungs. I was fast becoming unable to attend to my business, and took every means to restore my lost health. I consulted doctors and took their medicine without receiving any help, and tried other remedies without better result. I had a terrible cough, raised a good deal, my appetite failed, and I was fast descending to the grave. At this stage a friend recommended Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, and after using a bottle and a half I became, and have continued, perfectly well. I believe that through the blessing of God this Balsam saved me from a settled attack of consumption.

WHITMAN ESTEY.

A WONDERFUL CASE. Musquodoboir, N.S., March 24, 1879.

SIR,-Last spring my three year old daughter caught a severe cold. could get no rest at night from coughing. was in a high fever all the time, fell away in flesh, and grew so weak that she could not walk across the house without staggering and had every appearance of being in consumption. We had given her up to die, when hearing that a child similarly afflicted had been cured by Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, I went to Shubenacadie, fifteen miles away, and got some. Her cough was easier after the first dose, and after using it for a short time she became entirely cured. This winter I used this same remedy for a severe cold I caught, and when nothing else I tried could help me, it effected a complete cure. Yours truly, JOHN ANNAND.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY. June 8th, 1879.

SIR,—I was seized with great severity by a paroxysm of asthma, a disease with which I had been afflicted for many years past. It was attended with a hoarseness and soreness of the throat and lungs, together with a laborious cough and complete prostration of strength. I was worn out with my struggles against suffocation, when a bottle of WIESON'S PULMONARY CHERRY BALSAM was sent to my house by a friend. At first I thought it nothing but quackery, but it being recommended by my doctor I took it, and in a few days it completely cured me, nor have I ever had any return of the disease since.

CHARLES SEDGER.

Mr. Sedger does not give his address, but being such a remarkable case we give it a place before many others.

INFLUENZA & ASTHMA BANISHED.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 14th, 1879.

SIR,—Influenza, bad cough and asthma, united afflicted me, and consumption appeared inevitable, when one bottle of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam restored me to perfect health. Every previous means of cure that I resorted to had done me no good. Thos. M. Stover.
